Postal Measure Goes Begging

No One Willing to Present Brown's Half-Cent Increase Plea

Proposal Aimed at Heavy Deficit Considered Dead Already

BY LAURENCE M. BENEDICT
"Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2. (Exclusive)—Postmaster-General Brown's recommendation that the basic postage rate on first-class mail be increased to 2½ cents as one means of reducing the deficit of his department was received so coldly at the Capitol today that it appeared doubtful if in all the House there would be found either a Republican or Democrat willing to introduce a bill to put the proposal into effect.

At least no member of Mr. Brown's own party in the House Postoffice Committee will sponsor such a measure. This was stated by Representative Sanders of New York, the chairman, and by the two ranking Republican members of the committee, Representatives Kendall and Kelly of Pennsylvania.

WILL GO BEGGING

All three are of the opinion that the legislation for which the Postmaster-General has been actively campaigning for more than a year will absolutely go begging even for perfunctory introduction. And even if some one were found who would introduce it there would not be the remotest chance of favorable action in the absence of support from the committee in charge of postal matters. So the proposed 2½-cent letter stamp may be considered dead at this time.

However, there is a chance, according to Chairman Sanders, that the Postmaster-General's suggestions for increases in other postage rates may be considered in a more favorable light. These additional recommendations contemplate increases in fees in connection with registered mail and the insurance and collection of special delivery mail which would bring in an estimated $8,000,000 above present postal revenues.

WOULD CUT DEFICIT

They were, however, minor recommendations alongside that for 2½-cent letter postage, which would return $65,000,000 additional revenue and cut in half the postoffice deficit which amounted last year to approximately $98,000,000.

Representative Kelly, third ranking member of the House Postoffice Committee, said today:

"Why, if you wanted to put the postal service on a paying basis you could do it in a minute by eliminating all the rural delivery services which do not pay their way. I should be quick to oppose such an economy and, of course, no one would seriously propose it. But it would be no worse than advancing the rates on first-class mail."

Will Rogers Remarks:

BEVERLY HILLS, Dec. 2. [To the Editor of The Times:] See by today's papers that the State of New York don't recognize Reno divorces. What a complicated social upheaval that will cause. Have to give up the present wife and take in the old one again, and the present one will also have to go back where she made her previous stand. The hard part for some of 'em is going to be to remember who they were divorced from last. And it does away with all alimony. There's another economic blow to the country and Reno; they will turn that town into a sheep ranch if this is so.

Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

WAR SCARE IN AFRICA

French Stirred by Report

Moslem Holy Conflict Near, Socialist Leader Tells Gasping Chamber

Army Plans Great Drive on Tribesmen to Protect Empire, He Says

[Copyright, 1930, by the Chicago Tribune.]

PARIS, Dec. 2. (Exclusive)—A high-explosive shell burst in what was already an unusually stormy session in the Chamber of Deputies this afternoon, when Pierre Renaudel, Socialist leader and reporter for the Chamber's army committee, disclosed that a Moslem holy war, potentially much more dangerous than the stubborn Riff rebellion, is on the point of breaking out in North Africa.

While the deputies gasped their surprise and alarm and the government supporters made vain efforts to hush him up, the Socialist revealed that hitherto unknown disorders are threatening France's vast African empire, and indicated that he has information that the army is planning immediate operations against the tribesmen on the greatest scale since the Riff war.

The cause of the present trouble, according to M. Renaudel, was the recent religious conferences in Africa, including the Eucharistic congress at Carthage.

CREDITS OPPOSED

The question of Africa came up during the debates on the military credits after War Minister Maginot pleaded with the Chamber to ratify $24,000,000 in additional credits which was put through by decree as emergency measure during the vacation and which is intended to replenish war materials depleted by the Riffian and Syrian campaigns. M. Renaudel rose while M. Maginot was speaking and announced that the Socialists would not vote for the credits. He then explained why "we are willing to vote credits to protect the French frontiers, but we are afraid that this $24,000,000 worth of materials wi'l go the same way as the stocks which they are intended to replace—in wars against tribesmen."

In the ensuing uproar the Socialist leader went on to amplify his cryptic remark saying that the various Catholic congresses held in North Africa on the occasion of the centenary of the conquest of Algeria had alarmed the nations who fear that a move is on foot forcibly to Christianize the country. On the basis of confidential reports to the army committee, to which as reporter he had access, M. Renaudel said that he knows serious disorders broke out in Morocco this past summer preceding President Doumergue's visit and that the army had been hard put to quell the rebellion.

ARMY MEN AROUSED

At this point several army officers, who are also Deputies, rose and pleaded M. Renaudel not to reveal army secrets in a public session, but he went on inexorably after it was agreed that the bulk of his address would be omitted from the stenographic report of the meeting.

In order to make Morocco safe for President Doumergue, M. Renaudel declared, clean-up expeditions unknown to the press carried on for several weeks, a number of skirmishes being fought. But the work was carried on principally by aerial bombardments of native villages. President Doumergue's visit quieted the tribesmen for a while, he said, but trouble is threatening again and according to information received by the army committee the army is making progress in a huge drive against the unsubdued tribesmen in order to nip a holy war in the bud.

OKLAHOMA LAND GRABBED

OKLAHOMA CITY, Dec. 2. (AP)—Led by an Oklahoma '89er, a group of modern homesteaders made a run for land in the shadows of city skyscrapers here today and staked claims on the abandoned right of way of the Rock Island Railroad lines.

The run, recalling the day in 1889 when land hungry pioneers rushed in to settle Oklahoma territory, was made while steam shovels were removing debris of the old Rock Island Railroad station in the heart of the city and a crew was pulling up the last sections of the trackage.

LOTS STAKED OUT

Lots were staked out and posted, asserting claims to the valuable property under an old Congressional townsite act.

On the backs of tattered envelopes and on pieces of pasteboard boxes, the homesteaders scribbled their notices to the public and jabbed them into the old railroad bed on laths and pieces of ancient ties.

Last Sunday the city celebrated the projected removal of the tracks and wrecking of the ancient depot, which got under way early yesterday.

A new union railroad station is under construction. The old tracks ran through the heart of the city and for many years long trains have blocked traffic while citizens fumed.

M. W. McKenzie, municipal counsellor, provoked by the lot-staking activities, called W. R. Bleakmore, attorney here for the railroads and requested he take steps to oust the modern "sooners" from their claims.

The city immediately made plans to protect its rights to the abandoned railroad property.

LED BY OLD-TIMER

The "run" was led by Sam Bartell, City Constable and a deputy United States Marshal at the time of the "run" of 1889. Bartell was repeating the drama he helped to enact in a part of the same township on April 22, 1889, when he made a dash for Central Oklahoma from the old Durant station.

Taking the attitude the modern homesteaders are trespassers, McKenzie asked the railroad officials to oust the group at once. City officials announced as soon as they take possession of the right of way, a squad of officers will guard the property and that it will be fenced off to keep everybody out.

Oil Magnate's Golfing Companion Fails to Get Customary Dime

ORMOND BEACH (Fla.) Dec. 2. (AP)—John D. Rockefeller hesitated about giving his pastor-golfing companion a nickel here today after the latter had executed a good drive.

"If money wasn't so scarce," said Mr. Rockefeller, "I'd give you a nickel for that drive."

Rev. G. D. Owen, pastor of the Ormond Union Church, admittedly a tyro at this golf business, appeared pleased enough with the favorable comment from so widely known a golfer as "neighbor John."

But to the news picture folk it seemed appropriate that the man who has billions of nickels should have given the pastor one nickel even if he did not get the customary dime. They told Mr. Rockefeller their opinion.

"All right," genially replied the philanthropist, and the minister now has a shiny new nickel.

DEATH CAUSES INVENTION

Engineer Develops Gas Fumes Eliminator for Use on Motors After Pilot Son Perishes

NEW YORK, Dec. 2. (AP)—Out of the death of an airplane pilot in 1928 has come a device which its inventor declares will eliminate carbon monoxide fumes from gasoline engines and save more than $1,000,000,000 annually in the nation's fuel bills.

Dr. Miller Reese Hutchison, chief engineer for Thomas A. Edison from 1909 to 1918 and originator of the klaxon and the acousticon, demonstrated the instrument yesterday before Capt. Frank M. Hawks, flying speed king.

The instrument, known as the moto-vita, was developed primarily to increase efficiency and flight range of airplanes as the result of the accidental death of Dr. Hutchison's son, Harold, airplane pilot. It employs the principle of catalysis to prevent waste of fuel through improper carburetion and imperfect combustion.

The moto-vita, as exhibited by the inventor, weighs about a pound and a half and can be produced at a nominal cost. It consists of a thermo-couplet bridge of platinum and nickel wires attached to the motor so gases constantly pass over it, recording automatically percentage of unburned gases escaping and enabling the driver to increase the air in the fuel mixture.

Dr. Hutchison described the instrument as "an infallible and intelligent means of eliminating guesswork of carburetion," and said its value has been proved in six months of flying by his older son, Jack Hutchison, transport pilot.

ELECTRIC EAR WILL CUT NOISE

New Device Sets One Sound to Kill Another; May Aid Flyers

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 2. (AP)—An electric ear, with which engineers hope to reduce noise by setting one sound to kill another sound, was demonstrated publicly for the first time here today. This method of noise abatement consists merely in causing two sound waves to interfere. A big obstacle has been the human ear's inability to separate complex noises sufficiently for engineers to find which one to set against the other.

The electric ear, it is announced, promises to overcome this handicap. Weighing sixty pounds, the size of a suit case, its method of attaching to and "listening" to a noisy machine was demonstrated at the Westinghouse Research Laboratories by J. P. Foltz, Westinghouse man who developed it.

"When an apple is dropped on a wood floor," he said, "the thud which strikes the human ear is made up of a great number of sounds. The impact starts a series of complex broadcasts which in physics are represented by waves, called sound waves. It is entirely possible to produce silence by two sound waves which fit each other much like the teeth of two saw blades.

"In a somewhat different application it is also hoped in the future this new portable ear may be used as an advance fault finder for airplane motors and propellers.

"This future ear could be installed in an airplane's dashboard so a bad motor part or propeller blade warp developing during the flight would instantly show up as a red light to warn the pilot of prospective trouble."

Home Brewers Given Tax Jolt

LANSING (Mich.) Dec. 2. (AP)—The Michigan Supreme Court delivered a blow at home-brew makers today by ruling the State tax of 25 cents a gallon on wort must be collected. The State has been collecting only 6 cents a gallon on the assumption that wort is malt extract in solution.

The decision will increase the price of five-gallon containers to about $2.50 to $3. The price has been $1.50 to $1.80.

The Supreme Court ruling said: "By the addition of yeast wort becomes beer. There is no provision for the taxation of wort as malt extract in solution."

HOOVER SEES GOOD TIMES WITHIN NEXT SIX MONTHS

Message to Congress Seeks Fund of $150,000,000 for Immediate Relief of Unemployment

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2. (Exclusive)—In his second annua message on the state of the Union President Hoover told Congress today, in effect, that good times are just around the corner

He enumerated various indications that the tide has already turned and made clear his belief that a fair degree of prosperity will have been restored by next summer.

To cope with the crisis which exists in the meantime, the Presiden asked Congress for an appropriation of from $100,000,000 to $150,000,000 for the acceleration of publi works construction in order to giv employment to men out of work.

LIMITED NEEDS

"Our immediate problem," said th President, "is the increase of employment for the next six months and new plans which do not produc such immediate results or which extend commitments beyond this period are not warranted."

The inference widely drawn fron this utterance by the statesme who hear dthe message read in both houses is that the President foresees such an improvement in economic conditions in the next si months that there will be no necessity for unemployment relief thereafter.

Surveying the finances of th country the President broke the news gently to income-tax payer that the income-tax reduction allowed on 1929 incomes cannot b continued on 1930 incomes, the ta on which will be payable next yea The rates automatically revert t the regular levels.

DEFICIT FORESEEN

Mr. Hoover did not specificall state that the income-tax reductio is to be discontinued, but the financial statement he submitted is clearly based on this assumption.

On the basis of the income ta reduction in effect applying to th last six months of 1930 but not t the first six months of 1931, th President calculates that the government will wind up the curren fiscal year with a deficit of $180,000,000 instead of the surplus o $123,000,000 which the Treasury estimated a year ago. Then assumin that "the temporary tax reductio of last year be discontinued," th President said that a surplus of onl about $30,000,000 is in sight for th next fiscal year.

"Most rigid economy," the Pres dent added, "is therefore necessa to avoid increase in taxes."

OTHER PRESSING PROBLEM

In addition to the relief enactments, he advocated early completion of the following legislation: Muscle Shoals, motor bus regulation, relief of court congestion, borde patrol reorganization to preven smuggling, and law enforcement i the national capital.

Mr. Hoover concluded with a reiteration of intention to transmi later to the Senate in a specia message the revised protocol fo American adherence to the World Court.

Looking beyond the short session the Chief Executive recommended several questions for Congressiona consideration, "perhaps through committees co-operating in some instances with the Federal departments, with a view to preparatio for subsequent action."

POWER REGULATION

These included effective regulation of interstate electrical power further legislation necessary t facilitate railroad consolidation; revision of immigration laws to plac them on a more limited, selectiv and flexible basis, and adjustmen of inequalities in services and allowances to veterans.

Strengthening of deportation law to more fully rid the country o criminal aliens was urged.

Another matter placed in th category for later determination wa a recommendation to authorize Federal building of secondary posta facilities, to prevent "further uneconomic leasing." The Presiden attributed such leasing by past ad-

DAVIS WINS HIS SEAT

Senate Votes to Admit Him

Legislators by 58 to 27 Ballots Turn Down Nye's Demand for Delay

Investigator Then Says He Will Carry on Campaign Cost Quiz Anyway

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2. (AP)—James J. Davis stepped into the middle of the session's first Senate fracas today and emerged a few minutes later empowered to take the much-disputed seat of the junior Senator from Pennsylvania.

Acting quickly, the Senate rejected a resolution by Senator Nye of North Dakota, demanding the oath of office be withheld and Davis, whose resignation as Secretary of Labor was accepted only today by President Hoover, was sworn in at once.

DEMOCRATIC BACKING

More than half of the Democratic ballots were cast in favor of the former Cabinet member, to give him a two-to-one vote. The count was 58 to 27.

Nye's objections were based on the high cost of campaigning in Pennsylvania. He asked Davis's credentials be referred to the special campaign funds investigating committee of which he is chairman, while in inquires into new reports of expenditures in his primary campaign of last spring.

He submitted a partial report asserting the expenditures for Davis and Francis Shunk Brown, who sought the governorship on the same ticket, had been more than $600,000.

QUIZ WILL GO ON

However, the Democratic Steering Committee previously had considered the case and had unanimously decided not to oppose Davis "merely because the special committee may request further time to investigate the expenditures."

After the vote Nye said the investigation will proceed "as though nothing had happened." He ordered hearings resumed tomorrow.

MANLESS PARTY NEARLY SO

Lady Astor Entertains Women Leaders From 'All Fields, but Males Wait on 'Em (by Mistake).

LONDON, Dec. 2. (AP)—Ladies of high degree representing almost every branch of human endeavor were guests tonight at a dinner and reception in the home of Nancy, Lady Astor, at which waiters were the only men present and that was a mistake. These were women high in law, medicine, politics, business, diplomacy, literature, arts, aviation and even in crime detection among the thirty-six dinner guests and the 400 who later attended the reception.

Since there were no men present, it was not learned what the women talked about when they were with each other, but it was revealed that there were no speeches scheduled.

WOMEN "MAN" ORCHESTRA

Lady Astor conceived this idea of a manless dinner as a novel means of celebrating feminine achievements during the past year. Women were engaged even to "man" the orchestra, but through an oversight discovered only at the last moment women were not substituted for the usual male waiters.

The vast dining-room was a riot of color in massed red chrysanthemums. The two women delegates to the Indian round-table conference wore the bright-hued silken garments of the Orient.

WHO WAS THERE

Among the dinner guests invited were Amy Johnson, plucky British girl who flew to Australia; Miss Edith Major, mistress of Girton College; Miss D. Peto woman's head of Scotland Yard; Dame Adelaide Anderson, former factory inspector; Prof. Winifred Cullis, physiologist; Miss Geraldine Jebb, principal of Bedford College for Women; Miss C. Haslett, engineer; Helen Fraser department-store manager; Miss I Stoney, solicitor; Mrs. Lorimer archeologist; Miss S. Watts, accountant; Venetia Stephenson, barrister; Miss Subarayan, delegate to the Indian round-table conference; Dame Henrietta Barnett, social worker; William Barker, prison worker; Hilda Matheson, radio artist; Mrs. Margaret Wintringham former member of Parliament and member of the Civil Service Commission; Dr. Letitia Fairfield, psychologist, and Eileen Power, historian.

Other guests were Ellen Wilkenson, member of Parliament; Dame Laura Knight, painter; Miss S Gatey, secretary of the Nationa Farmers' Union; Lady Shafi and the Begum Shah Nawaz, delegates to the Indian round-table conference; Lady Rhonnda, editor and corporation director; Rose MacAulay, novelist; Mrs. Oliver Strachey, writer and feminist; Dame Edith Lyttleton, League of Nations delegate; Mrs. John R. Thomas, Jr. wife of the military attache at the American Embassy; Mrs. R. H. Brand, Lady Astor's sister, and Miss Megan Lloyd-George, member of Parliament and daughter of the famous Liberal leader.

MOONEY CASE SHOWN IN LIGHT OF A "RACKET"

Supreme Court Hearing Bares Long, Devious, Profitable Campaign on Behalf of Bombers

This is the first of a series of daily articles in which will be presented an exhaustive analysis of the evidence upon which the State Supreme Court refused to recommend a pardon for Warren K. Billings.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 2. (Exclusive)—Important as it is, the decision of the State Supreme Court refusing to recommend a pardon for Warren K. Billings on the evidence submitted at its recent hearings is not the most significant product of that exhaustive inquiry. The decision definitely settles the fate of Billings and, by implication, of his fellow-conspirator in the Preparedness Day bomb outrage, Thomas J. Mooney, as well, though it will not halt the long campaign of their champions, ostensible and otherwise, to liberate them.

By far the most important service rendered by the Supreme Court's inquiries is the light which they have thrown upon the methods and the sponsors of that fourteen-year war to subvert justice.

In place of the sporadic, unpaid efforts of individual friends of the convicted pair, motivated by a sincere belief that a great wrong had been done, the campaign in chief was shown to have been a carefully organized, liberally financed, skillfully generaled and continuous effort, nation-wide in scope and directed, in part at least, by men who entertained no personal delusions as to the real character of Mooney and Billings and who were apparently less concerned with liberating them than with keeping a profitable thing going.

In place of the spontaneous outbursts of long-suppressed truth which they were pictured as being, the various recantations by vital witnesses of testimony which had helped convict the bombers were shown to have been the fruit of months and years of patient, skillful espionage, "suggestionizing" and other methods characterized by the court as savoring strongly of outright subornation. They were made by witnesses who had been plied with favors, gifts, money, luxurious transcontinental railway jaunts, "loans" made without consideration or security, never repaid and never accounted for—all financed from a Mooney-Billings war chest filled by contributions levied from the meager wage of workers persuaded by skillful propagandists that innocent fellow-toilers had been railroaded to jail.

PROSECUTION CLEARED

In place of "frame-ups" on the part of unscrupulous police officers and prosecutors, blamed for the convictions of Mooney and Billings, the identifications of the bombers testified to by officers and witnesses were shown to have been genuine and honestly made, without coaching or suggestion, and that the charges to the contrary were based upon admitted perjuries. Under searching cross-examination, the chief author of these charges was driven from one damaging admission to another until finally his whole tissue of fabrications was in irreparable shreds and his once-confident allegations against the integrity of Dist.-Atty. Fickert, Police Captain Matheson and their aides served only to brand himself a colossal liar.

The picture as a whole, unfortunately, could not be made complete under the limitations laid down for the Supreme Court's inquiry, which was solely to determine the merits of the evidence upon which was based Billings's hope for a pardon. Many important parts are still missing; probably always will be missing. Because the inquisitors had to feel their way through a maze of contradictions, willful misstatements and unessentials, dragging the vital facts from often reluctant lips, the day-to-day news accounts of the hearings presented a necessarily confused and confusing view, importantly related circumstances often being widely separated in the record by thousands of obscuring irrelevancies. It is only now, with the entire, massive transcript available, that the known pieces of the mosaic can be fitted together to form the broad outlines of as remarkable a story as the annals of crime can show. It is the purpose of this and succeeding articles to endeavor to segregate and correlate these significant and scattered fragments and, as completely and correctly as possible, to reconstruct the history of the long and intricate effort to defeat justice in the cases of Warren K. Billings and Thomas J. Mooney.

GIGANTIC RACKET

It is fair to say at the outset that not all those who played leading parts in that effort were knowing participants of what, on the face of the facts, appears in the light of a gigantic racket. The men who actually knew the dynamiters for what they were are comparatively few and they have kept their own counsel. There were and are thousands of honest persons who, deceived by the laboriously procured "recantations," sincerely believed Mooney and Billings to be, at the best, innocent victims of circumstantial evidence; at the worst, of a calculated frame-up. There were others, less numerous, who probably suspected the truth and shut their eyes to it; giving the accused men the benefit of the doubt, in some cases from traditional sympathy for the under dog; in others, from preconceived and stubborn hostility to almost any form of constituted authority. Of the host who gave ther time, effort or money to free the convicted pair it is as impossible with any certainty to name those who did so with ulterior motives or criminal intent, as it is those who were moved by unimpeachable convictions; save, of course, that the latter were undoubtedly in the majority, even though their opinions were based on falsified evidence. All that can be done in the present incomplete state of what probably never will be a completed investigation is to set forth in order the established facts and to let each judge them for himself.

WHERE DIDI MONEY GO?

One of the major questions of the Mooney-Billings case for which, in all probability, there will never be an adequate answer is: What has become of the huge sums of money collected from workers and sympathizers everywhere ostensibly for their defense? The amount which can be accounted for by liberal estimates of the costs of known activities is trifling compared with the total subscribed, more or less willingly, by members of labor unions, radical organizations and individuals in this country and abroad under systematic solicitation over a period of fourteen years.

In this matter of funds collected but unaccounted for the Mooney-Billings case bears a striking resemblance to that of the McNamaras, dynamiters of the Los Angeles Times, and scores of other open-shop buildings throughout the country. In that famous case union men everywhere were levied upon for contributions to the "McNamara defense fund," only a fraction of which could be traced to necessary and proper expenditures. But this, as will appear in subsequent articles, was only one of the remarkable parallels between these two great California crimes and their sequels.

The Supreme Court inquiry into the Billings case specifically accounted for heretofore secret outlays of a few thousands of dollars. For reasons which will become obvious as this narrative proceeds, no voluntary publicity has ever been given these expenditures. But the addition of these newly discovered disbursements, plus those probably similarly made in other, undisclosed quarters, to the amounts legitimately and publicly expended, brings a hypothetical total still far short of the sum certainly collected.

At the convention of the California State Federation of Labor last summer a resolution was drawn calling upon the Mooney Defense League for an accounting for sums received. On that occasion it was declared that "more than $100,000" had been contributed, mostly by union members over the country, certainly a very conservative estimate. Others have placed it at more than $1,000,000. Mary Gallagher, secretary of the league, said that that organization had received $45,000 in contributions since 1928, when she took office, and that all but about $1000 of that was used for literature and legal expenses. She is making an accounting of these outlays.

SECRET REPOSITORIES

The defense league, however, represents only the public side of the organized efforts in behalf of the bombers. The Supreme Court hearing brought out the heretofore unsuspected fact that the main source of the funds expended for "work" on witnesses whose recantations were desired was not the defense league, but the treasury of the Chicago Federation of Labor. What other repositories there were and how much in the aggregate they received is a matter for conjecture.

The evidence adduced is sufficient to show that the case has been a profitable one for many. To such, the collapse of the most recent effort to show that Mooney and Billings were framed and railroaded probably was not so great a disappointment as might have been thought. The very ineptness of the effort suggests that not much was expected of it by its own sponsors. That it was not undertaken in good faith by Billings himself was pointed out by Supreme Court Justice Preston in the decision just returned. "Petitioner (Billings) is intentionally omitting to apply for parole in order to promote the circulation of false propaganda concerning this crime." And again: "To foster and perpetuate strife among the classes is the concealed but plain object of the petitioner."

The MacDonald debacle was a boomerang, but its repercussion was probably not very painful to those who have found association with the Mooney case a lucrative one. So long as Mooney and Billings remain in jail, so long will the hue and cry go on and so long will the money keep coming in—money for which no accounting has to be made.

In the next article, to appear in The Times, tomorrow, will be presented some of the specific and significant revelations gleaned from the transcript of the Supreme Court hearings.

Biologist Warns Grizzly Bears Need Protection

NEW YORK, Dec. 2. (AP)—A warning grizzly bears will be extinct throughout the United States within a few years unless they are afforded greater protection was given today by Dr. William B. Bell, in charge of the Biological Survey, before the American game conference.

Dr. Bell presented results of a five-year survey of big game in the country's national forests and said grizzlies have decreased 37 per cent in that time. Most of the 3500 remaining members of the species are in Alaska. Grizzlies are extinct in California, where they used to flourish, he pointed out.

MOONEY FIGHT WILL CONTINUE

Court's Decision on Billings Starts Quick Action

Lawyers Lay Plans to Make New Pardon Plea

Appearance Before Board Asked of Carnahan

BY FLOYD J. HEALEY
"Times" Staff Correspondent

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 2. (Exclusive)—Apparently there is no intention on the part of sympathizers with Warren K. Billings and Thomas J. Mooney to accept as final the decision of the highest tribunal in the State of California that Billings specifically and Mooney inferentially are not entitled to pardons for their part in the dynamiting of the 1916 Preparedness Day parade, with its toll of ten killed and forty injured.

Steps to get around the decision are nebulous as yet so far as Billings is concerned but action on behalf of Mooney got under way almost immediately following yesterday's six-to-one recommendation against pardon.

Cyrus B. King, Oakland attorney associated with Thomas J. Walsh of New York for Mooney, conferred with Walsh by long-distance telephone and then got in touch with Lieut.-Gov. Carnahan at Los Angeles asking for Mooney's appearance before the State Advisory Pardon Board about the 15th inst. This is in connection with Mooney's application for pardon, on file with the Governor. The pardon board will make a recommendation to the Governor before the latter acts on the Mooney application.

BALANCING CASE

The pardon board has recommended once against a pardon for Mooney, returning that decision following the first Supreme Court rejection of the Billings plea last July.

In asking for a meeting of the pardon board again on or about the 15th inst. Attorney King is seen as paving the way for a delay of just sufficient length to balance the case between C. C. Young as outgoing Governor and James Rolph, Jr., as incoming Governor.

Gov. Young once refused Mooney a pardon and is going out of office so it is reasoned he has no political considerations to bow to. Rolph, on the other hand, being new to the job as chief executive and an honorary member of several labor unions, is visualized as a possible aid to the cause.

LAWYER'S STAND

Just what Rolph as Governor could do in the face of a Supreme Court recommendation against Billings and an advisory pardon board recommendation against Mooney is infested with questions, but it appears certain an attempt will be made to interest Rolph in the case on the reasoning that nothing can be lost but much may be gained. Both Rolph and Young refused comment today beyond the expected remarks. Rolph said he is not yet Governor and Young said he will read the Supreme Court recommendation. In the meantime, he referred the request for the pardon board meeting to Lieut.-Gov. Carnahan at once.

Mooney's attorneys argue their prisoner is entitled to a personal appearance before the pardon board as much as Billings was entitled to a earing by justices of the Supreme Court. The latter hearing, by the way, was a precedent in American jurisprudence, the justices going within the walls of Folsom prison, where Billings is confined for life, for the first time, not only in the history of the California Supreme Court but in the history of all such bodies in the United States.

Telegrams were received by Billings and Mooney today from the national defense committee pledging "redoubled efforts with the new Governor of California, Mayor Rolph, who takes office next month."

SECRETARY QUITS MOONEY

Another development of significant import was the announcement of Mary Gallagher, secretary of the Mooney Defense League, that she had submitted her resignation. Although she gave as her reason the statement she believed the new campaign should be wider in scope and confined herself to that observation, it is known she and Mooney have engaged in several quarrels recently.

Several days ago it became known she was no longer acceptable to Moonay, the information regarding which was published exclusively in the Los Angeles Times.

Edwin McKenzie, counsel for Billings, professed a grim humor in the rejection of the Billings petition, remarking:

"One down and three to go. We have one of the justices on our side, now we need but three more to win our fight."

McKenzie's remark arises from the fact Justice Langdon wrote a dissenting opinion, recommending executive clemency.

McKenzie would not disclose his definite plans but it is certain he will ask a rehearing if the language of the majority opinion provides the loophole by which it can be done.

SLOW FILM TO SPEED UP PRODUCTION

NEW YORK, Dec. 2. (AP)—Just as a slow-motion newsreel "explains" a golf star's strokes, moving pictures often can "explain" a factory worker's skill.

Sandell cited cases of skilled workmen who could not explain their own efficiency methods to others until a slow-motion film revealed certain movements of which the workmen themselves were unaware. The efficiency of a whole factory force may be increased, Sandell said, by teaching them the method which the slow-motion film shows is used by the most skilled worker in the group.

The hydraulic division of the Engineering Society heard a heated discussion of the Federal government's relations to water-power development. Frank E. Bonner, executive secretary of the Federal Power Commission, read a paper advocating a "minimum of interference" by the Federal government with the power industry.

This opinion was attacked by Prof. Guido H. Marx of Stanford University, who questioned "whether the attitude of relinquishment shown in the paper by this executive officer does not amount to nonfeasance."

LEGALITY OF PROHIBITION QUESTIONED

New Attack Launched on Eighteenth Amendment in Federal Court

NEW YORK, Dec. 2. (AP)—The constitutionality of the Eighteenth Amendment was attacked today in Federal Circuit Court of Appeals by counsel for Louis E. Thibault of Windsor, Vt. Thibault is appealing from conviction for possession and sales of two pints of whisky.

Selden Beacon, spokesman for appellant's counsel, pointed out that Article V of the Constitution provides for amendment by congressional action ratified by legislatures or State conventions in three-fourths of the States.

But the Tenth Amendment, he declared reserved to the people themselves, not the States, the power of granting the Federal government further authority over themselves and their individual rights. Thus, he said, amendments like the Eighteenth, "must be ratified by conventions of the people in the various States."

U. S. Atty. Amey of Vermont said the Eighteenth Amendment had been upheld despite repeated attacks. The Fifth Article of the Constitution, he declared, "clearly gave Congress the authority to submit proposed amendments at will, either to State legislatures or State conventions."

ARMS PROPOSAL DRAFT FINISHED

World Conference Date Left to League

German Demand for Early Meeting Defeated

Spirited Discussion Held on Poison Gas

GENEVA, Dec. 2. (AP)—Completing tonight its task of drafting a general disarmament scheme for consideration by a world conference, the preparatory commission invited the Council of the League of Nations to set a date for this momentous assembly of statesmen

By a vote of fourteen to four with numerous abstentions including the United States, the commission rejected an effort by Germany to have the commission recommend the specific date of November 5, 1931.

PUT UP TO LEAGUE

"Ten Months," he cried, "is enough time in which to prepare for this conference. If ten months is not enough then ten years will not be enough."

The German demand for a fixed date was backed up by China, Italy, Russia and Bulgaria, but Great Britain, France, Czecho-Slovakia, Greece and Japan vigorously insisted the commission would do well not to shoulder the heavy responsibility which they contended belongs only to the League Council.

The amendment leaving it to the Council to fix the date was offered by Lord Cecil of Great Britain. The general belief here is that the Council will select some date early in 1932.

POISON GAS

A spirited discussion took place today on the use of poison gas in warfare, but it finally was decided to leave the matter over for the general conference to decide.

General opposition to the use of poison gas was expressed. On motion of Hugh S. Gibson, American delegate, the commission invited all governments to set their experts at work on the question and be prepared at the general conference to draft an agreement which will clarify the restrictions.

CIVIL AIRCRAFT

Two provisions regarding publicity for civil aircraft were adopted.

The convention text called for an annual report on the number of commercial aircraft in each country. To this was added tonight a British proposal to include in this report expenditures on civil craft by governments and local authorities and a Polish proposal to include the total horsepower of civil craft.

Ambassador Gibson asked that the opposition of the United States be announced in a note appended to the article.

Canada lost a fight to delete from the article military planes and personnel used in civil work, such as patrolling forests and carrying aid to distressed citizens in remote places. The Canadian plan was supported by the United States.

A German proposal to prohibit use of tanks of all kinds and cannon above a certain caliber was defeated, with Russia alone supporting the German plan.

RESOLUTION URGES GERMAN WITHDRAWAL

BERLIN, Dec. 2. (AP)—Withdrawal of the German delegation from the Geneva disarmament parley was urged in a resolution adopted today by the Foreign Affairs Committee of the Reichsrat. This action was advocated as a result of the refusal of the majority of the nations participating to accede to the German demands for more complete disarmament.

POLICE TO FOIL REICHSTAG RIOT

Strong Force Prepared for Reconvening Today

Stormy Session Expected on Bruening Program

Germans Ponder Outcome of Three Possibilities

BERLIN, Dec. 2. (AP)—Heavy forces of police were concentrated tonight in preparation for tomorrow's reconvening of the Reichstag, for the authorities are taking no chances of the disorder attending the fall opening being repeated.

When the Reichstag went into session October 13, fresh from elections in which Fascists and Communists made wide gains, stormy scenes marked the proceedings inside and rioters smashed windows outside.

POLICE PREPARED

Hence the police are taking nothing for granted tomorrow and strong forces of both foot and mounted police will be thrown around the Parliament Building early in the afternoon.

What will happen in the Reichstag chamber after 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon is a question weighing on German minds tonight. President Paul Von Hindenburg yesterday signed decrees which placed the Bruening financial program into effect as law of the land, and tomorrow's meeting is to determine what the legislative body will do about it.

THREE POSSIBILITIES

There are three possibilities—approval by the Reichstag of the Hindenburg decree, which would mean approval of something in which the Legislature did not participate; revocation, in which the Chancellor might obtain Presidential authority to dissolve the Reichstag and call new elections, thus bringing a temporary dictatorship, and a vote of nonconfidence, the outcome of which would be difficult to estimate.

ROBBER'S WIDOW IN LAW TOILS

Mrs. Ellen Smith Named as Member of Mail Banditry Gang

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 2. (Exclusive)—An indictment of two counts charging robbery and conspiracy to effect a mail robbery was returned by the Federal grand jury today against Mrs. Ellen Smith, widow of the leader of a mail-train bandit gang, Frank Smith, who was shot to death when he walked into a police trap in Oakland. Three other members of the gang are sought for the recent Nobel train robbery that netted about $60,000, the McAvoy train robbery of June 22, 1929, and the hold-up of a bank in Rodeo in which one man was killed.

Ball for Mrs. Smith was set at $100,000. Although the ball was pronounced unusually high, Federal Judge Louderback said it was the recommendation of the grand jury and he considered that body most competent to judge the circumstances so far developed.

In three years the group of which Mrs. Smith is accused as a member is declared to have amassed $250,000. Search now is being conducted for the proceeds in safety-deposit boxes, in the garden of the so-called Smith home in Oakland and through postal authorities throughout the country. It is thought Smith may have mailed his share to himself under an assumed name to some other city.

ECONOMIST DENOUNCES FARM BOARD

Prof. Boyle of Cornell Says Its Actions Based on Discredited Plan

CHICAGO, Dec. 2. (AP)—Calling on Congress to amend the Farm Marketing Act to take the government "out of the market as buyer, seller and speculator," Prof. James E. Boyle of Cornell University vigorously denounced activities of the Federal Farm Board today before the American Association of Creamery Butter Manufacturers.

Dr. Boyle declared the present method of "trying to influence prices by withdrawing the surplus from the market and withholding it 'till a later date,'" had been proved disastrous by the program tried in British rubber and Brazil coffee.

"The rubber market was pushed from 20 cents to $1.20 a pound; now it is at 8 cents, the low price of all time," he said. "Coffee was boosted from 10 cents to 32 cents; it is now at 8 cents a pound. It is an economic law that artificial price control of farm products in which there is a surplus is practically certain to increase this surplus and result in lower prices. Wheat and cotton are now having the same fate as rubber and coffee."

Dr. Boyle insisted that the $500,000,000 working fund of the Farm Board be turned back to the United States Treasury.

Valuables From Home of Negress Sell at Bargain

NEW YORK, Dec. 2. (AP)—Household furnishings which the late Mme. C. J. Walker collected from many parts of the world at a cost of some $350,000, have been sold to the highest bidders for $58,500.

The Villa Leandro at Irvington-on-Hudson was denuded of its last furnishings yesterday at the close of a three-day auciton. The $4000 twenty-four-karat gold leaf piano brought $450 and a Tabriz rug went for $1400.

Mme. Walker, a Negro, amassed great wealth from the discovery and marketing of a hair-straightening lotion for the members of her race.

ENDER FAILS TO FORM CABINET IN AUSTRIA

HOOVER BEGINS SOCIAL WHIRL

Dinner Given to Cabinet by President and Wife

Two Secretaries of Labor at Brilliant Affair

Events From Now on Will Crowd One Another

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2. (AP)—In a city where "society" and "the season" are somehow synonymous and inextricably interwoven, the unusually brilliant 1930 wheel of gala events started whirling tonight with the dinner of the President to his Cabinet.

Symbolic, perhaps, of the superabundance of the season itself, tonight's brilliantly formal dinner will go down in history as the one attended by two who came as secretaries of Labor—ex-Secretary James J. Davis and Secretary-nominee William N. Doak.

Washington wondered rather audibly during the day as to whom of them, if either, would be entitled to a place at the chrysanthemum-decorated table in the state dining-room. Davis was out of the Cabinet, effective today, and Doak not yet officially in.

DOUBLE AFFAIR

But with Mrs. Herbert Hoover as her own social secretary the Doak-Davis situation become both a farewell party and a welcoming reception.

With the White House setting the pace, each session week will be doing double and triple social duty—receptions treading on the heels of dinners, "at homes" speeding along in swift succession, and a final pre-Lenten event for six departments rolled into one reception.

The social stir started yesterday when women, smartly garbed, made a fashion show of the family galleries at the opening session. Mrs. Alice Roosevelt Longworth was the interest center of the House; Mrs. Dolly Curtis Gann in the Senate.

LIST OF GUESTS

The following were invited: Secretary of Treasury Mellon, Secretary of War and Mrs. Hurley, Attorney-General and Mrs. Mitchell, Postmaster-General and Mrs. Brown, Secretary of the Navy and Mrs. Adams, Secretary of the Interior and Mrs. Wilbur, Mrs. Arthur M. Hyde, wife of Secretary Hyde; Secretary of Commerce and Mrs. Lamont, Mr. and Mrs. William N. Doak, Secretary and Mrs. James Davis, Representative Ruth Pratt, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas E. Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Meyer, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel A. Elliott, Mr. and Mrs. Cleveland A. Newton, Mr. and Mrs. Ira Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. J. Herbert Case, Mr. and Mrs. Blair T. Coburn, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Glover, Mr. and Mrs. George Lorimer, Mr. and Mrs. Jackson Reynolds, Mr. and Mrs. Felix Warburg, Dr. William H. Welch, Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Whitney, Capt. and Mrs. Charles Russell Train and Col. Campbell B. Hodges.

Tonight the official family dined under the White House roof and later was joined by other guests for a musicale, with Emma Othero, Cuban singer, their entertainer. All through the house a profusion of chrysanthemums in many hues repeated rich colors in many of the gowns.

CHICAGO, Dec. 2. (AP)—Armageddon, the meeting place of ancient nations, and battleground of untold centuries, is unfolding its secrets to the modern world.

From halfway around the globe, men have gone to Palestine to extract new detail in the mosaic of civilization from the crumbling ruins of a mountain pass.

For a few thousand dollars, when once no money would suffice, the oriental institute of the University of Chicago has purchased the right to excavate on the site of the storied city. Dr. James H. Breasted, head of the institute, revealed today how a cross-section of human works in bygone centuries is slowly showing itself on the hills beneath Mt. Carmel.

VISUAL HISTORY

Stone age to Solomon to Palestine of 1930, with only the mountain peaks enduring—Armageddon is yielding visual history.

It was Armageddon of which St. John the Divine wrote in Revelations: Armageddon, the site of the last great war, when the nations are gathered to "the battle of that great day of God Almighty."

It was Armageddon where, fifteen centuries before the Savior, Canaanities and Egyptians under Thutmose III, fought under the fortressed hills.

WORLD WAR SORTIE

It was Armageddon where, twenty centuries after the Savior, Lord Allenby led a British army forth to meet the Turks on a World War salient.

But when Allenby fought, and when the expedition from the western world started its work in 1925, there were only mounds and well-tilled fields in the place of a city which looked toward the sea and the inland peaks.

Foot by foot these mounds have disclosed the presence of a dozen cities, each on the ruins of its predecessor.

WILL BE FARMED

The stables which Solomon constructed were unearthed in 1927. The streets along which the citizens of his day traveled, the work they did, a few of the homes in which they lived, have been traced.

Until this year, the excavations could be done only by "halves." Part of the site had to be left uncleared, but a blanket purchase of rights from the widow of an Englishman has allowed the oriental institute to proceed.

And when the last fragments have been taken from the site of Armageddon the land will be converted into farms once more.

RESCUE NEARS MISSIONARIES

Mongol Bodyguard Removes Women to Village

Chinese Under Foreigners Now Within Thirty Miles

"Christian General's" Forces May Prevent Relief

[Copyright, 1930, by the Chicago Tribune.]

PEIPING, Dec. 2. (Exclusive)—The rescue of Mrs. H. D. Hayward of Seattle and her nurse, H. Comersal, seems assured, but there is a possibility that some fighting will be required. Their Mongolian guards have succeeded in removing them from a raft in the Yellow River which was surrounded by bandits, to a Mongol hill village thirty miles from Paotowohen and other Mongols are joining in the fire upon the bandit soldiers.

Suiyuan authorities, at the request of Capt. Staples of the British legation in Peiping and Lieut. C. J. Kanaga of the United States Marines, who, with Rev. G. Findley Andrew, British missionary, are attempting the rescue of the two women, sent the reports today.

The difficulty is that the entire region is dominated by bandits who have surrounded the Mongol hill settlements with the Suiyun troops approaching under the command of Gen. Li Pei-chi, whom Lieut. Kanaga, Sapt. Staples and Mr. Andrew are accompanying, so the rescue seems but a matter of hours.

The authority of Chang Hsueh-liang, Manchurian war lord, who controls all of the territory north of the Yellow River, has been extended to include Shansi Province and Suiyun with the possible addition of Shantung and Northern Honan. The Christian general Feng Yu-hsiang still retains troops in Shensi and Kansu provinces and Ninghsing, but is reported to be in Shansi Province under a strong bodyguard. The danger seems to be that the rescue party may encounter some of his elements.

RYKOFF FORCES STALIN'S HAND

Showdown Believed Near on Power of Dictator

Premier Faces Possibility of Death or Exile

Control by Communists May Be Made Plain

[Copyright, 1930, by New York Times]

LONDON, Dec. 2. (Exclusive)—From the standpoint of Russia's relations with other governments, there is going on in Moscow a discussion much more important than the trial of the engineers and professors. The Kremlin masters are discussing what to do with or to Alexei Rykoff, Premier of the whole soviet union.

For some weeks M. Rykoff has not been at his desk in Moscow. His absence from the capital is reported to be for a rest in the Caucasus and it is said officially he will return to Moscow Friday for a meeting of the Communist executives.

The truth is it is a perfectly open question whether M. Rykoff will remain as Premier or whether he will be disciplined by Communist Internationale, or, to put it bluntly, whether he will be "fired" by Dictator Joseph Stalin.

CROSSES STALIN

To those in Moscow there is nothing extraordinary about this situation. It is known M. Rykoff has been at issue with Stalin on various features of the Kremlin's industrial revolution plan. M. Rykoff thinks the Russians are being driven too hard, with too many sacrifices being asked of them, and that this policy is bad because of the probable eventual result. Nyolai Bukharin and Gen. Galents (Gen. Galents has been known in Russia as Gen. Blucher. He is said to be a descendant of the famous Marshall Blucher,) sided with him. M. Bukharin has now recanted and it is not exactly plain what steps have been taken with regard to Gen. Galents. That he is in jail has been affirmed and denied. That Stalin as dictator of Russia should discipline a Prime Minister may appear quite natural to those close to the picture.

The importance of the situation lies in the pretense Moscow makes that the Russian government and Communist Internationale are independent organizations. When Maxim Litvinoff, soviet Foreign Minister, told foreign capitals that the Russian government was not responsible for Communist Internationale propaganda abroad, he spoke truer than his interlocutors may have realized. But, nevertheless, Moscow has contended—and its contention has been echoed in many parliaments—that Russia's government has an independent existence.

BASIS OF POWER

But if now it can be made plain before the whole world that Stalin can discipline or remove Rykoff, a Prime Minister, it ought to clear the situation by removing an important piece of fiction from consideration.

In Russia one is told that Stalin is merely chairman of the National Committee of the (Communist) Russian political party, and that his power comes from the circumstances that the members of the government are also members of this political party and are guided by its counsel.

There has been a comparison of the Communist Internationale with the national committee of the Republican party in the United States. But the analogy is not perfect. Senator Fess has not Stalin's power. The analogy would not be perfect until Mr. Fess could arrest President Hoover, Secretary Stimson and the rest of the Cabinet and lock them up where he pleased. It would not be perfect then. The analogy would only be perfect when Senator Fess had ordered the execution of most of the leaders of the Democratic party.

The Communist Internationale, not Premier Rykoff's Cabinet, is the government of Russia. And if Stalin chooses now to discipline Rykoff for showing a modicum of independence—if he makes M. Rykoff apologize, or if he removes him from office, or if he sends him to Siberia, or exiles him or shoots him—then it will be plainer just who is boss in Moscow. It will be an interesting meeting of the Communist executives Friday.

SOVIET USES PRISONERS AS SABOTAGE WITNESSES

MOSCOW, Dec. 2. (AP)—Out from soviet jails came witnesses tonight to confirm the extensive sabotage activities of eight engineers on trial for their lives.

The three prisoners were brought into court under a heavy guard. They gave further details of the extensive sabotage.

Earlier the defendants had again taken the stand and told of espionage work for officers of the French General Staff and of graft collected by the engineers in connection with the plot to overthrow the government.

Benjamin to Be Associated With G.O.P. Drive

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2. (Exclusive)—Coincident with announcement today of the removal to Washington from San Francisco of the law offices of Raymond I. Benjamin, California attorney, came informal assurances from Republican leaders that Benjamin, long a figure in the party's national activities, will be associated with the Republican campaign in 1932.

In former campaigns both in California and in the country at large, Benjamin has served as a valued field assistant to the National Republican Committee. It is understood that transfer of his San Francisco office to the national capital is planned as a permanent arrangement.

HALIFAX (N. S.) Dec. 2. (AP)—Police started search today for a "Norwegian" whose appealing letter on behalf of his wife and "5-month-old child" yesterday induced Sinclair Lewis to part with $25.

The letter was taken to Mr. Lewis when his ship called here en route to Sweden, where he will get the Nobel literature prize. It said the writer was ill and needed $25 to reach the healthful mountain air of his native Norway. The author gave $25 to be turned over to the laborer.

Crew Saved as Ship Hits Rocks

HOLYHEAD (Eng.) Dec. 2. (AP)—Thirty-five persons, composing the crew of the Norwegian steamer Asmund, were saved tonight by Coast Guardsmen after the vessel rammed into rocks.

Their rescue was credited to a minister, Rev. H. H. Jones, who was walking along the coast with a woman parishioner when he happened to see the Asmund go on the rocks.

The minister ran half a mile to the nearest telephone and reported the accident to the Holyhead Coast Guard station.

BOTTLE HIDDEN IN GOLD CROWN

Newspaper Discloses Secret of Joke on Kaiser

Workman Put Glassware in Imperial Topper

BERLIN, Dec. 2. (AP)—There is a beer bottle inside the great golden imperial crown of Germany in the Kaiser's former palace, Unter Den Linden, says the newspaper Vorwaerts, quoting the son of the man who put it there thirty-six years ago.

It is said Wilhelm, annoyed by the scant observance by the populace of Busstag (day of repentance,) which falls in November, issued a homily for all work to cease on that day.

It so happened the white marble hall of the palace was being renovated, and the four crowns of the House of Hohenzollern, the Margrave, the Brandenburg, the Prussian royal and the imperial German crown, were being fixed to the ceiling. The Kaiser was anxious to have the hall ready for a court function, but found if no work were done on Busstag it could not be completed in time. So he decreed in this particular instance, the observance order should not apply.

Vorwaerts printed some ironical comment on the affair, with the consequence the issue in which it appeared was confiscated by the police. One of the palace workmen secreted a copy, put it inside a beer bottle and embedded it securely in plaster inside the crown.

It is still there, Vorwaerts asserts.

DRYS OPPOSE REFERENDUM

Like Vote Demanded on Rest of Constitution

Possibility of Compromise With Wets Killed

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2. (Exclusive)—Dry leaders came forward today with new counter-proposals to meet the wet demand for a nationwide referendum on prohibition.

Their proposals are of such a nature as to virtually eliminate the possibility of an agreement between the two factions on the submission of a referendum.

Dr. Ernest Cherrington, a spokesman for the Anti-Saloon League and general secretary of the World League Against Alcoholism, issued a statement calling for a referendum on every section of the Constitution if there is to be a popular vote on the Eighteenth Amendment.

DR. WILSON'S DEMAND

Dr. Clarence True Wilson, head of the Methodist Board of Temperance Prohibition and Public Morals, went even further than Dr. Cherrington in laying down conditions for the proposed referendum. He would require of the wets that they give adequate guarantees to refrain from further agitation and the patronage of bootleggers if the drys should win the referendum.

Dr. Cherrington's statement was considered slightly facetious but nonetheless significant in view of the fact that he recently was quoted as looking with favor on a wet-and-dry referendum. It was regarded as the equivalent of his saying he flatly opposed submitting the prohibition issue to a popular vote.

Dr. Wilson has several other conditions for the wets to meet before he will agree to the referendum. He demands that the referendum must present a clear cut issue between prohibition and some specific alternative propounded by common consent of the wets so that the voters will know what they will have in case prohibition is defeated. Also he wants the wets to give assurances that the proposal for repeal will be considered by constitutional conventions consisting of delegates elected by the votes of the people and not brought into being in some other way.

DEFEAT NOT FEARED

Dr. Cherrington said:

"If there is to be any popular national referendum on the Eighteenth Amendment, then the leaders of the temperance forces of the country will insist that every article and every section of the articles of the whole Constitution be subject to popular referenda.

"While the Eighteenth Amendment would unquestionably be sustained by popular vote in a national referendum, if such a refrendum under the proper and necessary safeguards could legally be had, which is not the case at present it is equally unquestionable that many other portions of the Constitution would not be certain of receiving a sufficient vote to be retained in that document. There are those who would reject the first article of the Constitution, which vests all legislative powers in Congress, unless provision was made therein for initiative and referendum. Others might demand revision of another section of that article, which prescribes that Representatives shall, when elected, be inhabitants of the State in which they are chosen while the question of the inclusion of aliens in the apportionment of Representatives would be assailed by another group."

REPRESENTATIVE LEA GIVES HIS LIQUOR VIEWS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2. (AP)—A contention the liquor problem, regardless of prohibition, will still exist a thousand years from now, was advanced by Representative Lea, Democrat, California, in discussing over the radio the relation of the grape industry and prohibition at the request of the women's organization for national prohibition reform.

After describing how the grape industry had been almost destroyed and then brought back to comparative prosperity again by the enactment of prohibition, Lea contended the only way to stop the manufacture of intoxicating liquors in the home is by outlawing the materials or permitting invasion of the home. Either method, he said, would discredit law enforcement.

"So long as we have prohibition we are going to have at least some violations in the home," Lea said. "We have had prohibition for ten years. It is perfectly apparent it has not been a solution of the liquor problem. The world has had a liquor problem ever since Noah. It will have it a thousand years from now."

USERS OF WATER TO SHARE IN PAYMENT

HEADWAY IN PROSPERITY MARCH OF NATION CITED

President Deals With Depression and Fiscal Plans, But Says Nothing on Dry Question

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2. (AP)—Following is President Hoover's essage to the third session of the Seventy-first Congress:

To the Senate and House of presentatives:

I have the honor to comply with e requirement of the Constitu- n that I should lay before the ngress information as to the state the Union, and recommend con- leration of such measures as are cessary and expedient.

Substantial progress has been ade during the year in national ace and security; the funda- ental strength of the nation's eco- mic life is unimpaired; education d scientific discovery have made vances; our country is more alive its problems of moral and spirit- l welfare.

ECONOMIC SITUATION

During the past twelve months have suffered with other nations om economic depression.

The origins of this depression lie some extent within our own rders through a speculative period hich diverted capital and energy to speculation rather than con- ructive enterprise. Had over- eculation in securities been the ly force operating, we should have en recovery many months ago, as ese particular dislocations have nerally readjusted themselves.

OTHER CAUSES

Other deep-seated causes have en in action, however, chiefly the orld-wide overproduction beyond en the demand of prosperous mes for such important basic com- odities as wheat, rubber, coffee, gar, copper, silver, zinc, to some tent cotton, and other raw ma- rials. The cumulative effects of moralizing price falls of these im- rtant commodities in the process adjustment of production to orld consumption have produced nancial crises in many countries d have diminished the buying wer of these countries for im- rted goods to a degree which ex- nded the difficulties farther afield creating unemployment in all the dustrial nations. The political itation in Asia; revolutions in outh America and political nrest in some European states; e methods of sale by Russia of r increasing agricultural exports European markets, and our own rought—have all contributed to rolong and deepen the depression.

UNWARRANTED FEAR

In the larger view the major rces of the depression now lie itside of the United States, and our cuperation has been retarded by e unwarranted degree of fear and prehension created by these out- de forces.

The extent of the depression is dicated by the following approxi- ate percentages of activity dur- g the past three months as com- ared with the highly prosperous ear of 1928:

Value of department-store sales, 3 per cent of 1928.

Volume of factory employment, 4 per cent of 1928.

Total of bank deposits, 105 per ent of 1928.

Wholesale prices—all commodities, per cent of 1928.

Cost of living, 94 per cent. of 1928.

Various other indexes indicate otal decrease of activity from 1928 f from 15 to 20 per cent.

PRICES STABLE

There are many factors which give ncouragement for the future. The act that we are holding from 80 to 5 per cent of our normal activi- ies and incomes; that our major nancial and industrial institutions ave come through the storm un- mpaired; that price levels of major ommodities have remained ap- roximately stable for sometime; hat a number of industries are howing signs of increasing de- nand; that the world at large is eadjusting itself to the situation; ll reflect grounds for confidence. We should remember that these oc- asions have been met many times efore, that they are but tempo- ary, that our country is today tronger and richer in resources, in quipment, in skill, than ever in its istory. We are in an extraordinary egree self-sustaining, we will over- ome world influences and will lead he march of prosperity as we have lways done hitherto.

CO-OPERATION URGED

Economic depression can not be ured by legislative action or exec- tive pronouncement. Economic ounds must be healed by the action f the cells of the economic body— he producers and consumers them- elves. Recovery can be expedited nd its effects mitigated by co- perative action. That co-opera- ion requires that every individual hould sustain faith and courage; hat each should maintain his self- eliance; that each and every one hould search for method of im- roving his business or service; that he vast majority whose income is nimpaired should not hoard out of ear but should pursue their normal iving and recreations; that each hould seek to assist his neighbors who way be less fortunate; that ach industry should assist its own mployees; that each community nd each State should assume its ull responsibilities for organiza- ion of employment and relief of istress with that sturdiness and in- ependence which built a great na- ion.

PEOPLE RESPONDING

Our people are responding to these mpulses in remarkable degree.

The best contribution of government lies in encouragement of this voluntary co-operation in the community. The government, national, State and local, can join with the community in such programs and do its part. A year ago I, together with others officers of the government, initiated extensive co-operative measures throughout the country.

The first of these measures was an agreement of leading employers to maintain the standards of wages and of labor leaders to use their influence against strife. In a large sense these undertakings have been adhered to and we have not witnessed the usual reductions of wages which have always heretofore marked depressions. The index of union wage scales shows them to be today fully up to the level of any of the previous three years. In consequence the buying power of the country has been much larger than would otherwise have been the case. Of equal importance the nation has had unusual peace in industry and freedom from the public disorder which has characterized previous depressions.

EXTEND CONSTRUCTION

The second direction of co-operation has been that our governments, national State and local, the industries and business so distribute employment as to give work to the maximum number of employees.

The third direction of co-operation has been to maintain and even extend construction work and betterments in anticipation of the future. It has been the universal experience in previous depressions that public works and private construction have fallen off rapidly with the general tide of depression. On this occasion, however, the increased authorization and generous appropriations by the Congress and the action of States and municipalities have resulted in the expansion of public construction to an amount even above that in the most prosperous years. In addition the co-operation of public utilities, railways and other large organizations has been generously given in construction and betterment work in anticipation of future need. The Department of Commerce advises me that as a result the volume of this type of construction work, which amounted to roughly $6,300,000,000 in 1929, instead of decreasing, will show a total of about $7,000,000,000 for 1930. There has, of course, been a substantial decrease in the types of construction which could not be undertaken in advance of need.

RELIEF OF DISTRESS

The fourth direction of co-operation was the organization in such States and municipalities as was deemed necessary, of committees to organize local employment, to provide for employment agencies, and to effect relief of distress.

The result of magnificent co-operation throughout the country has been that actual suffering has been kept to a minimum during the past twelve months, and our unemployment has been far less in proportion than in other large industrial countries. Some time ago it became evident that unemployment would continue over the winter and would necessarily be added to from seasonal causes and that the savings of work people would be more largely depleted. We have as a nation a definite duty to see that no deserving person in our country suffers from hunger or cold. I, therefore, set up a more extensive organization to stimulate more intensive co-operation throughout the country. There has been a most gratifying degree of response from governors, mayors and other public officials, from welfare organizations and from employers in concerns both large and small. The local communities through their voluntary agencies have assumed the duty of relieving individual distress and are being generously supported by the public.

JOBLESS LISTED

The number of those wholly out of employment seeking for work was accurately determined by the census last April as about 2,500,000. The Department of Labor index of employment in the larger trades shows some decrease in employment since that time. The problem from a relief point of view is somewhat less than the published estimates of the number of unemployed would indicate. The intensive community and individual efforts in providing special employment outside the listed industries are not reflected in the statistical indexes and tend to reduce such published figures. Moreover, there is estimated to be a constant figure at all times of nearly 1,000,000 unemployed who are not without annual income but temporarily idle in the shift from one job to another. We have an average of about three breadwinners to each two families, so that every person unemployed does not represent a family without income. The view that the relief problems are less than the gross numbers would indicate is confirmed by the experience of several cities, which shows that the number of families in distress represents from 10 to 20 per cent of the number of the calculated unemployed. This is not said to minimize the very real problem which exists but to weigh its actual proportions.

FEDERAL PROGRAM

As a contribution to the situation the Federal government is engaged upon the greatest program of waterway, harbor, flood control, public building, highway and airway improvement in all our history. This, together with loans to merchant shipbuilders, improvement of the Navy and in military aviation, and other construction work of the government will exceed $520,000,000 for this fiscal year. This compares with $253,000,000 in the fiscal year 1928. The construction works already authorized and the continuation of policies in government aid will require a continual expenditure upward of $500,000,000 annually.

FAVORS EXPANSION

I favor still further temporary expansion of these activities in aid to unemployment during this winter. The Congress will, however, have presented to it numbers of projects, some of them under the guise of, rather than the reality of, their usefulness in the increase of employment during the depression. There are certain common-sense limitations upon any expansions of construction work. The government must not undertake works that are not of sound economic purpose and that have not been subject to searching, technical, investigation, and which have not been given adequate consideration by the Congress.

MAXIMUM LIMIT

The volume of construction work in the government is already at the maximum limit warranted by financial prudence as a continuing policy. To increase taxation for purposes of construction work defeats its own purpose, as such taxes directly diminish employment in private industry. Again any kind of construction requires, after its authorization, a considerable time before labor can be employed in which to make engineering, architectural, and legal preparations. Our immediate problem is the increase of employment for the next six months, and new plans which do not produce such immediate result or, which extend commitments beyond this period are not warranted.

FASTER THAN PLANNED

The enlarged rivers and harbors, public building, and highway plans authorized by the Congress last session, however, offer an opportunity for assistance by the temporary acceleration of construction of these programs even faster than originally planned, especially if the technical requirements of the laws which entail great delays could be amended in such fashion as to speed up acquirements of land and the letting of contracts.

HUGE FUND ASKED

With view, however, to the possible need for acceleration, we, immediately upon receiving those authorities from the Congress five months ago, began the necessary technical work in preparation for such possible eventuality. I have canvassed the departments of the government as to the maximum amount that can be properly added to our present expenditure to accelerate all construction during the next six months, and I feel warranted in asking the Congress for an appropriation of from $100,000,000 to $150,000,000 to provide such further employment in this emergency. In connection therewith we need some authority to make enlarged temporary advances of Federal-highway aid to the States.

I recommend that this appropriation be made distributable to the different departments upon recommendation of a committee of the Cabinet and approval by the President. Its application to works already authorized by the Congress assures its use in directions of economic importance and to public welfare. Such action will imply an expenditure upon construction of all kinds of over $650,000,000 during the next twelve months.

AGRICULTURE

The world-wide depression has affected agriculture in common with all other industries. The average price of farm produce has fallen to about 80 per cent of the levels of 1928. This average is, however, greatly affected by wheat and cotton, which have participated in world-wide overproduction and have fallen to about 60 per cent of the average price of the year 1928. Excluding these commodities, the prices of all other agricultural products are about 84 per cent of those of 1928. The average wholesale prices of other primary goods, such as nonferrous metals, have fallen to 76 per cent of 1928.

The price levels of our major agricultural commodities are, in fact, higher than those in other principal producing countries, due to the combined result of the tariff and the operations of the Farm Board. For instance, wheat prices at Minneapolis are about 30 per cent higher than at Winnipeg, and at Chicago they are about 20 per cent higher than at Buenos Aires. Corn prices at Chicago are over twice as high as at Buenos Aires. Wool prices average more than 80 per cent higher in this country than abroad, and butter is 30 per cent higher in New York City than in Copenhagen.

DROUGHT HARMFUL

Aside from the misfortune to agriculture of the world-wide depression we have had the most severe drought. It has affected particularly the States bordering on the Potomac, Ohio and Lower Mississippi rivers, with some areas in Montana, Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas. It has found its major expression in the shortage of pasturage and a shrinkage in the corn crop from an average of about 2,800,000,000 bushels to about 2,090,000,000 bushels.

On August 14 I called a conference of the governors of the most acutely affected States, and as a result of its conclusions I appointed a national committee comprising the heads of the important Federal agencies under the chairmanship of the Secretary of Agriculture.

RAIL RATES CUT

The governors in turn have appointed State committees representative of the farmers, bankers, business men and the Red Cross, and subsidiary committees have been established in most of the acutely affected counties. Railway rates were reduced on feed and live stock in and out of the drought areas, and over 50,000 cars of such products have been transported under these reduced rates. The Red Cross established a preliminary fund of $5,000,000 for distress relief purposes, and established agencies for its administration in each county. Of this fund less than $500,000 has been called for up to this time as the neew will appear more largely during the winter. The Federal Farm Loan Bard has extended its credit facilities, and the Federal Farm Board has given financial assistance to all affected co-operatives.

APPROPRIATION URGED

In order that the government may meet its full obligation toward our countrymen in distress through no fault of their own, I recommend that an appropriation should be made to the Department of Agriculture to be loaned for the purpose of seed and feed for animals. Its application should as hitherto in such loans be limited to a gross amount to any one individual and secured upon the crop.

The Red Cross can relieve the cases of individual distress by the sympathetic assistance of our people.

FINANCES

I shall submit the detailed financial position of the government with recommendations in the usual budget message. I will at this time, however, mention that the budget estimates of receipts and expenditures for the current year were formulated by the Treasury and the Budget Bureau at a time when it was impossible to forecast the severity of the business depression and have been most seriously affected by it. At that time a surplus of about $123,000,000 was estimated for this fiscal year and tax reduction which affected the fiscal year to the extent of $75,000,000 was authorized by the Congress, thus reducing the estimated surplus to about $48,000,000. Closely revised estimates now made by the Treasury and the Bureau of the Budget of the tax, postal and other receipts for the current fiscal year indicate a decrease of about $430,000,000 from the estimate of a year ago, of which about $75,000,000 is due to tax reduction, leaving about $355,000,000 due to the depression. Moreover, legislation enacted by Congress subsequent to the submission of the budget enlarging Federal construction work to expand employment and for increase in veterans' services and other items, have increased expenditures during the current fiscal year by about $225,000,000.

WOULD PAY DEBT

Thus the decrease of $430,000,00 in revenue and the increase of $225,000,000 in expenditure adversely change the original budget situation by about $655,000,000. This large sum is offset by the original estimated surplus a year ago of about $123,000,000, by the application of $185,000,000 of interest payments upon the foreign debt to current expenditures, by arrangements of the Farm Board through repayments, etc., in consequence of which they reduced their net hash demands upon the Treasury by $100,000,000 in this period, and by about $67,000,000 economies and deferments brought about in the government, thus reducing the practical effect of the change in the situation to an estimated deficit of about $180,000,000 for the present fiscal year. I shall make suggestions for handling the present year deficit in the budget message, but I do not favor encroachment upon the statutory reduction of the public debt.

ECONOMY NECESSARY

While it will be necessary in public interest to further increase expenditures during the current fiscal year in aid to unemployment by speeding up construction work and aid to farmers affected by the drought. I cannot emphasize too strongly the absolute necessity to defer any other plans for increase of government expenditures. The budget for 1932 fiscal year indicates estimated expenditures of about $4,054,000,000, including postal deficit. The receipts are estimated at about $4,085,000,000 if the temporary tax reduction of last year be discontinued, leaving a surplus of only about $30,000,000. Most rigid economy is, therefore, necessary to avoid increase in taxes.

NATIONAL DEFENSE

Our Army and Navy are being maintained at a high state of efficiency, under officers of high training and intelligence, supported by a devoted personnel of the rank and file. The London naval treaty has brought important economies in the conduct of the Navy. The Navy Department will lay before the committees of the Congress recommendations for a program of authorization of new construction which should be initiated in the fiscal year of 1932.

LEGISLATION

This is the last session of the Seventy-first Congress. During its previous sittings it has completed a very large amount of important legislation, notably: The establishment of the Federal Farm Board, fixing Congressional reapportionment, revision of the tariff, including the flexible provisions and a reorganization of the Tariff Commission; reorganization of the Radio Commission, reorganization of the Federal Power Commission, expansion of Federal prisons, reorganization of parole and probation system in Federal prisons, expansion of veterans' hospitals, establishment of disability allowances to veterans, consolidation of veteran activities, consolidation and strengthening of prohibition enforcement activities in the Department of Justice, organization of a Narcotics Bureau, large expansion of rivers and harbors improvements, substantial increase in Federal highways, enlargement of public buildings construction program, and the ratification of the London naval treaty.

ACTION REQUESTED

The Congress has before it legislation partially completed in the last sitting in respect to Muscle Shoals, bus regulation, relief of congestion in the courts, reorganization of border patrol in prevention of smuggling, law enforcement in the District of Columbia and other subjects.

It is desirable that these measures should be completed.

The short session does not permit of extensive legislative programs, but there are a number of questions which, if time does not permit action, I recommend should be placed in consideration by the Congress, perhaps through committees co-operating in some instances with the Federal departments, with view to preparation for subsequent action. Among them are the following subjects:

ELECTRICAL POWER

I have in a previous message recommended effective regulation of interstate electrical power. Such regulation should preserve the independence and responsibility of the States.

RAILWAYS

We have determined upon a national policy of consolidation of the railways as a necessity of more stable and more economically operated transportation. Further legislation is necessary to facilitate such consolidation. In the public interest we should strengthen the railways that they may meet our future needs.

ANTITRUST LAWS

I recommend that the Congress institute an inquiry into some aspects of the economic working of these laws. I do not favor repeal of the Sherman Act. The prevention of monopolies is of most vital public importance. Competition is not only the basis of protection to the consumer but is the incentive to progress. However, the interpretation of these laws by the courts, the changes in business, especially in the economic effects upon those enterprises closely related to the use of the natural resources of the country, make such an inquiry advisable. The producers of these materials assert that certain unfortunate results of wasteful and destructive use of these natural resources together with a destructive competition which impoverishes both operator and worker cannot be remedied because of the prohibitive interpretation of the antitrust laws.

SUGGESTS INQUIRY

The well-known condition of the bituminous coal industry is an illustration. The people have a vital interest in the conservation of their natural resources; in the prevention of wasteful practices; in conditions of destructive competition which may impoverish the producer and the wage earner; and they have an equal interest in maintaining adequate competition. I therefore, suggest that an inquiry be directed especially to the effect of the workings of the antitrust laws in these particular fields to determine if these evils can be remedied without sacrifice of the fundamental purpose of these laws.

CAPITAL-GAINS TAX

It is urged by many thoughtful citizens that the peculiar economic effect of the income tax on so-called capital gains at the present rate is to enhance speculative inflation and likewise impede business recovery. I believe this to be the case and I recommend that a study be made of the economic effects of this tax and of its relation to the general structure of our income tax law.

IMMIGRATION

There is need for revision of our immigration laws upon a more limited and more selective basis, flexible to the needs of the country. Under conditions of current unemployment it is obvious that persons coming to the United States seeking work would likely become either a direct or indirect public charge. As a temporary measure the officers issuing visas to immigrants have been, in pursuance of the law, instructed to refuse visas to applicants likely to fall into this class. As a result the visas issued have decreased from an average of about 24,000 per month prior to restrictions to a rate of about 7000 during the last month. These are largely preferred persons under the law. Visas from Mexico are about 250 per month compared to about 4000 previous to restrictions. The whole subject requires exhaustive reconsideration.

DEPORTATION OF ALIEN CRIMINALS

I urge the strengthening of our deportation laws so as to more fully rid ourselves of criminal aliens. Furthermore, thousands of persons have entered the country in violation of the immigration laws. The very method of their entry indicates their objectionable character, and our law-abiding foreign-born residents suffer in consequence. I recommend that the Congress provide methods of strengthening the government to correct this abuse.

POSTOFFICE

Due to deferment of government building over many years, previous administrations had been compelled to enter upon types of leases for secondary facilities in large cities, some of which were objectionable as representing too high a return upon the value of the property. To prevent the occasion for further uneconomic leasing I recommend that the Congress authorize the building by the government of its own facilities.

VETERANS

The nation has generously expanded its care for veterans. The consolidation of all veterans' activities into the Veterans' Administration has produced substantial administrative economies. The consolidation also brings emphasis to the inequalities in service and allowances. The whole subject is under study by the administrator, and I recommend it should also be examined by the committees of the Congress.

SOCIAL SERVICE

I urge further consideration by the Congress of the recommendations I made a year ago looking to the development through temporary Federal aid of adequate State and local services for the health of children and the further stamping out of communicable disease, particularly in the rural sections. The advance of scientific discovery, methods, and social thought imposes a new vision in these matters. The drain upon the Federal Treasury is comparatively small. The results both economic and moral are of the utmost importance.

GENERAL

It is my belief that after the passing of this depression, when we can examine it in retrospect, we shall need to consider a number of other questions as to what action may be taken by the government to remove possible governmental influences which make for instability and to better organize mitigation of the effect of depression. It is as yet too soon to constructively formulate such measures.

There are many administrative subjects, such as departmental reorganization, extension of the civil service, readjustment of the postal rates, etc., which at some appropriate time require the attention of the Congress.

FOREIGN RELATIONS

Our relations with foreign countries have been maintained upon a high basis of cordiality and good will.

During the past year the London naval pact was completed, approved by the Senate, and ratified by the governments concerned. By this treaty we have abolished competition in the building of warships, have established the basis of parity of the United States with the strongest of foreign powers, and have accomplished a substantial reduction in war vessels.

During the year there has been an extended political unrest in the world. Asia continues in disturbed condition, and revolutions have taken place in Brazil, Argentina, Peru and Bolivia. Despite the jeopardy to our citizens and their property which naturally arises in such circumstances, we have, with the co-operation of the governments concerned, been able to meet all such instances without friction.

TIES RESUMED

We have resumed normal relations with the new governments of Brazil, Argentina, Peru and Bolivia immediately upon evidence that they were able to give protection to our citizens and their property, and that they recognized their international obligations.

A commission which was supported by the Congress has completed its investigation and reported upon our future policies in respect to Haiti and proved of high value in securing the acceptance of these policies. An election has been held and a new government established. We have replaced our high commissioner by a minister and have begun the gradual withdrawal of our activities with view to complete retirement at the expiration of the present treaty in 1935.

MESSAGE ON COURT

A number of arbitration and conciliation treaties have been completed or negotiated during the year, and will be presented for approval by the Senate.

I shall, in a special message, lay before the Senate the protocols covering the statutes of the World Court which have been revised to accord with the sense of previous Senate reservations.

HIGHLIGHTS OF MESSAGE PRESENTED BY PRESIDENT

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2. (AP)—Here are some pointed sentences from President Hoover's message today to Congress:

"Economic depression cannot be cured by legislative action or executive pronouncement. Economic wounds must be healed by the action of the cells of the economic body—the producers and consumers themselves."

"Some time ago it became evident that unemployment would continue over the winter. . . . We have as a nation a definite duty that no deserving person in our country suffers from hunger or cold."

"To increase taxation for purposes of construction work defeats its own purpose as such taxes directly diminish employment for the next six months."

"As a contribution to the situation, the Federal government is engaged upon the greatest program of waterway, harbor, flood control, public building, highway and airway improvement in all our history. This, together with loans to merchant shipbuilders, improvement of the Navy and in military aviation, and other construction work of the government will exceed $520,000,000 for this fiscal year."

"Our immediate problem is the increase of employment for the next six months, and new plans which do not produce such immediate result or which extend commitments beyond this period are not warranted."

"I urge the strengthening of our deportation laws so as to more fully rid ourselves of criminal aliens."

"The political agitation in Asia; revolutions in South America and political unrest in some European states; the methods of sale by Russia of her increasing agricultural exports to European markets, and our own drought—have all contributed to prolong and deepen the depression.

"In the larger view the major forces of the depression now lie outside of the United States, and our recuperation has been retarded by the unwarranted degree of fear and apprehension created by these outside forces."

INCREASE IN DEFICIT REVEALED

Government Closes First Five Months of Its Year $299,428,000 "in Red"

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2. (AP)—The government finished the first five months of the 1931 fiscal year Sunday with a deficit of $299,428,000, approximately $91,000,000 more than the deficit for the same period a year ago.

The Treasury's daily statement today showed the government had collected $1,137,115,000 in the five months and had spent $1,436,543,000. Both receipts and expenditures were less than for the same period of the previous year.

Receipts over the period were $197,482,000 less than collected in the 1930 year. Customs receipts, income tax and miscellaneous taxes showed decreases.

Customs receipts declined $92,000,000 to $170,621,661, income taxes dropped $58,000,000 to $610,485,785, while miscellaneous taxes fell off $18,000,000 to $249,997,000 with lesser decreases in other income.

General expenditures for the five months totaled $976,749,941, an increase of $60,000,000 over the same period a year ago. Total ordinary expenditures amounted to $1,371,454,076 this year compared with $1,297,878,961 last year.

CHINESE LEVY SHIP TAX

CHUNGKING (Szechwan Province, China) Dec. 2. (AP)—Commercial shipping in the upper Yangtze River suffered additional reverses today when provincial war lords here levied a tax of $80 Mexican upon every commercial vessel calling at Chungking.

OF EXPENDITURE

Hoover recommended that be made distributable upon recommendation of a Cabinet committee approved by the President. With that amount available the President said it would be possible to expend a total of $650,000,000 upon construction of all kinds in the next twelve months. He also urged additional Federal aid in highway building.

Most of the criticism of the message heard in Congressional lobbies was directed to the request for this large appropriation. Numerous Republicans joined the Democrats in the comment that the executive should not be given so large a sum with no strings tied to it.

The President's consideration of the current period of hard times was confined to measures of first-aid treatment. The broader question of the removal of the causes of the recurrent economic depression would best be considered, in his opinion, "after the passing of this depression when we can examine it in retrospect."

PROSPERITY HARBINGERS

After citing the last year's business depression, the President said:

"There are many factors which give encouragement for the future. The fact that we are holding from 80 to 85 per cent of our normal activities and incomes; that our major financial and industrial institutions have come through the storm unimpaired; that price levels of major commodities have remained approximately stable for some time; that a number of industries are showing signs of increasing demand; that the world at large is readjusting itself to the situation; all reflect grounds for confidence."

"We should remember that these occasions have been met many times before, that they are but temporary, that our country is today stronger and richer in resources, in equipment, in skill, than ever in its history. We are in an extraordinary degree self-sustaining, we will overcome world influences and will lead the march of prosperity as we have always done hitherto."

Congress Rushes to Shut Doors on Immigration

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2. (AP)—Immediate steps were taken today to carry out President Hoover's suggestion for more rigid restriction of immigration as an unemployment relief measure.

Chairman Johnson of the House Immigration Committee called his group to meet Thursday to consider legislation to stop the influx of foreign labor.

Meanwhile, Senator Reed, Republican, Pennsylvania, has sponsored a bill to suspend all immigration with the exception of close relatives for two years.

Another proposal is a bill by Representative Cable, Republican, Ohio, a member of the Immigration Committee, to exclude all laborers until the Secretary of Labor decides they are needed.

Morrow Enters Senate Today

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2. (AP)—Dwight W. Morrow came to Washington today to take his seat in the Senate as a member from New Jersey.

He will present himself for the oath of office tomorrow.

Morrow takes the place of Senator Baird in completing the unexpired term of Walter E. Edge, Ambassador to France. On next March 4, he begins a six-year term of his own.

CONTRACT AWARDED

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2. (AP)—Workmen's tools will swing into action within thirty days on a $5,270,000 addition to the House Office Building. The contract was awarded today.

CONGRESS FLIES TO RELIEF WORK FOR UNEMPLOYED AS CRIES FOR HELP RING THROUGHOUT SENATE HALL

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2. (AP)—Congress went to work today with its attention centered on unemployment and drought relief after pausing to hear President Hoover's views outlined in his annual message.

Republicans and Democrats heaped varied forms of relief remedies into the legislative funnel and tonight the committee chairmen were calling meetings for later in the week to organize a definite program for handling them.

In his message President Hoover asked for $100,000,000 to $150,000,000 to accelerate construction for employment relief, and a fund for seed and feed loans for farmers whose crops dried up.

Relief plans made up a large portion of the legislative proposals in the Senate, where introduction of bills was in order for the first time.

INTRODUCE 322 BILLS

Senators introduced 322 bills and a dozen resolutions, touching on subjects ranging from prohibition to bridges and private relief measures.

The President's message hardly had been read before Senator Glenn, Republican, Illinois, introduced a bill to carry out his recommendations for an emergency unemployment relief fund of $150,000,000 to speed up public construction.

The money would be spent on public works already authorized under the direction of a Cabinet committee appointed by the President.

Bills by Chairman Keyes of the Senate Public Buildings Committee and Chairman Elliott, of the similar House committee, would allow the Treasury to award contracts for public buildings without competitive bidding in the interest of speed. They also would authorize the employment of private technical experts to speed up plans.

Senator Brookhart, Republican, Iowa, proposed to increase appropriations for roads from $125,000,000 to $500,000,000 annually during 1932 and 1933.

DISPOSITION OF WHEAT

Three Senators, Robinson, Democrat, Arkansas; Caraway, Democrat, Arkansas, and McNary, Republican, Oregon, presented bills to authorize $60,000,000 for seed and feed loans. President Hoover proposed such a fund, but did not suggest the amount.

Robinson's bill would authorize the President to distribute the entire 100,000,000 bushels of wheat now held by subsidiaries of the Farm Board to drought sufferers. Senator Capper, Republican, Kansas, introduced another bill to authorize the use of 40,000,000 bushels of this wheat for relief.

Senator Jones, Republican, Washington, offered a bill to appropriate $1,000,000 for seed and feed loans in his own State and Senator King, Democrat, Utah, proposed to increase road appropriations in national parks from $5,000,000 to $7,500,000 annually.

In the House, Representative McKeon, Democrat, Oklahoma, introduced a bill to suspend for twelve months all foreclousure proceedings by the Federal land banks in drought areas.

OTHER PROPOSALS

Among the general legislative proposals offered in the Senate were:

Oddie, Republican, Nevada, to declare an embargo against importations from soviet Russia.

Bingham, Republican, Connecticut, to authorize the sale of 4 per cent beer and to allow physicians to prescribe malt liquors for medicinal purposes.

Thomas, Republican, Idaho, to create a commission to study the government's Indian policy.

Blaine, Republican, Wisconsin, to create a Federal industrial commission to stabilize employment in agriculture and commerce.

Smoot, Republican, Utah, to authorize naming the first Federal narcotic farm at Lexington, Ky., after the late Representative Stephen G. Porter of Pennsylvania, author of the bill creating it.

Johnson Assails Court Injection

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2. (AP)—The injection of the World Court into this session of the Senate by President Hoover was assailed today by Senator Johnson of California, ranking Republican on the Foreign Relations Committee.

Johnson, a foe of American participation in the Court, termed the action "an attempt to drag a red herring across the legislative trail."

OXNARD FETE SPECTACULAR

Christmas-Season Opening Dazzling Success

Kiddies' Parade Feature of Evening Celebration

More Than 5000 in Throng Admiring Decorations

OXNARD, Dec. 2. — With streets in the business section thronged with a crowd estimated at more than 5000 people, lined ten deep in places, blocking traffic, perched on automobile tops, in window sills, on poles, and other places of vantage, Oxnard's formal Christmas-season opening and kiddies' parade last night, was acclaimed one of the most spectacular celebrations ever witnessed in this city.

At 7 p.m., as whistles shrieked, bells sounded and a huge bomb was set off, James Cerny, chairman of the merchants' committee of the Oxnard Chamber of Commerce, sponsors of the event, pulled the huge switch which energized more than 3000 feet of wire and 1500 glittering colored electric lights strung from atop a sixty-five-foot telephone pole in the Plaza Park, and from light post to light post along Fifth street for three blocks.

Shop windows all along the streets were unveiled simultaneously revealing especially trimmed windows filled with Christmas merchandise. The entire effect completely surprised and pleased the thousands of spectators. No stores were open, however, the entire affair being in the nature of a party for the children and a preview of Christmas season.

KIDDIES IN PARADE

At 7:30 p.m. the kiddies' parade formed in the Plaza. Headed by the Boy Scouts in uniform, the Oxnard High School Band and Santa Claus himself in a huge sleigh with eight reindeer, the tots ranging from 3 to 10 years, marched down Fifth street. So thick were the spectators that it was barely possible to open a way for the procession to pass.

Children representing fairy tales, national holidays, famous motion-picture stars, national characters, children with miniature floats, decorated bicycles, pets of all kinds and what-not, comprised the line that extended more than two blocks in length. Two little fellows with a horse and old-time buggy, representing an old couple from the farm, with dogs and chickens, caused considerable humor as they completed the procession.

Thirty winners were selected and awarded silver loving cups. Bags of candy and other little gifts were given to the kiddies by Santa Claus at the conclusion.

After further music the crowds dispersed and milled about the streets "window shopping." The entire affair was considered one of the most successful ever conducted here. So popular did it go over that a similar event is tentatively planned for Saturday night, the 20th inst., with something thrown in for participation by adults.

Oxnard's Christmas decorations, which were in place for last night's pageant, cover eight or ten blocks. In addition to the strings of colored lights there is a Christmas tree effect in the Plaza which extends nearly seventy feet into the air with lights coming down in all directions. Above this is a completely illuminated tree ten feet in height, which can be seen for a great distance. The lamp posts are adorned with palm leaves painted in silver and topped with a head of Santa Claus whose beard extends eight feet to the sidewalk. Bells and wreaths are suspended across the main streets.

Decorating, construction of Christmas Village and Santa Claus's sleigh, including the pageant, were all under the direction of the Elwood Dillon Production Company, which was under contract to the Chamber of Commerce for the celebration.

CHRISTMAS PREVIEW IN WHITTIER BRINGS THRONG

WHITTIER, Dec. 2. — The Christmas holiday season was forecast here tonight when the principal business houses gave an all-star preview showing of suitable Christmas gifts. No goods were sold, but the stores maintained a complete sales force to explain and to show goods.

From 7 until 9 p.m. the streets of the business district and the business houses were thronged with people, eager to see the great Christmas offerings.

The merchants of the city have co-operated with the merchants' committee of the Chamber of Commerce in putting on the big party. Frank Anderson is chairman of the merchants' committee, and Burl G. Martin is secretary of the chamber.

Street decorations are to be put in place Thursday, the 11th inst., and are to be maintained until Friday, January 2, next. One hundred ten-foot cedar trees are to adorn the streets and at night will be gayly illuminated with varicolored electric lights. At the intersection of Greenleaf avenue and Philadelphia street, which is practically the business center of the town, a forty-five-foot Christmas tree will be erected. A loud speaker will broadcast Christmas carols every evening from 5 to 6 o'clock, during the holiday season.

WOMAN FINED FOR THEFTS AT ONTARIO

ONTARIO, Dec. 2.—Arrested on two charges of petty theft and one of short changing, Mrs. Sally Kelly, alias Edith Smith, of San Francisco, was fined $100 for stealing and will later have a hearing on the short-changing. Ulric Bortisser, manager of a local grocery chain store, signed the complaint for her arrest for short-changing. Mrs. Kelly entered plea of not guilty to the charge and Judge George R. Holbrook said he would soon set the date for trial. She was accused of taking small articles from Fallis Brothers Department Store, for which Judge Holbrook fined Mrs. [illegible] $100.

GIRL VICTIM IN STABBING; LOVER HELD

Felipe Cobarrybias Jailed Charged With Wounding of Elena Yesiz in Tia Juana

TIA JUANA, Dec. 2.—Elena Yesiz, 23 years of age, lies seriously wounded in the Civil and Military Hospital today, after having been stabbed last night by a jealous lover at Second and F streets. Her asserted assailant, Felipe Cobarrybias, 25, was arrested by Motorcycle Officer Joaquin Bectia, and is being held in jail pending outcome of the girl's wounds.

The affray occurred on the sidewalk in full view of a number of tourists and townspeople.

Cobarrybias, according to police, suddenly whipped out a large knife, slashed the girl on the neck and chest, then threw the knife away and tried to escape.

A crowd of eyewitnesses pursued him, but he was taken into custody by Officer Bectia.

The girl's condition was reported critical today.

Man Wounded by Police Files Damage Action

BRAWLEY, Dec. 2.—Asserting that he had been permanently crippled as the result of being shot in the thigh by policemen conducting a raid last June 29, William Palmer late yesterday filed suit against the city of Brawley and individual members of the City Council and police force for $100,000 damages.

In his complaint, filed by Attorney Fred H. Thompson of this city, Palmer stated that he was confined to the County Hospital for three months as a result of the injury, which, he declared, was not justified.

According to Police Officers E. J. Morrisette and George Morris, who were named in the complaint, Palmer ran away when they attempted to arrest a party of men whom they suspected of gambling in a private residence. The officers assert that they shot toward the ground to frighten the man, and expressed the opinion that one of the bullets had ricocheted and inflicted the wound.

Inquest Names Sutherland in Meeks Murder

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Dec. 2.—"A gunshot wound in the head from the gun in the hands of Albert Sutherland with homicidal intent," was the verdict returned by Coroner Charles D. Brown's jury at the inquest held into the death of Burt Meeks, held inthe Dixon mortuary here this morning.

Officials of the District Attorney's office attending the inquest stated this morning that murder charges would probably be filed against Sutherland.

Meeks died in the Orange County Hospital about three hours after one side of his head had been torn away by the discharge of the double-barreled shotgun. The shooting occurred at the home of the Sutherlands on Huntington Beach Boulevard late Sunday night.

Dr. Elizabeth Tock, Orange county autopsy surgeon, testified that Meeks died from a fractured skull and hemorrhage of the brain.

TORRANCE INVITES TO "GAY NINETIES" PARTY

TORRANCE, Dec. 2.—A "Gay Nineties" community party and carnival next Saturday night will formally open the pre-Christmas festival here. The party, arranged by the retail merchants, service clubs and the Chamber of Commerce, is a part of the local plan to make this year a "real old-fashioned Christmas" and valuable prizes are being offered for costumes and tableaux. Street decorations, mingled with those of the conventional Christmas season will hark back to the old days, and entertainment and a special orchestra have been secured for the street dance. Merchants have been asked to deck their windows in gifts of by-gone years as well as the ones that appeal to modern tastes and the big live Christmas tree in the public square will be lighted. The festival will continue until Christmas Eve, when the annual community party and Christmas tree, sponsored by the Volunteer Firemen, will take place.

COMMITTEE TO MEET

VAN NUYS, Dec. 2.—Members of the Republican County Central Committee will meet here Thursday evening at 6:30 o'clock at the Allington Cafe, with Mrs. Sarah Kellogg, representative to the State Assembly from this district, as honor guest. C. Newell Carns of North Hollywood, chairman, will preside.

DOG LEAVES HIS TEETH IN MAN

Stray Canine Bites Crown City Man in Arm; Two Molars Remain

PASADENA, Dec. 2.—Man-biting dogs and dog-biting men have resulted in many trite journalistic comments, so to change the monotony it might be said that when a dog bites a man so hard that his teeth drop out it must be a mistake.

Petitions for Referendums at Hawthorne

HAWTHORNE, Dec. 2.—After a several months' lull following the last election, this city has again become the "city of petitions," and a paper said to bear the required number of signatures and asking a referendum election to decide the marathon dance ordinance, is now in the hands of City Clerk S. V. Fraser. Another petition, asking a similar election on the Southern California Edison Company fifty-year franchise which was granted by the City Council a few weeks ago, is being actively circulated.

The petition on the marathon dance will require an immediate election, city officials say, and in the meantime, preparations for the opening of the marathon dance in the Centinela Building have been announced. Filing of the petition, according to the dance sponsors, nullifies the city ordinance prohibiting the dance, until such time as it may be upheld by an election.

Opposition to the Edison franchise is based on the contention that the fifty-year time of the grant is too long and the 2 per cent revenue too small.

Petitions Denied on Technicality

MONROVIA, Dec. 2.—Petitions submitted by property owners requesting that Foothill Boulevard between Mayflower and Fifth avenue, be paved with asphaltic concrete instead of cement pavement, as preferred in their original petition to the City Council a year ago, was not accepted last night by the Council, due to a legal technicality in the procedure.

Shortly over a year ago, the Council passed an ordinance whereby persons seeking petitions must first obtain their application from that body, before the petitions are placed in circulation.

Council held last night that application to circulate the petition had not been sought or granted by them, and they refused to accept the petitions for a change of pavement.

BURBANK POST GETS MORE RELICS OF WAR

BURBANK, Dec. 2.—New "specimens" have arrived at the post headquarters museum of the Burbank American Legion on Angeleno avenue. They were sent from the Raritan Arsenal, at Metuchen, N. J., the shipment coming via the Panama Canal. Among the relics of the late World War are a dozen "Gott Mit Uns" German belts; six German bayonets, two German machine guns of 1908 and 1915 pattern, three German Mauser magazine rifles of 1898 pattern, three Maunhacen magazine rifles used by Germany in 1888, and two Mauser single-shot rifles used by German infantry in 1871. After the relics have been cleaned and brightened the public will be invited to the museum.

MOTORIST HITS BOY AND FACES CHARGES

CUCAMONGA, Dec. 2.—Robert Cecil Daiken, 222 South San Antonio avenue, Ontario, will appear in local court within the near future to answer to a charge of reckless driving, preferred against him after Daiken is said to have struck Aurelia Vasquez, 3-year-old Guasti boy, with his automobile. The boy is said to have been walking on the highway. Daiken told police he swerved his car, hoping to miss the boy. The rear of the car struck the youngster and knocked him down. At San Antonio Community Hospital an X-ray examination disclosed two fractures of the left leg just above the little boy's ankle. Deputy Sheriff Jack Brown of Cucamonga ordered Daiken into court.

BANDITS ROB GAS STATION

Two Youths Hold Up O. J. Ferguson, Proprietor of Pomona Establishment at Point of Gun

POMONA, Dec. 2.—Police in this and near-by cities, were today searching for two youths, about 22 years of age, who last night held up the Mission service station, at Holt and San Antonio avenues, and forced the proprietor, O. J. Ferguson, to hand over all the currency in the cash register, amounting to $30.

The bandits first entered the station and asked for a package of cigarettes, according to Ferguson, and when he reached for the article, an old-fashioned revolver was leveled at him and he was forced to open the cash register and hand over the contents.

Warning him not to make any move, the pair ran to an alley, and apparently made their escape on foot. A search by police failed of results, and armed with a meager description, they were apparently at a loss to identify the suspects.

CITRUS MEN IN SESSION

Dana King Tells Orange County Exchange Officials of Florida Plan to Market Valencia Juice

SANTA ANA, Dec. 2.—More than 100 packing association managers, directors and officials of the Orange County Fruit Exchange, who gathered for their semiannual banquet at the Legion Hall here last night, listened to inspiring talks on the citrus industry by Paul G. Armstrong, assistant general manager of the California Fruit Growers' Exchange, Dana C. King, Orange sales manager, and H. M. Wahlberg, county farm adviser. The meeting, which was presided over by Willard Smith, president of the County Fruit Exchange Board, opened with a turkey dinner served by the Legion auxiliary.

Reviewing observations taken on his recent trip to Florida, King told of efforts being made in that State to extend the Valencia season into the summer months, through the development of frozen orange juice which would be placed on the market in competition with California Valencias. He said that a contract for handling 1,000,000 gallons of frozen juice had been made with one of the largest dairy distributing companies in that State, for distribution to the trade in waxed containers. The idea behind the move, said King, is to extend, if possible, the Florida Valencia season into the summer, the peak season for orange juice consumption.

Pointing out that one box of Florida oranges will make four gallons of juice, King said the single contract calls for use of 250,000 boxes of oranges. He described Florida orange juice as being inferior to the California product, it being of an incipient watery quality and lacking the deep rich color of California juice. Because the Florida Valencia season extends from October to the forepart of June, only California navels have been affected to any extent by competition from the Everglade State, he added.

King said that the Florida Valencia is at its best in March after which it is inclined to become woody. Florida uses larger boxes, weighing ninety pounds and, as a consequence, their 216's are the same as California's 200's as to size. The returns from the Florida crop the past year totaled $50,000,000, as compared with $135,000,000 returned by the California crop.

King said he was impressed by the vast amount of land available for planting. The prices are ridiculously low, he said, with land being available at $50 an acre. He estimated it would require another $50 an acre to clear the land. Nursery stock costs half of what it does here, while labor is comparatively cheap and little expense is entailed for irrigation, due to swampy conditions.

Commenting on the thrifty condition of the trees, King said that the Mediterranean fruit fly had served to weld the Florida growers together in a co-operative spirit, something that had been lacking in the past.

PLAYERS IN OPENING OF NEW HOME

Claremont Community Group Initiates Little Theater in Padua Hills

CLAREMONT, Dec. 2.—Before an audience of 300 Southern California notables and Claremont townspeople, the Claremont Community Players presented "The Royal Family," clever comedy by Edna Ferber and George Kauffman, last evening as the first production of a five-night run, and initiated their new home, the Little Theater in Padua Hills.

The opening night was a colorful one with prominent leaders in the Little Theater movement of Southern California much in evidence. A group of editors and publishers of Southern California newspapers, with their wives, were guests of Padua Hills, Inc., at dinner preceding the play and of the Community Players at the production.

The beautiful theater and dining-room was completed last week by local contractors and is located in an olive grove at the mouth of Palmer Canyon, overlooking the Pomona Valley. The dining-room especially pleased the many visitors at the opening. Mexican girls dressed in costumes brought from Padua in Italy waited on the guests.

All of the first-night visitors were unanimous in their praise of the theater as well as the production itself. The lighting effects, the luxurious set, and the splendid acting of the all-amateur cast, brought many compliments.

James Blaisdell directed "The Royal Family" and played one of the leading roles, that of Anthony Cavendish. Miss Louise Hawkes played the part of Julie Cavendish, Mrs. Lee Mahoney appeared as Fannie Cavendish, Anne Longenotti played the role of Gwen Cavendish, Herbert Dean was portrayed by Fredric Graesser; his wife, Kitty LeMoyne, by Mrs. Alice Bebbs, Oscar Wolfe by E. Percy Johnson, McDermott by Roy Hendrick, Gil Marshall by P. W. Furlong and Perry Stewart by Leon Scales. The part of Jo was taken by Ralph Tracy, Della by Ruth Eames, the nurse by Velma Leacock and Gunga by Cliff Johnson.

Two Cars, House and Phone Pole Figure in Crash

ONTARIO, Dec. 2.—Two automobiles and one house, one telephone pole and several persons, had parts to play in an automobile crash near Sultana avenue and D street, that caused considerable excitement and no injuries.

The two large sedans in the crash were driven by women, Mrs. Dan Phillips of Cucamonga, and Miss Lucille Kimball, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Kimball, 728 East G street.

Mrs. Phillips was driving west on D street. She collided with the car driven by Miss Kimball. Mrs. Phillips's car turned completely around, and smashed into a telephone pole. All the glassware in the car was broken and most of the top was torn off.

Miss Kimball's sedan veered to the west and almost struck the same telephone pole. However, it missed, and crossed the lawn at the C. B. Mabie home, 428 West D street, and crashed into the front of the house, tearing out about five feet of brick foundation, and splintered much of the framework of the house.

The automobiles did not overturn, but wrecking crews found it necessary to use all their equipment in moving the sedans.

Members of the Mabie household were thrown into a small panic when the car crashed into the house. Neither of the women drivers received severe injury.

FOUR OUT OF FIVE INJURED IN CRASH

UPLAND, Dec. 2.—Four of five persons involved in an automobile crash on Foothill Boulevard near Archibald avenue, needed hospital attention. They were Jose Plias, 521 Grove street, Ontario; Philip Bianco, Alexander Bianco, Angli Albini, all of Guasti. The car in which they were riding crashed with one driven by C. R. Collins, 2096 Mountain avenue. The automobile driven by Plias turned over and burst into flames, but was extinguished by a traffic officer before it was completely destroyed. Plias was severely injured and was taken to San Antonio Hospital.

WRECKAGE NOT THAT OF MISSING FIDELITY

HERMOSA BEACH, Dec. 2.—Portions of the deck of a craft washed ashore here, were believed by some to be part of the fishing boat Fidelity, missing from San Pedro for several weeks, until Coast Guardsmen who examined the wreckage found it to be from a much larger boat than the Fidelity. It may have floated a long way, it is said. Planking and beams appear to be from a large vessel and in two places marks of fire are plainly discernible. There are no identification marks on any of the wreckage.

Work Starts on Enlarging Lake at Chatsworth

CHATSWORTH, Dec. 2.—Construction work is to start tomorrow on the new high dams for Chatsworth Lake, one of the Los Angeles city reservoirs, it is given out today by Water Department employees. A $25,000 electric shovel is at hand and pumps have been at work draining out the last water in the huge lake which lies below the level of the outlet which has been used to drain the lake within the last two or three weeks.

For several months Water Department engineers have made a survey of the lake with a view of putting dams n the Lakeside Park vicinity that would increase the size of the reservoir to several times its present capacity. Actual work has been delayed until State engineers could study and approve the new dams in compliance with a law passed soon after the St. Francis Dam disaster.

When the new operations are completed it is probable Chatsworth Lake will be in two sections, an upper and lower reservoir similar to those at San Fernando.

SANTA ANA, Dec. 2.—Francis Cuttle, Riverside conservationist and president of the Tricounty Conservation Association, appeared before the County Supervisors today with an invitation for the members of the board to attend a conference of Supervisors from Orange, Riverside and San Bernardino counties, at Glenwood Inn, Riverside, the 15th inst., to hear a report upon construction of the tricounty weir, just completed in the San Bernardino Mountains.

The Supervisors also were invited to join an inspection party to visit the $90,000 structure, which is expected to greatly aid in the conservation of the tricounty water supply from the Upper Santa Ana River.

Caster, head of the county dry squad a series of raids in the Lafourcade district here netted ten Mexicans and 1000 gallons of liquor which had evidently been secured for the holiday season. All the arrested persons were taken before Judge James Sharp in Cucamonga Court, who fined them from $50 to $100. Some of the fines were suspended. Three women were caught in the raids.

COUNTY SENDS CASH FOR PARK

Riverside Forwards Sum of $42,000 to Sacramento

State Will Match Amount to Buy Mountain Area

Five-Square-Mile Tract to Include Mt. San Jacinto

RIVERSIDE, Dec. 2.—Voucher for $42,000, representing public and private contributions to the fund for the acquisition of a 3200-acre wilderness tract, to be known as the San Jacinto Mountain State Park, were forwarded to Sacramento today, culminating four years of intensive campaigning by Riverside county citizens.

The receipt of the money in the offices of the State Park Commission will be the signal for issuance of $84,000 worth of bonds to formally bring the mountain preserve into existence. It has been virtually assured for several months and members of the San Jacinto Mountain State Park Association, of which A. C. Lovekin is president and A. E. Bottel secretary, have not permitted the preliminaries to lag.

Purchase of the private lands in the huge five-square-mile area was made possible through the State Park Commission's plan of matching dollar for dollar funds provided by public and private sources. Riverside county gave $40,000 of the initial sum and the remainder was raised by the park association. The county's allotment was given in two annual appropriations.

State aid was available under the $6,000,000 bond issue, voted in 1929 for the acquisition of park lands in several sections of the State.

Embracing within its confines the majestic Mt. San Jacinto, whose eastern slope is the sheerest drop in the world—from more than 10,000 feet to 230 feet below sea level at the shore of Salton Sea—the park will be maintained as a virgin saddle-trail preserve, where city-tired folks can "get back to nature," according to Secretary Bottel.

East-Side Has to Aid Jobless

EAST LOS ANGELES, Dec. 2.—For the first time in its history the vast East Side district, which represents a population of some 60,000 people, has combined as a whole to sponsor and promote a community employment bureau. This bureau has its headquarters at 751 South McBride avenue. Mrs. E. A. Jennings is in charge of the office work which is kept open from 7 to 11:30 a.m. and from 1 to 4:30 p.m.

Applications for work are now being filed in the office and Mrs. Jennings reports she has already sent several for interviews about situations.

For several years the East Side community has felt the need of a community employment bureau. But it was not until six weeks ago that any action was taken. Judge E. P. Woods fostered the movement at that time and as a result has been made president of the Community Employment Bureau with the assistance of J. J. Shepphirds, treasurer, and Evelyn White, secretary. The executive committee consists of Dr. George Hartshorn, Harry Shaffer, William T. Hazel and G. C. Jones.

Valley Man Has Odd Run-in With Fortune Teller on Venice Pier

SEPULVEDA, Dec. 2.—Thomas H. Clyberne, who resides on a ranch a few miles east of here, today doesn't know whether or not to believe in fortune tellers. He still has his doubts. Not long ago he mislaid a $10 bill about his home. Yesterday he went to Venice to take a look at the sea. He also saw a fortune-teller's sign, and in a joking spirit went in and asked her what had become of the $10.

"Oh, go home and look around and you'll find it," the woman said.

Last night Clyberne went to a drawer in his bureau to get a necktie. The first thing he saw was an old book on fortune telling he has owned for some time. Thinking of the woman at Venice he smiled and picked up the book. Under it lay the smoothed-out $10 bill.

Clyberne says he has no idea how the bill became hidden under the book.

Child Killed and Two Persons in Crashes Injured

REDLANDS, Dec. 2.—One little girl was killed, a young woman was seriously injured, incurring a twisted back, and an elderly man is in the hospital for several weeks with a broken leg and other injuries, as a result of automobile accidents in this city in the past twenty-four hours.

Dorothy Jean De Vries, 4-year-old daughter of Herman De Vries of the city water department, was killed when she pulled open the door of the family car on a wide turn on the Jackrabbit Trail near Beaumont and was thrown under the wheels of the car. Her head was crushed before the car could be stopped.

Miss Ruth Whitney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Whitney of 150 West One Hundred and Twenty-seventh street, Los Angeles, was badly hurt when the sedan driven by her father was hit and turned over by a car driven by Bernard Stonehouse of 4137 Edenhurst avenue, Los Angeles. Both cars turned over, but only Miss Whitney was hurt. Her back was twisted and it is feared the injury may be serious.

Theodore Eastman, 307 Buena Vista street, suffered a fractured leg and bad cuts about the head when he was struck by an automobile driven by W. E. Rabbeth. Eastman was walking across Cajon street. It is said that he will be confined to the hospital for six weeks or more.

ARMY MAN LICKED BY TIRE BLOWOUT

ONTARIO, Dec. 2.—Corp. James C. Williams, United States Army, will have light duty for the next few days, following his encounter with a tire blowout on his motorcycle while rolling along Riverside Road. The tire blew out and hurled Corp. Williams to the pavement. He was picked up by Don Crowell, Los Angeles, who was following Williams, and who took him to a physician.

WATCHMAN'S WATCH IN WATCH TOWER TAKEN

MOROCCO ADVENTURE TOLD

Hon. Alice Mackie Writes Redlands Friends of Her Sojourn Among Semiwild Tribesmen

REDLANDS, Dec. 2.—The Hon. Alice Mackie, an occasional resident of Live Oak Canyon, for her home is there on the goat ranch owned by Misses Violet Kirby and Rose Saunders when she is at home, which is not often, has just completed a most interesting sojourn among the wild and semiwild folk of Morocco.

In writing to the Misses Kirby and Saunders she describes a dinner with a Moroccan nobleman and how she was warned before eating that she should not use the left hand or it would be a great insult. She also tells of a lone journey to the top of a mountain to witness Mohammedans of all shades of skin sacrifice a she-camel. Other interesting adventures are also related.

There was one thing she enjoyed in Morocco, the fine roads which the French have built. The roads are bordered by cliffs on one side and sheer precipices on the other. The Arab villages are literally built into the face of the cliff, flat houses in hollowed-out places in the cliffs. These automobile roads have helped to break down the fierce feuds that formerly raged among the mountain tribes, making it dangerous for a European to visit Morocco. The funny thing was to see such a beautiful road with no traffic on it except donkeys, for not more than one or two automobiles pass over it each day, Miss Mackie writes.

High up in the mountains, at Gogo-Aani, she stayed in a village of mud houses but found there a comfortable inn run by a French couple, equipped with only the necessities of life, but clean. She found Morocco amazingly similar to the interior sections of California in summer, everything brown and dry. She tells of being invited to lunch with a patriarchal old Moor at Rabat and of having to take off her shoes at the door and of eating, only with the right hand, from a great brass tray. The women did not appear. Not even the grown-up sons eat with their father.

She tells of mint tea, which is to the Moors what coffee is to us, and of how delicious it is and how refreshing. The religious ceremony on the top of the mountain, where goats and she-camels were sacrificed, is described and she says it was the most frenzied gathering she ever saw, yet strangely enough, she did not feel frightened, although she was the only white person there.

Miss Mackie is leaving soon with Prof. and Mrs. T. D. Cockerell of the University of Colorado on an insect-hunting trip in the African

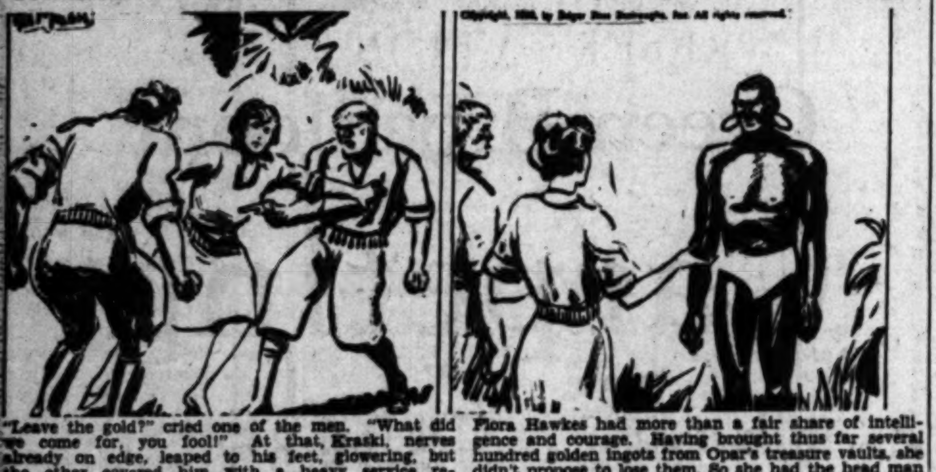
A CHUCKLE FOR EVERYBODY

TARZAN AND THE GOLDEN LION

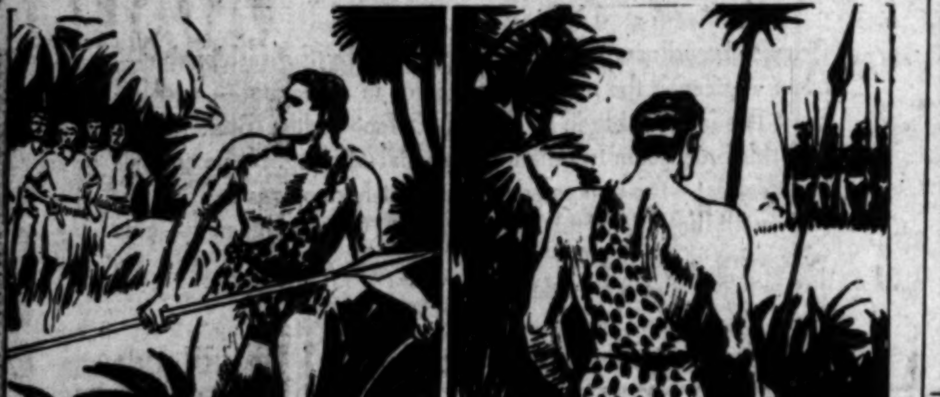
By Edgar Rice Burroughs



Copyright, 1930, by Edgar Rice Burroughs, Inc. All rights reserved.

"Leave the gold?" cried one of the men. "What did we come for, you fool!" At that, Kraski, nerves already on edge, leaped to his feet, glowering, but the other covered him with a heavy service revolver. "Cut that business!" cried the girl sharply, leaping between them. "O let the blighters fight," yelled another, "if they gets killed there'll be fewer to feed and share the swag." The quarrel passed as the men realized their need of mutual protection. "And now Flora, you're boss! What you say goes," said Peebles. "What do we do next?"

Flora Hawkes had more than a fair share of intelligence and courage. Having brought thus far several hundred golden ingots from Opar's treasure vaults, she didn't propose to lose them. So she had the head man brought to her; ordered him to send his men forth on the morrow in a fresh attempt to drive in game. Also she promised the natives they should now take it easier. So it was that the blacks, smiling and happy in anticipation of plenty of meat, tramped off into the jungle, singing gayly. The men and the girl on a similar quest set off in the opposite direction.



Of her four confederates, Flora found the greatest difficulty with Esteban. Perhaps a touch of jungle fever had gripped him; perhaps he had played his part so well that now he really thought he was Tarzan of the Apes. He alone questioned her authority, insisting he would hunt with just arrows and spear in keeping with the role he had been brought along to act. Flora decided to humor him today and let him hunt after his own fashion. "What's the difference?" she said to the others. "Maybe he'll kill something—every little bit helps."

Esteban, as he started away, let his dark mind play with hatred and jealousy. How he would like to put the other men out of the party and take the woman and the gold for himself! As his thoughts were thus occupied, he came through a patch of dense underbrush. Stepping into the sunlight of a large clearing he came face to face with a party of some fifty magnificent ebon warriors. Esteban stood for an instant in a paralysis of terror, forgetting the part he was playing. Thinking of himself only as a lone white man in savage Africa facing grave danger—cannibals perhaps?

NEW PROGRAM SERIES ON AIR

KECA Will Present Eastern Efforts Today

Station to Increase Time on Ether Waves

"On With the Show," to Be KHJ Feature

The Times Forum, KHJ, at 1:30 p.m. Patrick and Marsh Orchestra, auspices of Junior Chamber of Commerce; World-Wide News, 12:30, 4:45 and 10 p.m.

BY JOHN S. DAGGETT

The advent of a series of programs new to the west coast by the National Broadcasting Company over station KECA will be a highlight of today's radio programs. In many cases the station only has the names of the programs, knowing nothing about what will be brought to your dial. Formerly KECA was on the air only an hour in the morning, resuming its programs again at 3 p.m., but it is now going to maintain a schedule of thirteen and one-half hours and this explains the debut of the new series. You will find the titles in the radio dial. There is the element of surprise that may intrigue you.

"The highlight of the radio day," chortles Richard Creedon, publicist de luxe for KHJ, "is another of its excellent series 'On With the Show.'" Tonight it is the Jack Oakie-Nancy Carroll Campus Comedy. Raymond Paige "extracted the manuscript from Paramount" especially for Ted White. It is described as a "wild-eyed comedy, racy tunes and"—well, if it is just half of that, you should enjoy it. KHJ at 7 p.m.

They tell us that—

Grantland Rice, sports expert, is going to interview Sydney Franklin, America's famous toreador. Here is your chance to learn how to buffalo a bull. A string orchestra will make music—an NBC program—KECA—7:30 p.m.

We are taken back to the century before the discovery of America—how American music came into being—Gene Byrnes's "The Birth of a Melody"—KNX at 8:30 p.m. Gene promises to tell some day how came the first tenor and soprano.

I'm afraid if you dial KHJ at 7 p.m. you won't leave until after California Melodies at 8:30 — John Medbury and June Collyer — Bob Bradford and Ted White—this is the program that leaves here and journeys all over the Columbia system. Ladies' Trio and the Three Cheers—songs, songs and more music.

Concert Quintet—KMTR at 10 p.m.—those light classical compositions from Ilensky's "Berceuse" to Grunfeld's "Serenade"—to 10:30.

If every man of 30 Knew What His Doctor Knows

IF YOU are 30 now, you are only ten years from the average "turning point" in health. At 40, the wear and tear of life begins to take its toll unless you've fortified against it.

One of the most prevalent ailments to guard against is kidney breakdown. Over half of men and women past 40 are afflicted.

Kidneys excrete 75% of poisonous waste from the system. Through constant wear and tear, delicate kidney cells break down. Congestion occurs, throwing poisons back into the system...the forerunner of many serious ills.

Puritas Protects Health Before and After 40

Drink 6 glasses of Puritas Water daily. Puritas is scientifically distilled and aerated. All impurities and minerals are removed. Puritas is drinking water in its purest state.

Puritas keeps kidneys flushed, absorbs and carries off poisonous waste. And, mineral-free, it leaves no mineral deposits to add further to congestion. (Sufficient minerals are furnished in fruits and vegetables.)

Thus Puritas helps keep the system clean and pure...it is daily health protection, before and after 40. Though Puritas tastes different at first, each drink you'll increasingly enjoy.

'Phone WEstmore 0381 and puritas will be delivered to your home, anywhere in Southern California. An iceless cooler furnished free.

HIGHER FREIGHT TARIFFS ASKED

Western Rail Executives Send Plea to I.C.C.

Investigation of Problems Out Here Requested

Regulation of Pipe Lines Among Recommendations

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2. (AP)—Western railway executives contended today the entire transportation problems of that district should be gone into by the Interstate Commerce Commission and a policy of upward revision of freight rates adopted.

In a letter to the commission the Association of Western Railway Executives asked that the date for putting into effect reduced grain rates already be postponed for the period of the depression and for not less than one year from January 1, next.

INVESTIGATION ASKED

They asked the commission to adopt a general policy of revising rates upward instead of downward, investigate rail, motor and water transportation and oil and gas pipe lines.

They recommended to Congress legislation for regulation of motor-vehicle and pipe-line transportation.

Other requests were:

Revise water freight rates from a flat 20 per cent under rail rates to a "basis that would enable private water carriers to operate at a profit."

Immediately revise longhaul freight rates upward.

LOSSES INDICATED

Asserting net operating revenues of lines in western classification territory have declined $112,332,733 during the first nine months of this year, the executives said they have later reports indicating further losses of $20,000,000 yearly.

The executives indicated in their letter only the business depression prevented them from asking an immediate upward revision of all western rates.

CHILE MONOPOLIZES PETROLEUM REFINING

SANTIAGO (Chile) Dec. 2. (AP)—A bill giving the government a monopoly of the petroleum refining industry has been approved by the Senate and after action by the lower house will go to the President for his signature today or tomorrow. The measure permits private companies to import fuel oil but reserves the right to build state refineries. The two chief importers of gasoline and other refined products here are the Standard Oil Company and the Dutch Shell Company.

NEW DANISH PARTY GETS IN LIMELIGHT

COPENHAGEN (Denmark) Dec. 2. (AP)—The new Nationalist Socialist party, recently formed by Capt. Lembke, is pursuing a program by which it hopes to thrust itself into a position of considerable political power. Lembke and some of his associates already have handed the Foreign Minister and other Cabinet members formal protests against what they consider to be ill-advised government policies. It is not regarded likely the Cabinet will accede to any of the demands.

JUGO-SLAV OFFICIALS PAY VISIT TO GREECE

ATHENS (Greece) Dec. 2. (AP)—The Jugo-Slavian Foreign Minister, M. Marinkovitch, arrived Monday in Athens with four Jugo-Slavian officials for a four-day visit. Considerable importance is attached to his visit, which is at the invitation of the Grecian government, the guest of which he is. This is the first visit of any Jugo-Slavian Foreign Minister to Greece since the war.

CHICAGO, Dec. 2. (AP)—The "Siberia detail" of the police department, the six members of which are reported to have told the grand jury their closest contact with criminals was playing eight hours of pinochle each day, is no more. The detail was ordered abolished last night by Acting Police Commissioner Alcock and the six captains involved were assigned to other duties.

ADDITIONAL POWERS GRANTED ORTIZ RUBIO

MEXICO CITY, Dec. 2. (AP)—The Chamber of Deputies today approved the petition of President Ortiz Rubio for extraordinary powers to deal with financial matters. The Debt Committee of the Chamber of Deputies today rendered a report recommending $20,000,000 be set aside in next year's budget for payment of debts.

SCOTCH STRIKE SPREAD FEARED

English Coal Miners May Join in Unrest

Conference at London Will Decide Outcome

Question of Hours Seen as Cause of Dispute

LONDON, Dec. 2. (AP)—Fear ran high tonight that the strike in the Scottish coal fields will spread throughout the coal fields of Great Britain.

"Scotland cannot be left alone in the struggle," said A. J. Cook, powerful secretary of the miners' federation.

His statement was made after receipt of word from Glasgow that at a conference of miners' leaders it was decided the strike should continue. Another disquieting fact was that delegates from Ayrshire, where the men have continued at work, promised to endeavor to bring the miners in their area in line with the strikers.

The next important step in the situation as a whole is expected Thursday when a conference of national union delegates meets in London. At the Glasgow meeting it was voted to place the position of the Scottish miners before the conference.

The principal point of issue is the hours of work, the miners objecting to the proposition of the owners that a ninety-hour fortnight go into effect. They demand a flat seven and one-half hour day. The owners contend the only alternative to the ninety-hour, spreadover system, is a reduction in wages.

Universities Hit by 'Ham' Lewis

PRINCETON (N. J.) Dec. 2. (AP)—Says J. Hamilton Lewis, Democratic Senator-elect from Illinois, in the Princetonian today:

"Universities are simply the breeding grounds for muscular athletes or the nursing homes for society blooms who hope for hothouse development through such agencies as Greek-letter societies and glee clubs."

EX-CONVICT HAS STEADY RECORD

Governor Vouches for Man's Industriousness When Named as Reference

RICHMOND (Va.) Dec. 2. (AP)—"This pardon business—" sighs Gov. Pollard.

Release of a convicted forger had been followed by a letter to the executive stating the ex-convict gave him as his last employer.

"I truthfully replied," said the Governor, "that the man had not missed a day's work in two years."

FATALITY IN CRASH LAID TO ROAD HOG

Los Angeles Woman Tells How Motorist Forced Car Off Highway Over Grade

REDWOOD CITY, Dec. 2. (AP)—The story of how a motorist deliberately forced another car off the road and down an embankment was told to Coroner McGovern of San Mateo county today by Mrs. George Douglas of Los Angeles.

Mrs. Douglas was injured seriously in the crash and Dr. Lincoln Kallen of San Francisco, the driver, was killed.

Mrs. Douglas said Dr. Kallen was forced to slow down behind a couple of trucks. Another car attempted to pass, and when it drew alongside of them, Mrs. Douglas said, the driver shook his fist at them, cursed, and shouted at them "to draw over."

They were forced to give way, she said, and when their wheels had left the pavement, the driver sideswiped their car with a final shove, which sent it tumbling down the bank.

Coroner McGovern said he expects the driver of the car to be arrested shortly, and he announced he will "certainly charge the man with murder."

CONTROL BOARD TO MAP PLANS

Definite Program to Curb Grape Shipments Sought

Meeting in San Francisco Thursday to Lay Plans

Uprooting of Surplus Vines Will be Discussed

FRESNO, Dec. 2. (Exclusive)—Effort to evolve a definite program for control of grape shipments, lack of which this year caused the eastern markets to be glutted with fruit, with consequent declines in prices, will be sought by the California Grape Control Board, Ltd., at a meeting in San Francisco Thursday.

The directors of the control board, parent organization in the Federal Farm Board's industry program, will launch plans for operations in 1931.

Frederick J. Koster, chairman of the board, said that the proposal to uproot approximately 50,000 acres of marginal vineyards will be discussed. This program would eliminate from the marketing problem a large tonnage of grapes from vineyards which are not sufficiently productive or which produce such low quality grapes that they are a liability rather than an asset in the industry program.

Other activities in connection with preparations for handling the 1931 crops include elections of nine directors of the California raisin pool, the dried fruit organization of the grape industry program.

Directors will be nominated Thursday in ten of the pool's twenty-nine districts, and the election will be held in the respective districts on the 18th inst.

So far the Burgomaster has not been able to dig up a buyer. The toy factories are threatening to close down and dismiss all their employees if the tax burden gets any heavier.

RICCI BOYS AWARDED TO PARENTS

Fondness for Ice Cream Brings Ruling Settling Violinists' Custody

NEW YORK, Dec. 2. (AP)—The Ricci boys, violinist prodigies, over whose custody court battles had been fought in several States, are to stay permanently with their parents by the terms of a Supreme Court decision handed down tonight.

Permanent custody of Ruggiero, who is 10 years of age, and Giorgio, 8, who last night left the home of their guardian, Miss Mary Elizabeth Lackey, and went to the Riverside Drive residence of their parents, was given the father and mother at the end of hearing today by Justice Valente.

It was the boys' infinite capacity for ice cream and their boredom with bread pudding that was the immediate cause of the breach with Miss Lackey, it was learned after the hearing.

At a recent meal, Miss Lackey gave them bread pudding. They demanded ice cream, although they were reminded they always had liked bread pudding. When the ice cream didn't appear they sulked and finally ran off.

Miss Lackey said she was "done" with the boys.

"They have turned upon me," she said, "and once they have done that, it is quite likely they would do it again."

During the summer the boys expressed preference for Miss Lackey's care. They said she was kind to them.

Husband Takes Stand Against Accused Wife

DENVER, Dec. 2. (AP)—The State tomorrow will take the testimony of a husband against his wife in its efforts to send Mrs. Pearl O'Loughlin to the gallows for the murder of her 10-year-old stepdaughter.

The procedure has no direct parallel in Colorado law but a recent ruling of the Colorado Supreme Court will be cited to enable Leo O'Loughlin, Denver city detective, to take the stand in the trial of his wife.

The prosecution had called fifteen of its thirty-five witnesses when court adjourned.

CENSURE VOTED ON MacDONALD REGIME

LONDON, Dec. 2. (AP)—The MacDonald government was defeated in the House of Lords tonight when a Conservative criticism of the conduct of the imperial conference was carried by a vote of 74 to 10. The defeat has no political significance, however, since the small number of Labor peers in the upper house makes such incidents of fairly frequent occurrence.

SHIPYARD WORK SOUGHT IN WEST

Congressmen to Join Forces in Demanding Share

Merchant Marine Expected to Build Heavily

Immediate Appropriations for Harbors Also Wanted

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2. (Exclusive)—With indications pointing to considerable new shipbuilding on the part of the merchant marine in the next few years, Congressmen from California, Oregon and Washington plan to join forces in an attempt to obtain a proper share of the construction work for Pacific Coast shipyards.

Representatives Carter of Oakland and Welch of San Francisco plan to invite a conference of the delegations of the three west coast States soon to discuss the shipbuilding situation. Southern California members will join in the conference, it is held, with the purpose of getting government contracts in the future for the shipbuilding plants at San Pedro.

Another thing the tri-State meeting will take up in common with other sectional groups will be the matter of obtaining immediate appropriations covering harbor improvements already authorized but not financed. There appears to be a good chance of speeding these projects to aid unemployment.

Friends of the Los Angeles-Long Beach harbor development, including Senator Shortridge and Representatve Evans of Glendale, already have been busy along this line, and as a result there is a very good prospect that at the present session of Congress an appropriation of not less than $2,000,000 will be granted to speed this project in its way, well ahead of schedule.

Under the routine recommendations of the budget and War Department engineers the Los Angeles Harbor would receive for the next year only $250,000 for improvement and $125,000 for maintenance. It is estimated that $8,346,000 will complete the new breakwater project, and if $2,000,000 can be obtained from Congress it will finance all work that can be done next year and at the same time provide employment for several hundred men.

ROAD FUNDS TO BE ASKED OF MEXICO

Highway Group in Move to Urge Early Start on Alaska-Argentina Link

MEXICO CITY, Dec. 2. (AP)—The Mexican Pacific Highway Association today voted to ask the Mexican government for 300,000 pesos for beginning work immediately on the Mexican section of the projected Alaska-Argentina Highway.

The money would be used in building a line between the States of Jalisco and Nayarit, known as the Barranca region and the most difficult on this Pacific Coast route. A committee headed by Gov. Gomez of the State of Mexico was appointed to ask the Secretary of the Treasury to include the appropriation in next year's budget.

The association, which was formed yesterday, ratified the appointment by President Ortiz Rubio of Gen. Juan Andreu Almazan, Secretary of Communications, as honorary president of the organization and Gov. Gomez as active president. President Ortiz Rubio attended the closing ceremonies and banquet tonight.

Permanent offices of the association will be maintained here with approval of the Pacific Coast States which are contributing funds for the purpose.

Third Child in Family Dies of Mystery Malady

WALLACE (Idaho) Dec. 2. (AP)—A mysterious death that strikes swiftly and silently among the children of the Everett Walker family at Gem, near here, was being studied by physicians today.

Three times in three months it has claimed children, the last being Devaine, 2 1-2 months of age. Her parents said they romped with her Sunday night, but when they tried to awaken her yesterday morning, she was dead. Her twin brother, Robert, died November 2, last, of the same malady, and on September 4, last, Gertrude Evelyn, 4 years.

FILM COMPANY BOOSTS OUTPUT

Consolidated's Hollywood Production Gains

New Color Plant to Start February 1

Higher Earnings for Year Now Forecast

Consolidated Film Industries, Inc., in its Hollywood plant on Santa Monica Boulevard is showing a substantial increase in its monthly production compared to last year, George W. Yates, vice-president in charge of West Coast operations, stated yesterday. The current monthly volume of footage is approximately 12,500,000 feet as compared with 10,000,000 a year ago for the Hollywood plants.

Through the installation of three additional developing machines, the Santa Monica Boulevard plant production capacity will be increased to 18,000,000 feet of film monthly. The company in the past year has expended approximately $100,000 on this plant which was formerly the Bennett Film Laboratory.

Equipment is now being installed in the company's new plant on Seward street, where the production of colored films is scheduled to begin February 1, next. This plant with its equipment represents an outlay of $500,000, according to Mr. Yates.

As the trend of the motion-picture industry in the use of colored film is still indefinite, Mr. Yates said an estimate of the effect on earnings of the company of the new color plant could not be forecast at this time. Indications point toward the use of the color sequences rather than entire colored films and Consolidated Film Industries through its improved technique in black-and-white films will be prepared to offer producers either type or the combined types in increasing the artistic effect of the pictures, Mr. Yates added.

Although prices have been reduced about 10 per cent, profits have been maintained through increased output, said Mr. Yates. The Hollywood division of the company is now employing 195 employees, representing an increase of about 15 per cent over last year.

FOREIGN EXPANSION

H. J. Yates, chairman of the board, and Ben Goetz, vice-president, are now in Europe in connection with negotiations which may result in important foreign expansion for the company.

The Hollywood division produces about 30 per cent of the company's output, the balance being handled by the eastern laboratories. After showing an increase of 7 per cent in net earnings for the first half of this year, as compared with the 1929 period, the September-quarter earnings of the company, due to the slight decline in motion-picture production in the summer months, were $177,422 under the $667,144 reported for the third quarter last year.

YEAR NET FIGURED

Net earnings after all charges and Federal taxes for nine months ended September 30, last, totaled $1,729,644, equal to $2.16 a share on the combined 400,000 preferred and 400,000 common shares as against $1,825,710, or $2.61 a share on the combined 300,000 preferred and 400,000 common shares in the 1929 period.

With the company's current-quarter production on the upgrade, the full-year net income is expected to approximate $3 a share on the combined stocks as against $3.41 a share in the record year of 1929 when 100,000 less shares of preferred stock were outstanding.

Western States' Bankers to Meet

Bankers from Arizona, California, Colorado, Idaho, Montana, Nevada, Oregon, Utah, Washington and Wyoming will gather at Salt Lake City March 26 and 27, next, for a western bank-management conference sponsored by the American Bankers' Association, it was announced yesterday. The convention will be the second to be held under the auspices of the association.

The program will enable the participating bankers to engage in an intensive study of current bank management problems, the association announced. Leading bankers, chosen because of their qualifications to present practical knowledge gained from seasoned first-hand experience in bank operation, will address the delegates.

BANK FINDS TRADE TONE IMPROVING

Security-First National Reports More Cheerful Outlook for Future

While no significant change took place in business during November compared with preceding fall months in Los Angeles and Southern California generally, reports received in the past two months indicate a more cheerful tone as regards the future, the Security-First National Bank monthly survey stated yesterday.

Favorable banking and credit conditions, the generally satisfactory agricultural situation and a fairly close co-ordination between production and consumption are among the forces operating in this region to establish the basis for ultimate recovery, according to the survey. The survey states in part:

"The industrial situation in the metropolitan area of Los Angeles during November continued to show the effects of the general recession in business activity which has prevailed during the past year. Firms in practically all lines of manufacturing activity operated at lower levels than in November, 1929. A seasonal decline occurred in some lines.

"While many branches of industry and trade are below normal, the fact should not be lost sight of that Southern California is still essentially an agricultural section and that business conditions are governed to an important extent by agricultural income. Unofficial figures indicate the 1930 returns from agriculture will approximately equal those of 1929 despite the fact that the general price level of farm products was about 20 per cent lower during the 1930 crop-moving season than in the corresponding period of last year."

Drop Shown in Daily Average Output of Oil

NEW YORK, Dec. 2. (AP)—The daily average gross crude oil production in the United States decreased 15,950 barrels for the week ended November 29, totaling 2,265,900 barrels, says the weekly summary of the American Petroleum Institute. HUTTON AIDE BULL PROPHET

BY EARLE E. CROWE

Gerald Loeb, former San Franciscan and now a New York partner of E. F. Hutton & Co., is a refreshing contrast to most visitors from Wall street's dark and cheerless recesses. This recognized authority on the stock market, whose daily dispatches are familiar to gossip readers in Pacific Coast brokerage offices, unhesitatingly recommends the bull side of the market at this time.

Eighty-five per cent of listed stocks, said Mr. Loeb yesterday, are now shock-proof. There are scores of stocks immune to further bad news that may be safely bought at these levels for substantial profits within two or three months after business starts its recovery, according to his point of view.

STOCKS ON BOTTOM

Protracted deflation, he explained, has placed the market in admirable technical position where stocks now frequently advance after bearish announcements. The recent behavior of Chrysler and yesterday's action of Mack Trucks, both after unfavorable dividend actions, were cited as illustrations of the market's fundamental strength.

United States Steel common is picked by Mr. Loeb as the probable speculative leader of the next bull market. Steel common never was a genuine speculative favorite in the last bull cycle, he pointed out, but next time he believes the steel business will furnish new developments that should readily capture the speculative imagination.

Recent exploitation of the new German steel alloy in the United States is a suggestion of the trend. The quick acceptance of this alloy in building activities, interior construction, etc., has stimulated the steel trade to conduct further researches that Mr. Loeb prophesies will greatly increase the sale of steel products.

The steel business lagged while the copper people were discovering and exploiting new uses for copper and brass. The aluminum industry made surprising strides with a similar campaign and the nickel companies actively pushed new outlets. Naturally the stocks of these companies were the favorites of the speculators, while the more methodical steel companies were the choice of the investors.

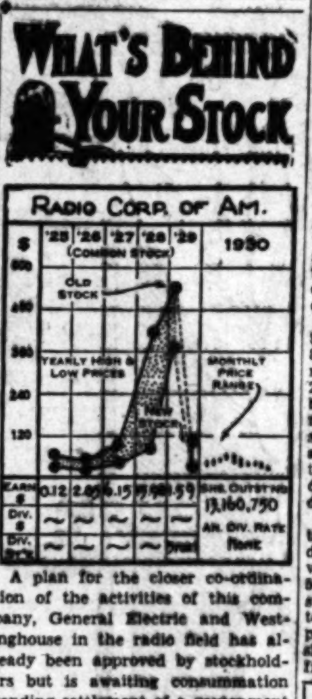
BUSINESS FIRST

Mr. Loeb believes the next bull cycle will start some time next year. But before stocks start up definitely, business must move first. This time, he said, the stock market will not enter on the long-pull cycle he envisages until it is certain rising prices are justified by business profits.

Another observation of this observer was the probability that net profits will displace gross profits in the stock market's measure of business success. In the late bull cycle it was increases in gross that were stressed and which counted for most with the buyers of stocks. The new order of things calls for greater net profits on smaller volumes of business, or emphasis on efficient management rather than skillful salesmanship.

It will take time, Mr. Loeb pointed out, for corporate managements to boost net income on smaller volumes of business, which suggests that the approaching bull cycle in stocks will proceed in an orderly and deliberate fashion.

WHAT'S BEHIND YOUR STOCK



A plan for the closer co-ordination of the activities of this company, General Electric and Westinghouse in the radio field has already been approved by stockholders but is awaiting consummation pending settlement of a government antitrust suit. Under this plan the two electrical companies will transfer their plants, patents and investment holdings in the radio field to R.C.A. and will receive therefor a controlling stock interest in the company. Radio Corporation is strongly entrenched in the industry, holding many basic patents on which it receives royalties from other manufacturers. Important subsidiaries or partly owned companies include R.C.A. Victor, manufacturing radio sets and phonographs, National Broadcasting Company, R.C.A. Radiotron, R.C.A. Photophone, General Motors Radio, Gramophone Company, Ltd., and Radio-Keith-Orpheum.

After earning $1.58 per share in the full year 1929, profits showed a sharp contraction in the first six months of 1930, when a small deficit of 17 cents was shown on the common shares. Manufacturing activity has been much increased in the last few months, however, and it is estimated that a small profit will be earned for the year.

Universal Oil Stock Soars on Report of Find

Following the report that the Universal Consolidated Oil Company well No. 49 in Lost Hills had penetrated the Temblor sands, the stock of the company jumped from $3.80 to $6 a share on the Los Angeles Curb yesterday, closing at $5.87 1-2, up $2.07 1-2. Sales totaled 5100 shares. Richfield Oil Company of California owns approximately 186,000, or 52 per cent of the Universal Consolidated Oil Company's outstanding 358,163 shares of $10 par value.

Records for the Lost Hills well show a depth of 4895 feet and a penetration of twenty-four feet in the Temblor sands, according to a statement issued by the company. Core samples, according to Universal engineers, are almost identical with those at Kettleman and Belridge and carry a strong odor of gasoline.

Success for Universal Consolidated in Lost Hills will definitely prove 10,800 acres of land owned in fee by Richfield as well as 1920 acres belonging to Universal Consolidated, the engineers stated, adding that lands which were purchased by Richfield for $71 an acre in 1926 should have a value of many millions upon successful completion of the Lost Hills well.

ADVERTISING BUDGET HIGH

California Building-Loan Units Plan Expenditure of $1,000,000

California building-loan associations will spend more than $1,000,000 for advertising during 1931, C. H. Wade, first vice-president of the California Building-Loan League, announced yesterday. In 1928, $400,000 was spent; in 1929, $592,516, and in 1930, $831,596 for the fiscal year ended June 30.

"Much credit for the phenomenal growth of the building-loan movement must be given to the consistent advertising policies generally adopted within recent years," Mr. Wade said. "Growth of resources of these institutions has been at a more rapid rate than advertising expenditures."

Custom Plant Puts Price of Copper Higher

NEW YORK, Dec. 2. (AP)—Copper sold in the domestic market today at 11½ cents a pound, delivered, an increase of one-half a cent a pound over the level established by custom smelters yesterday.

Although only one custom smelter sold the metal at 11½ cents, the trade reported there was no copper available under that level. The one-half-cent increase represented two advances of one-quarter of a cent each by custom smelters today, as some metal was sold at 11 1-4 cents shortly after the opening of business.

The larger producers continued to hold their copper at 12 cents a pound and making sales abroad through Copper Exporters, Inc., which continues to quote 12.30 cents a pound, c.i.f. European base ports. Foreign sales this morning were estimated roughly at 1,750,000 pounds, while 2,250,000 pounds were sold abroad yesterday.

COTTON MARKET

NEW YORK, Dec. 2. (AP)—A further decline under continued liquidation and southern selling promoted by relatively easy Liverpool cables was followed by rallies in cotton today on trade buying and covering.

March contracts, after selling off to 10.62 early, or within 17 points of the season's low record established on October 8, rallied to 10.84, or 14 points above yesterday's closing quotation, and the demand appeared to be encouraged by reports of steadiness in the stock market.

The advance brought out some realizing, which was absorbed on reactions of 4 to 5 points, with the midafternoon market steady at net advances of 5 to 10 points.

NEW YORK, Dec. 2. DIVIDENDS ON LISTED SHARES UP

Local Exchange Survey Shows 6.9 Per Cent Gain Over 1929 Period

Dividends aggregating $192,403,998 were paid in the last eleven months to holders of shares listed on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange. This is $10,000,000 or 6.9 per cent more than was paid last year, despite the fact that some companies have passed their dividends and that the number of listed companies has decreased.

The figures are contained in a compilation and survey issued yesterday by F. E. Sanford, secretary and manager of the exchange. November dividends totaled $9,950,010 against $10,281,903 last year, although several of the leading groups on the board revealed sizeable increases, Mr. Sanford pointed out.

Public utility issues, paying out $4,712,964 in November and $69,867,887 for the eleven months' period, showed increases of 19.3 and 23.3 per cent, respectively. Disbursements in the financial and miscellaneous groups in November showed an increase of 5.9 per cent and an increase of 16.6 per cent for the eleven months. Oil company dividends are lower for the year to date by 7.2 per cent.

The index of the thirty more active common stocks declined sharply during the first ten days of November to an all-time low level at 50.3. From this point the index rose steadily to 52, only to weaken later to close at 50.8 for a net loss of 2.9 per cent for the month. The index shows a depreciation of 26.6 per cent from the close of November, 1929.

Member Loans Break to New Record Bottom

NEW YORK, Dec. 2.—Collateral loans to members of the New York Stock Exchange decreased $393,875,085 during the month to mark a total of $2,162,249,002, the lowest volume ever reported since the loans were compiled early in 1926. On November 30, 1929, the loans amounted to $4,016,598,769 and the record high was established at the end of September at $8,549,383,979.

The decrease from the high point last year is $6,387,134,977, or more than 74 per cent, and from November 30, last year, a drop of $1,854,349,767, or about 45 per cent, is indicated. The decline for the month was approximately 15 per cent.

International Nickel Silent on Rumor Afoot

NEW YORK, Dec. 2. (AP)—Executive offices of the International Nickel Company, which controls about 90 per cent of the world's output of nickel, declined to comment today on widely circulated reports in the financial district control of this enterprise had been returned to the United States.

Control passed into Canadian hands two years ago, with the formation of the International Nickel Company of Canada, as successor to the International Nickel Company of New Jersey. The company's properties are primarily in the Province of Ontario.

New York banking interests are rumored to have been large purchasers of the stock during its recent decline to less than $20 a share, against last year's peak price of $72.

BONUS DOUBT ON FINANCE MART

Size of Yule Disbursements, If Any, Main Question of Broker Workers

NEW YORK, Dec. 2. (Exclusive) — The Christmas bonus season began in Wall street yesterday when Gertler, Devlet & Co., brokers in tax-exempt securities, declared a payment of four to ten weeks' salary to employees, depending on the length of service with the firm.

Bonus payments in other brokerage firms, which mounted the millions last year are still a matter of doubt. It is conceded that many firms will greatly reduce payments and many others will entirely pass them. Little definite information will be forthcoming before the 15th inst. Last year bonus payments to employees in all lines of business in the United States aggregated $100,000,000. Economists today predicted they would not fall below $50,000,000 this year.

PROSPERITY LOAN FAVORED

Emergency Committee for Federal Public Works Would Ask Appropriation of $1,000,000,000

BY JOHN F. SINCLAIR

NEW YORK, Dec. 2.—"Let Congress pass a billion-dollar 'prosperity' loan and use the proceeds to stimulate business and industry through a gigantic public works program, and thus provide additional work for hundreds of thousands now idle."

This is the suggestion of the emergency committee for Federal public works, consisting of many well-known business men, including James H. Post, Frank C. Munson, John E. Ruston, Amos Pinchot, Paul U. Kellogg, Richard S. Childs, Henry S. Butterheim and others.

An aggressive campaign to popularize this idea is taking form rapidly in New York City. The committee contends: "The loss to business men, investors, and wage earners, by reason of the existing business depression, is not less than $1,000,000,000 a month—or $12,000,000,000 a year."

But would such a move increase taxes? Yes, unless the $1,000,000,000 a year now being paid on the principal of the national debt is suspended during the emergency period.

"If the City of New York, commencing January 1, next, were to launch a five-year program to house decently 1,000,000 inhabitants of our slums," says Paul Blanchard, executive director of the emergency committee, "we estimate that 30,000 now unemployed building trades' workers would be sure of regular employment throughout each year until 1936."

George E. Roberts, vice-president of the National City Bank of New York, believes that a turn in business always comes "at a time when to most people everything looks the blackest. Just as the basis of every depression is laid in the preceding period of prosperity, so the basis of every prosperity is laid in the preceding period of depression. It is at such times that we correct the mistakes and remedy the abuses of inflation."

The Brookmire Economic Service holds the same opinion, for in its latest Analyst it says that while some further recession from the November level is expected "business will reach its extreme botttom around the end of the year. We shall start the new year with the knowledge that improvement lies right ahead."

This statement is made in spite of the fact that Brookmire's business index dropped a further 2 points in November, reaching around 77 per cent of normal, a fraction of a point below the extreme bottom of the 1920 and 1921 depression.

But when will the extreme bottom be reached?

Brookmire answers this question in this way: "When manufacturing operations are increased for the purpose of supplying goods for immediate consumption, the bottom of the depression will have been passed."

LOS ANGELES EXCHANGE

Stocks Again Record Small Improvement as Trading Activities Hold to Quiet Level

While one or two irregularities crept into yesterday's trading on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange the main trend of prices held in an upward direction. Operations, however, continued light in volume, showing but a small increase over the usually meager turnover of the preceeding day. Price changes again held within fractional limits.

Bullish demonstrations in Security-First National Bank, Richfield Oil and Standard Oil of California enlivened the session and lent strength to the board as a whole. Security-First National, which has held consistently around 91 for many days, spurted 1⅝ points to 92⅝ with the transfer of 300 shares.

Richfield Oil, which has stood neglected for weeks, jumped into the spotlight when news was flashed that Universal Oil, its subsidiary, had penetrated what is believed to be the Tremblor zone in Lost Hills, correlating to the Kettleman Hills formation. Richfield has extensive acreage in Lost Hills. A total of 1600 shares of the stock crossed the board lifting the price ⅝ to 6⅝.

Standard Oil of California was more active than usual with a turnover of 1000 shares. The issue firmed up ½ to 49⅝. Both Union Oil issues yielded small fractional amounts. Shell, however, added another ⅜ to end at 9. Bolsa Chica dropped ¼ to 11.

Western Air Express was the outstanding weak spot. This issue with a transfer of only 200 shares, broke 2½ points to mark a new record bottom at 16. Byron Jackson, on a board lot, also sunk to a new low at 6⅛, down ⅞ net.

NEW YORK CURB STOCKS

NEW YORK, Dec. 2. (AP)—The curb market maintained a firm undertone through the medium of dull trading and narrow price movements today. The day's volume of 453,800 shares was 58,000 shares more than yesterday's business, but was insufficient to impart any vitality to the proceedings. The utilities mainly gained ground, although Electric Bond and Share closed off ½ after fluctuating between a gain of ½ and a loss of a point. American Gas and Electric advanced nearly 2 points. Superpower closed steady. [illegible] Oils were a little steadier. Humble, Gulf and Vacuum gained about a point. Standard of Kentucky rose 1½, but later reduced its advance to a fraction. Cities Service closed steady, up ⅛. In the natural gas issues, Southwest Gas Utilities sagged a point to a new low. Copper reflected further firmness of the red metal market. Newmont gained a point and Hudson Bay and Noranda rose fractionally. Industrials were narrowly irregular. Armstrong Cork sold up 5 points, and American [illegible] Aviation Corporation [illegible] Diamond Match (new) closed gained 2. [illegible] firm, on announcement deposits under the recapitalization plan were within a few hundred shares of the necessary 97 per cent. Seton Leather sold up 2 points. General Theaters (new) and Ford of Canada "A" gained moderately. Insurance Company of North America rose 2 points and closed up 1. Goldman-Sachs closed off ½.

The closing price is omitted when same as the low, and both low and close when same as the high.

Penetration of the top of the Temblor zone in the Universal Consolidated Oil Company's No. 49, on Section 32, 26-21, at Lost Hills, has attracted the attention of many operators who have long considered the possibility of developing deeper production in that district.

Universal Consolidated, a subsidiary of the Richfield Oil Company, controls considerable acreage at Lost Hills. Its No. 49 now is preparing to run a string of casing with bottom of the hole at 4895 feet, after having cored approximately twenty-five feet of the Temblor zone. The Temblor zone at Lost Hills is asserted to be higher on the structure than the same strata in the North Belridge district, and about 1000 feet higher than the Temblor in the Kettleman Hills field.

Shallow oil has been obtained in the past at Lost Hills from 700 to 1100 feet in depth, and development of a deeper zone has been carried on rather spasmodically for a period of months. George F. Getty, Inc., drilled two tests on some acreage originally leased by the Lincoln Drilling Company, both of which put out water after going to about 1900 feet. Getty plans to deepen its second test with the installation of heavier equipment. Associated and Standard also have acreage at Lost Hills. Universal Consolidated's No. 49 is about five miles northeast of the Richfield Oil Company's No. 1, on Sec. 28, 27-20, in the North Belridge district, which is standing cemented and is expected to make a test within a week or ten days.

Getting Down

Rapid progress continues to be made by the Standard Oil Company's No. 65 on Sec. 29, 21-17, on the north dome of the Kettleman Hills field. Standard's No. 65 is drilling below 7470 feet in a brown shale formation, while the Petroleum Securities Company's Felix No. 2, on Sec. 35, 21-17, is drilling below 7380 feet.

Standard is pouring concrete foundation for No. 85 on Sec. 29, 21-17, and is expected to be drilling soon. Shell's Dixon No. 1 on Sec. 35, 21-17, is below 6385 feet, while Associated, Richfield, Union, Pacific Western, Milham, Continental, North American and Petroleum Securities have active projects on the north dome.

Production Gain

The Superior Oil Company's Huffman No. 1 on the north dome at Kettleman Hills is indulging in a new burst of daily production and yesterday was flowing at the rate of 15,200 barrels of 45-deg. gravity oil per day from a depth of 8324 feet. Superior's well is yielding considerably less gas per barrel of oil than other producers there. It is putting out 5000 cubic feet of gas per barrel, as against 25,000 to 35,000 cubic feet per barrel from other producers. This is due to the gas zone penetrated by other operators while Superior's project is believed to be flowing from the bottom of the oil zone.

Operators Cleaning Up

Wooden derricks which collapsed because of the recent heavy windstorm that swept the town-lot area of the Huntington Beach field are being removed or repaired by the various oil companies. The Wilshire Oil Company has cleaned up derrick of No. 13, which crashed onto the Superior Oil Company's property adjoining it. Property of Standard also was damaged in the same mishap.

The John Marion Oil Company lost considerable oil when tanks collapsed because of the high wind. Six hundred barrels of oil poured into the streets. Nearly a dozen derricks collapsed throughout the entire field, a number of which will not be replaced.

Bailing Test

The Prairie Oil and Gas Company's Sexton No. 1, due east of the Ventura-avenue field, yesterday was preparing to make a bailing test. This project was recemented at 7321 feet with bottom of the hole at 7518 feet, and is searching for a continuation of the Ventura-avenue field.

Standing Recemented

Cement plug is expected to be drilled out Friday in the Ring Oil Company's W.M.C. No. 1, in the Los Cerritos field. This undertaking came in a week ago from a depth of 7550 feet, but was a little wet and was recemented for another water shutoff test. Ring's Sam Johnston No. 1 continues to yield at the rate of 100 barrels daily from a depth of 7450 feet.

Slower Progress

Drilling operations have been slower in the Mohawk Petroleum Company's Wharton No. 1 in the Weed Patch district nine miles southeast of Bakersfield, where the Shell Oil Company's Porter-Day No. 1 recently opened up a new oil field.

Mohawk's Wharton No. 1 is drilling below 4500 feet and should it complete as a producer indications are that additional projects will be started there. Shell's Porter-Day No. 1 is deepening and is below 6200 feet and the company's Porter No. 1-1 is below 3840 feet.

Steady Producer

Searching for Temblor

The Birch-Royer Oil Company's Maricopa No. 2 on Sec. 7, 11-23 at Maricopa Flat is the deepest active project in that district and is drilling below 7700 feet and searching for the Temblor zone. The Contact and Signal zones were passed up by Birch-Royer in favor of the deep test. So far oil and showings have not justified a production test, according to field reports. This undertaking is expected to drill through the brown shale formation and continue to at least 8500 feet in depth.

NEW YORK BOND PRICES

NEW YORK, Dec. 2. (AP)—Stability returned to the bond market today. The further improvement in the share market tended to check urgent selling that has been a recent disturbing factor, and bonds more accurately reflected the favorable conditions in the money market than they have in some time.

While the better tone developed in a quiet session, high-grade domestic bonds which normally respond to easy money were only slightly higher.

The turnover in United States government bonds dwindled to small proportions from the peak of activity reached yesterday. Liberty 3½s and Liberty First 4¼s closed to within a small fraction of their year's highs, while short term Treasury issues declined further. Treasury 3⅜s sagged ⅛.

A moderate inquiry for some South American and European bonds gave the foreign list a firm appearance.

In the railroad section improvement was most marked in Denver, Rio Grande and Western 5s, Pennsylvania general 4½s and St. Louis Southwestern 5s.

A sharp advance in Warner Brothers 6s, in very active trading, was a feature of the stock privilege issues. The issue closed at 72, compared with its recent low of 65¾.

The closing price is omitted when same as the low and both low and close when same as high.

STEADIER TONE RULES TRADING

The market met a minor interruption to the upward trend in the forenoon when selling of Mack Truck, which broke 4 points, unsettled parts of the list. Announcement of the dividend reduction was followed by prompt covering by shorts who apparently had expected a larger cut and general prices again picked up the thread of the advance.

United States Steel, with a gain of 2 5-8, was a feature. There was net improvement of about a point in Bethlehem, Vanadium, McKeesport, Republic and Otis, among the steels, but only fractional gains in General Electric, Westinghouse, General Motors, American Telephone, Radio and North American. Johns Manville and Allied Chemical rose 2. There were advances of a point or more in National Biscuit, Standard Brands and others. Rails were irregular, but coppers averaged about a point higher. The day's sales of 1,579,620 shares were considerably above Monday's.

Grain Futures Follow Corn in General Upturn

CHICAGO, Dec. 2. (AP)—Soaring prices [illegible] became the center of attraction [illegible] for grain traders, corn showing a [illegible] rise of 4⅝ over quotations [illegible] last week. With arrivals of corn [illegible] reduced to nearly the vanishing point, and with but slim apparent [illegible] of any increased movement of [illegible] away from farms, the corn market [illegible] itself quickly responsive to cold [illegible] likely to enlarge feeding demand. [illegible] said corn for delivery, as [illegible] as next summer, commanded 5 [illegible] a bushel over the Chicago [illegible] delivery, whereas the usual rate [illegible] the Chicago price less freight.

[illegible] closing quotations on corn were [illegible] at the topmost level reached, 1⅝@[illegible] than yesterday's finish. Wheat [illegible] 1¼ cents up, oats at ⅝@1⅛ [illegible] and provisions unchanged to [illegible] of 20 cents.

[illegible] total of primary arrivals of corn [illegible] 323,000 bushels, against 878,000 [illegible] on the corresponding day in 1929. [illegible] receipts of corn in Chicago were [illegible]-seven cars, an amount not [illegible] to meet local needs.

[illegible] sympathized with corn market [illegible] and also was affected by word [illegible] bushels decrease of world's [illegible] stocks.

Robert H. Lucas, executive director of the committee, pointed out the statements were sent in connection with records of the controversy previously turned over to Congress.

NOTABLE FLYER TO REJOIN NAVY

Ben Wyatt Comes Back From Peruvian Mission

Was Aviation Teacher Three Years in Republic

Resigns on Being Assigned to Inactive Duty

BY WAYNE B. CAVE

Lieutenant-Commander Ben Wyatt, one of the Navy's most distinguished flyers, returned with Mrs. Wyatt and their daughter Elizabeth on the liner Ginyo Maru yesterday, after three years directing instruction in naval aviation for the Peruvian government.

LIEUT. COM. BEN WYATT.

They were on a ship bound from London to Peru when the Peruvian revolution occurred and missed it, but reached a hotel in Buenos Aires just as a battle starting across the street upset the Argentine government. They saw many fall in the firing and the La Prensa newspaper plant burned.

Returning to Lima, the new administration put him on inactive duty, and he resigned. He has ten days' leave before rejoining the American battle fleet as commanding officer of Observation Squadron Four, and will be on the staff of Rear-Admiral Luke McNamee, commander of Battleship Division Four.

Wyatt said the Peruvian army, navy and commercial aviation have fifty modern American planes; that the mountainous country lends itself naturally to aviation, and one 900-mile air-mail route now spans in two days a country heretofore taking a month by wagon, auto, canoe, afoot and by skiffs.

Wyatt said Capt. H. B. Grow, a former navy officer, in charge of all Peruvian aviators, was imprisoned by the new administration, charged with aiding the former President, Gen. Leguia, but later was released pending trial. Commander Wyatt added that Gen. Leguia may visit Southern California later.

The returning officer is one of America's pioneer flyers, one of his exploits, the aerial survey of Alaska, winning him the Distinguished Flying Cross in 1926.

FLOATING CANNERY OVERDUE AT HARBOR

The Mexican floating cannery Calmex, with sixty souls aboard, yesterday was reported five days overdue at San Pedro from the Santa Barbara group of islands, where she went November 21 to pack sardines.

The ship's failure to put in an appearance was disclosed when Louis Bernstein, one of the owners, aboard, failed to return last week-end to the mainland to attend the wedding of his brother, Henry.

Shipping men discredited alarms about the ship's safety, pointing to the absence of storms, and to the fact that the vessel is 200 feet long, built of steel, and entirely seaworthy.

The Calmex is the former Federalship and Aquila, famous as a rum ship until the Bernstein Brothers bought her and fitted her for packing a year ago. Last spring she packed a few sardines off Mexico, and ten days ago essayed the adventure into California waters to be the first foreign cannery ever to operate off these shores. She has besides the crew and two score cannery workers, an inspector from the California Fish and Game Commission aboard to check her compliance with State law. Capt. Bravos is in command.

Gen. Augusto Leguia, recently deposed President of Peru, may visit Southern California during the present winter, according to a cousin, Mrs. Eleodoro Rouillone, who arrived here yesterday from Peru on the Nippon Yusen Kaisha liner Ginyo Maru. Senor Leguia is still at Lima.

Mrs. Rouillone was among the thirty-three passengers, disembarking here before the ship sails today direct for Japan. She was met at the ship by her husband, who was Peruvian Consul at San Francisco until the recent revolt. They will motor to that city today.

Inclusion in the conference by a line of its extensions in oriental and Antipodes service beyond routes now recognized by the Transpacific Passenger Conference has been authorized by the United States Shipping Board. Lines include American Mail, Canadian-Australasian Royal Mail, Canadian Pacific, Dollar, Lassco and Matson, N.Y.K. and Union Steamship Company of New Zealand. Passengers entitled to reduced fare also are defined, without including American and British diplomatic, judicial or military officers, heretofore favored.

Two rumors reviving hope for the crew of a dozen men on the sixty-foot San Pedro fishing boat Fidelity, long overdue, were discounted yesterday on the return of two Coast Guard patrol boats. One found no signs of life on San Nicolas Island, where a signal fire had been reported. The other found old driftwood at Manhattan Beach, thought to have been part of the lost boat, but said to be from a dismantled film craft. The Fidelity is believed to have been blown to sea and sunk in the windstorm three weeks ago.

The sixty-nine-foot motor craft Juan B., flying the Mexican flag, was reported being chartered yesterday by unnamed persons to clear for Guaymas, Mex., in a day or so. Reported to be in the possession of Mrs. Marcella Dellan, the ship's papers on file at local customs offices show the owner to be Dave Goldbaum of Ensenada.

Charles Cooper, 84 years of age, veteran marine engineer, was found dead in his hotel room at 110 West Sixth street, San Pedro, yesterday of heart failure. He was in the American Navy during the Spanish-American War, and has been operating out of San Pedro for thirty years.

DRY GROUP ELECTION FUND TOLD

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2. (AP)—Edward B. Dunford, treasurer of the Anti-Saloon League campaign committee, informed the Senate Campaign Funds Committee today the league received $6875 from 750 contributors and spent $5891 for political purposes in the 1930 election campaigns.

Dunford said a balance of $983 exists, but unpaid bills probably will remove it. In the primary campaign, Dunford listed receipts of $9029 from 650 contributors and expenditures of $8720.

Dunford said the funds did not include money spent by State anti-saloon leagues. He promised Chairman Nye to obtain all these figures possible.

The league sent $1200 into States where there were wet and dry contestants, including $200 to Delaware to be used for Senator Hastings, Republican, who defeated former Senator Bayard, Democrat.

A total of $950 was sent to Montana for use in the Republican primary race of O. P. Shelley against Albert J. Galen.

HUNTERS DIE TRAPPED BY LODGE FIRE

Four Men Dead and Six Wounded When Eastern Shooting Camp Burns

OTIS (Mass.) Dec. 2. (AP)—Four hunters perished and six others were burned and wounded by exploding shells when a camp in which fourteen men were housed was destroyed by fire near here early this morning.

The dead are Otto Rittner and Joseph Genniv of New Britain, Ct., and Thomas Hill and Daniel Reilly of Shelton, Ct.

The hunters were awakened when a stove exploded. The fire gained headway so rapidly boxes of shotgun shells soon began to discharge.

Ten of the men, scantily clad, jumped through windows of the two-story cottage, but the other four were trapped by the flames. The weather was frigid.

The camp was located half a mile from the nearest telephone and it was only after farmers noticed the flames aid arrived. The injured men were rushed to a hospital when residents arrived in automobiles.

EINSTEIN ADDRESSES JEWRY

Scientist on Eve of Sailing Warns Compatriots to Stand Together Against Hostility

NEW YORK, Dec. 2. (AP)—A message from Prof. Albert Einstein urging Jews to strengthen their "self-consciousness and solidarity" in the face of "aggressive anti-Semitism" in European countries was made public today by the Zionist organization of America.

The message, the Zionists said, was intended as a greeting to American Jewry on the occasion of the Maccabean festival to be held here the 13th inst.

Expressing "deep disappointment at the attitude taken toward Palestine by the British government and its bureaucratic officials," Prof. Einstein said the reaction to it by Jews the world over "is proof of their indissoluble bond with the upbuilding of Palestine."

"We Jews," he said, "are everywhere subject to attacks and humiliations that result from the exaggeration of nationalism and racial vanity which, in most European countries, expresses itself in the form of aggressive anti-Semetism. In such a time we Jews must strengthen our self-consciousness and solidarity. This can be obtained in no other way than by united participation in rebuilding of the Jewish national home in Palestine."

EINSTEIN AND WIFE SAIL FOR AMERICA

ANTWERP (Belgium) Dec. 2. (AP) Prof. Albert Einstein and Frau Einstein left here at noon aboard the liner Belgenland for the United States, where they will visit with friends.

Nobody saw them except a handful of newspaper men and the German Consul, who was at the dock with a bouquet for Frau Einstein.

"I hope this trip will make him feel better," the scientist's wife said. "He looks so pale. He never takes enough rest. I'm glad he decided to take this holiday."

Somebody told Prof. Einstein there was a radiophone aboard the ship so he might talk with friends on either side of the ocean whenever he felt like it.

"I hope," said he, "these journalists are not going to call me up in the middle of the ocean and ask me how I slept the night before." It was his parting thrust at the newspaper men who have prepared him for the attack of interviewers in New York.

YOUTH PAYS FIDDLER FOR LAST FLING

Cashier Told Death Sure in Year Padded Pay Roll, Now Must Serve Term

NEW YORK, Dec. 2. (Exclusive) "My boy, you have tuberculosis—can't live more than a year," the doctor told James L. Person, 25 years of age, one day last year.

Pay-roll clerk for the Herald-Tribune, the youth decided not to spend his final year in sorrow nor in prayer. He began adding fictitious names to the pay roll and pocketing the money. In all he pocketed $4980.

He used the money to celebrate his impending death. Along Broadway he passed as a happy fellow, one without a care. He lived more in that year than he had lived in all of the twenty-four preceding ones.

But one day, about five weeks ago, he looked at his calendar. The year of grace had slipped by and he was still alive. Then Jimmy Person got panicky. He had expected that his peculations would be discovered only when he was dead. He fled from the office, illegally cashing three $50 checks. He was gone for five weeks. Then he came back and gave up.

He told his story in General Sessions Court today and asked for mercy, but officials of the Royal Indemnity Company, which had made good the loss, said the crime had been deliberate. Justice Allen sent Person to Elmira Reformatory for an indeterminate sentence.

Einstein Dirige un Mensaje a la Judería

NUEVA YORK, Diciembre 2.—Ha sido publicado hoy por la sociedad sionista de los Estados Unidos un mensaje del profesor Einstein, en el que este sabio encarece a los judíos que fortalezcan su "solidaridad y la conciencia de su propio valer", para hacer frente al "antisemitismo agresivo" de los países europeos.

Dicen los sionistas que tal mensaje fue enviado como un saludo a la judería yanqui con ocasión del festival macabeo que habrá de celebrarse aquí el 13 del actual.

Manifestándose "hondamente desengañado por la actitud del gobierno británico y sus burócratas para con la Palestina", el profesor Einstein dice que la reacción del mundo judío ante dicha actitud "da la prueba de los lazos indisolubles que lo ligan con el progreso del país de su origen".

"Nosotros los judíos", agregó el sabio, "somos en todas partes objeto de ataques y humillaciones resultantes de esa exageración de nacionalismo y vanidad racial que, en la mayoría de los países europeos, se manifiesta en forma de antisemitismo agresivo. En épocas como ésta, preciso es que los judíos afirmemos nuestra solidaridad y la conciencia de nuestro propio valer. Sólo podremos conseguir esto participando colectivamente en la reconstrucción de nuestra patria judía en Palestina."

AMBERES (Bélgica) Diciembre 2. El profesor Albert Einstein y Frau Einstein partieron de aquí hoy a mediodía a bordo del transatlántico "Belgenland" para los Estados Unidos, donde visitarán a sus amigos.

Nadie los vio, salvo un pequeño grupo de reporteros y el cónsul alemán, que fue al muelle con un ramillete para Frau Einstein. "Espero", dijo ésta, "que el viaje le traiga mejoría. Está muy pálido; nunca descansa bastante. Estoy contenta de que decidiera tomarse estas vacaciones."

Alguien dijo al profesor Einstein que había un radiófono a bordo del buque, por si se le ofrecía hablar con sus amigos de cualquier lado del océano.

"Espero", replicó él, "que no vayan a darme llamadas los periodistas en medio del océano para preguntarme cómo pasé la noche anterior." Fue el dardo que les lanzó de despedida a los periodistas de aquel lado, que ya lo prepararon para el ataque de los chicos de la prensa neoyorquina.

Hoover Inicia el Torbellino Social en Washington

WASHINGTON, Diciembre 2.—En esta ciudad donde "reunión social" y "sesión" son en cierto modo sinónimos y tienen innumerables puntos de contacto, ha comenzado a voltear esta noche, con la comida dada por el presidente a su gabinete, la brillantísima rueda de los banquetes, tertulias y reuniones del mes final de 1930.

Simbólico quizá de la superabundancia que ofrece la temporada, el brillante banquete de esta noche pasará a la historia por el hecho inusitado de haberse hallado presentes en él dos ministros del Trabajo: el saliente, señor James J. Davis, y el recién nombrado, señor William N. Doak.

Washington estuvo haciendo todo el día conjeturas a media voz respecto a quién de los dos estaría calificado para ocupar un asiento a la mesa adornada de crisantemos, que había sido arreglada en el comedor de ceremonia. Davis no dejaba el gabinete hasta el día de hoy, y Doak no prestaba aún el juramento oficial. Pero la señora Hoover, con exquisito tacto social, resolvió el dilema Doak-Davis sentando a ambos a su mesa. Fue, pues, un banquete de despedida para uno y de bienvenida para el otro.

Muchacha que se Defiende de un Ataque

La señorita Julia Nermoe, del 5623 de la avenida Fountain, por haber aceptado un asiento en el auto de un desconocido, iba a ser víctima ayer de odioso atentado, según parte dado a la policía por la misma joven.

"Estaba yo esperando el tranvía en el refugio de la esquina de la calle de Valencia y el bulevar de Pico", declaró la joven, "cuando se acercó en su coche un hombre respetable al parecer, que me invitó a subir. Como el tranvía se tardaba, acepté su oferta."

El individuo en cuestión, en vez de llevar a la pasajera a su casa, condujo el coche hasta un solar desocupado cercano al Hospital de San Vicente, y allí, según ella manifiesta, trató de violentarla.

"Resulté demasiado fuerte para él", declara la joven, "y lo mantuve a distancia luchando contra él. Comencé luego a dar voces, que atrajeron a varias personas, las que acudieron corriendo."

Cuando los transeúntes se acercaban ya a rescatar a la muchacha, su atacante dio a ésta un golpe en la cara y la arrojó fuera del coche, según reza el testimonio prestado por la quejosa. Hecho esto, se dio a la fuga el agresor.

A la señorita Nermoe hubo que darle tratamiento de urgencia en el cercano hospital, pues presentaba negra equimosis en un ojo y erosiones en la cara.

SICKNESS COST CURB PROPOSED

Radiologists' Convention Hears Scientists

Fight on Cancer Gains Through Publicity

Irradiation and Surgery Held Only Cure

The high cost of sickness can be combated best by periodic medical inspection, in the opinion of Dr. Joseph Colt Bloodgood, world-famous cancer specialist of Johns Hopkins University. The doctor is a principal here in the Radiological Society's sixteenth annual meeting. Select a physician while well and go to him regularly for examination and advice, especially after having passed 40 years of age, is what Dr. Bloodgood advises.

One of life's tragic things came to light at yesterday's meeting of the society, whose members have come from many parts of the United States to tell each other the latest in discoveries of the influence of the strange rays that emanate from radium, the X-ray tube and other sources. Many of them were looking forward with enthusiasm to one of the lead papers which was to disclose the findings of Dr. Mark Brown of Ogden, Utah.

KNOWLEDGE LOST

Dr. Brown has carried on experiments which appeared to indicate that by his X-ray device and data the sex of an unborn child can be determined at an early stage in its development. He was to have laid his information before the society at this meeting. But about two months ago, Dr. Brown was stricken and died. From his widow, officers of the society have heard that Dr. Brown's paper to have been read to the meeting cannot be found. The radiologists are trying to determine how best Dr. Brown's accumulation of knowledge in this remote field can be salvaged.

Dr. Bloodgood delivered the principal address at last night's meeting. He took the medical, dental and nursing professions to task for not making more use of the press to disseminate correct information on disease combating.

"If we had done as much along this line as we have done in advancing diagnosis and treatment," Dr. Bloodgood said, "cancer would rapidly fall from its second place among the causes of death in the civilized world."

WARNINGS EFFECTIVE

Were it not for the fact, Dr. Bloodgood said, that newspapers so frequently carry to the public the warnings of the cancer experts to consult doctors about suspicious lumps and symptoms the number of deaths from this disease would be much greater.

"The press of this country," he said, "has given sufficient publicity to this protective information to increase the cures of cancer of the bone from the time in 1921 when they were about 4 per cent to 30 per cent in 1930."

Cure of cancer by surgery, he said, remains in about the same status that it has for a number of years. But cure of cancer by X-rays and radium, he said, has increased at a considerable rate. However, he credited much of this to the fact that persons show up sooner now than formerly for treatments and do not wait until they reach a hopeless stage. He said:

"There is no evidence of any five-year or permanent cure of cancer by any treatment other than surgery or irradiation which cannot be explained by either the fact that the condition was not cancer or the fact that the individual lived longer than the usual age duration of the cancer in the body.

ONLY CURES

"It is high time for the united, highly educated members of the medical and dental profession to let the people know through the press that at the present time there is no cure or management of cancer except surgical removal with and with irradiation or irradiation alone. In many instances irradiation should be tried first. In others surgery first. The people should learn their warnings from the press or from medical inspection and report at once to one competent to bring the patient in contact with a diagnostic clinic or group in which diagnosis, operative surgery and irradiation are combined. By education alone the cure of cancer, with even the means which we have today, can be increased from 10 to 80 per cent. Education will prevent much of it altogether."

Dr. Bloodgood made his address in Trinity Auditorium at a public meeting. It was indorsed before delivery by Los Angeles County Medical Society's council of officers. Today's sessions of the society

"Ma" Kennedy Arms Herself With Bulldog

"Ma" Kennedy and Jiggs

"Ma" Kennedy, mother of Aimee Semple McPherson, pastor of Angelus Temple, yesterday countered the strategy which placed armed guards about the home of her daughter last week, in what she believes was an attempt to keep her from seeing the evangelist, by installing a large bulldog on the front steps of her home.

"This old bulldog will beat any of their old temple guards with their popguns," said Mrs. Kennedy yesterday. "If any half-wits go to strolling around my yard they are going to buy a new pair of trousers. Jiggs bites and thinks it over afterwards."

In the meantime Mrs. McPherson, who made her first appearance at the temple Sunday morning since her nervous breakdown last August, following an asserted fistic battle with her mother, together with her secretary, May Waldron, left her home adjoining the temple for a few days at the beach, according to Business Manager F. C. Winters, who refused to divulge the destination. It was also announced that she is much improved.

Guards have been withdrawn at the temple and the padlocked gates and alleyways are again open to the public. Scores of cars still drive past and gaze at the white stucco dwelling of the evangelist.

Mrs. Kennedy said friends of hers who feared that she might be harmed by members of the temple or by fanatics who might attempt to force their way into her home gave her Jiggs, the bulldog, to guard her.

SUIT FILED TO CANCEL GIFT TO EVANGELIST

Mrs. Catherine McAdams acted under an "insane delusion" when she deeded $18,000 worth of property to Aimee Semple McPherson, Angelus Temple pastor, it is asserted in a suit to cancel the deed, filed by J. Edward McKeand, uncle of Mrs. McAdams, yesterday.

Superior Judge Allen recently set aside a will of Mrs. McAdams which gave a $30,000 bequest to Mrs. McPherson, Angelus Temple, and the International Church of the Four Square Gospel, on grounds that he decedent was incompetent when the will was made. According to the ruling, Mrs. McAdams gave the property to the church and the evangelist as a thank offering for the cure of the ailment from which she died.

In the suit filed yesterday McKeand and C. C. Pease, who claims an interest in the property in Elysian Heights, ask an injunction to prevent the defendant from transferring the property, and also ask for an accounting. As an alternative $18,000 damages is asked.

REFLECTOR SITE SELECTION NEAR

Two Locations Favored in Tests for Huge Disc

Big Pines Area Well Suited for New Observatory

Palomar Mountain Also Fit for Gigantic Telescope

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

PASADENA, Dec. 2.—The world's greatest telescope, the 200-inch reflecting instrument which is expected, figuratively, to bring the earth within speaking distance of the moon and planets, probably will be located either on Table Mountain, one miles from Big Pines County Park, or on Palomar Mountain, twelve miles northeast of Escondido.

This information was obtained today from unofficial but authentic sources. Dr. John A. Anderson, of the Mt. Wilson Observatory, in charge of atmospheric tests made at nearly a score of possible sites, admitted that observations are being made at only two sites at the present time, but declined to verify reports that these are at Table Mountain and Palomar Mountain.

ADVANTAGES LISTED

Observations at Table Mountain are being taken in the vicinity of a small observatory established by the Smithsonian Institute. This site has the advantage of being within a mile of the hotel at Big Pines County Park, and of being on a direct road from either San Bernardino or Palmdale. It is in the northeast corner of the Angeles National Forest and thus under government protection. When the road being constructed from the Arroyo Seco through the Mt. Wilson back country is completed, the Table Mountain site will be less than sixty miles by automobile from the laboratories of the 200-inch telescope which are now under construction on the California Institute of Technology campus. The altitude of Table Mountain is 7500 feet, which is 1500 feet higher than the 100-inch instrument on Mt. Wilson, now the world's largest telescope.

Palomar Mountain, located in San Diego county, six miles east of the Riverside county line, has an altitude of 6126 feet, comparable to that of Mt. Wilson.

LABORATORY UNDER WAY

The Palomar site is about seventy-five miles from this city, in the Cleveland National Forest. A forest lookout stands guard on the peak during the fire season. The nearest town of any size is Aguanga, eight miles distant. In the event that this site is selected for the 200-inch observatory it is said that a considerable amount of road building will be required.

The machine shop, a large building in which the 200-inch telescope mountings will be made, has been completed on the California Institute campus and construction of the great astrophysics laboratory, in which results of the 200-inch telescope observations will be calculated, has been started.

The 200-inch lens, to be made of fused quartz instead of glass, will be constructed in the East and it is planned to ship it by boat to California instead of train because of its immense size. Small sample fused quartz discs have been tested in the Mt. Wilson Observatory laboratory on Santa Barbara street.

Aviatrix Will Support Drive for Air Mail

Ruth Nichols's first two public appearances following her record-breaking transcontinental flight will be in support of the "speed up business with air mail" campaign now nearing an end under the sponsorship of the Los Angeles Junior Chamber of Commerce. Miss Nichols will broadcast tonight over the new United chain and tomorrow noon will be a guest of honor at the luncheon at the Biltmore, which marks the end of the air-mail campaign.

All four air mail lines radiating from Los Angeles are sending their star pilots to the luncheon, which is open to the public.

AID ON FOOT FOR JOBLESS

Harvey Fremming, Labor Commission Deputy, Named to Start Work of Making Work for Idle

Concrete action toward the relief of unemployment in Los Angeles county was taken late yesterday when Harvey C. Fremming, deputy State Labor Commissioner and president of the Long Beach Central Labor Council, was chosen director of employment stabilization for municipalities within the boundaries of the county.

Fremming was selected for county-wide activity at the suggestion of the citizens' committee organized at the Hall of Records last week to study the unemployment problem in Los Angeles county.

Relative to the appointment of the Long Beach man, Supervisor Shaw, chairman of the citizens' committee, last night said:

"The appointment of Mr. Fremming is to set up active machinery in the county, the city of Los Angeles and other municipalities, approaching the unemployment situation from the affirmative with a view to stabilizing work, creating additional employment and providing emergency aid for bona fide residents of Los Angeles county.

"Also to create immediately by the chairman of the citizens' committee, various subcommittees to contact all employers of labor to bring about a uniform adoption of a five-day work week and ending the psychological fear caused by curtailment of employment.

"The committees will be appointed before the end of the week after Mr. Fremming is officially appointed by the Board of Supervisors at its meeting Wednesday.

Fremming's selection to head the work stabilizing activity in the county was approved yesterday afternoon at a conference of the fact-finding committee of the county-wide citizens' committee. The committee is comprised of Dr. Milbank Johnson, capitalist; Edward A. Dickson, publisher; E. J. Fleming, president of the Downtown Business Men's Association, and Mrs. J. K. Lytle, president of the Parent-Teacher Association.

Dr. Johnson was announced as a member of the committee yesterday

WESTLAKE PARK SPAN SUPPORTED

Meeting in Mayor's Office Approves Bridge Project for Wilshire Boulevard

In a group of approximately fifty persons in Mayor Porter's office yesterday, representing city departments and improvement associations, only three, when a vote was taken, opposed the connection of the two ends of Wilshire Boulevard through Westlake Park.

Three plans were discussed, these being a tunnel, a bridge and a roadway at grade around the edge of the lake. The bridge project appeared to receive the most favor. Estimates of costs varied from $150,000 to $750,000.

Further consideration was deferred thirty days, during which time the City Engineer's staff will make a survey and draw up a report. A model of the bridge plan, which calls for a small island in the center of the lake to uphold piers, is on display in the lobby of the City Hall.

Whatever plan is utilized, said Robert S. Breyer, president of the Traffic Commission, the beauty of the park and lake must be retained.

Besides Mayor Porter, city engineers, park and planning commissioners, the gathering included Lemuel Freer, Downtown Business Men's Association; Burt Roberts, Motor Car Dealers' Association; J. W. McNair, Wilshire Boulevard Association; E. C. Mitchell, Retail Drygoods Merchants' Association; Paul J. Robinson, Wilshire Business Association; Dr. Louis Ford, Wilshire Boulevard Chamber of Commerce; C. J. S. Williamson, Chamber of Commerce; Mrs. W. Reid, Ebell Club; Charles Cooper, Miracle Mile Association, and S. A. Judd, City Club.

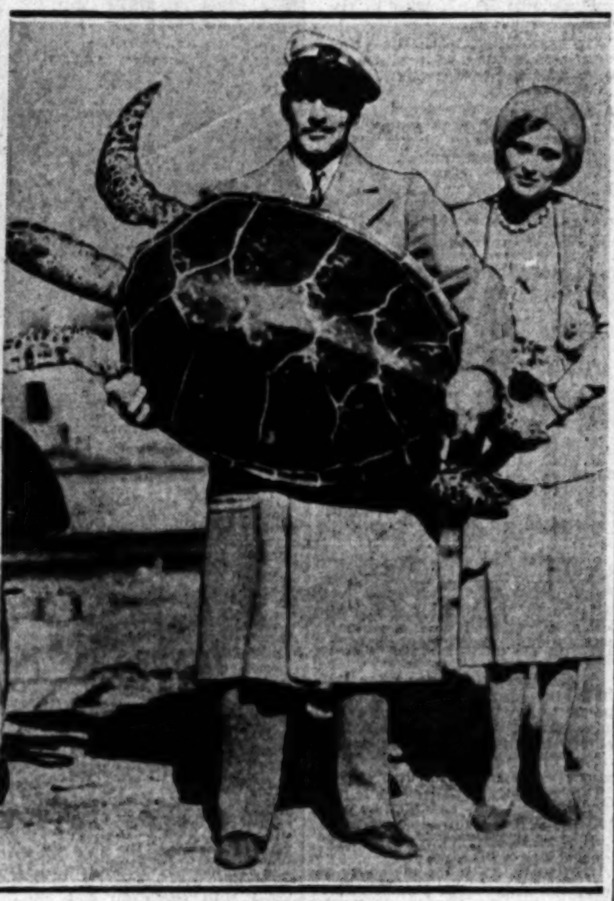
BARRYMORES BRING TROPHIES

Giant Turtle One Prize of Long Cruise



Mr. and Mrs. John Barrymore

(By a Times Staff Correspondent)

LONG Beach, Dec. 2.—John Barrymore and family returned today from a 550-mile cruise and fishing trip to Guatemala in the Barrymore yacht Infanta.

Barrymore, his wife, Dolores Costello Barrymore, and their infant child enjoyed the trip greatly, the actor reported. A truckload of trophies taken in fishing waters of Central America were unloaded when the yacht docked at the Craig shipyards here. Huge turtles, vertebrae of a whale taken from a skeleton found on a Central America beach, and skins of prize fish filled a transfer truck which left for the Barrymore home. The Barrymores departed for their home in the Beverly Hills district as soon as the yacht docked.

Leaving here September 27, last, the Infanta cruised in Mexican and Central American waters, stopping where fishing and shore attractions appealed to the film family. Capt. Otto Matthies reported a splendid trip and good conditions during the two months' voyage, which had San Jose de Guatemala as its southern terminus.

JUDGE JOHN L. FLEMING

Superior Judge Fleming, after nine years of service on the Los Angeles county Superior Court bench, will assume the position of presiding judge January 2, having been elected to that post at a meeting of judges.

Judge Fleming's election was almost unanimous, thirty-six out of thirty-eight judges present voting for him. Judge Fleming ranks next in seniority to Superior Judge Doran, whose term as presiding judge is about to end. The motion to elect Judge Fleming was made by Superior Judge Burnell and seconded by Superior Judge Tappaan.

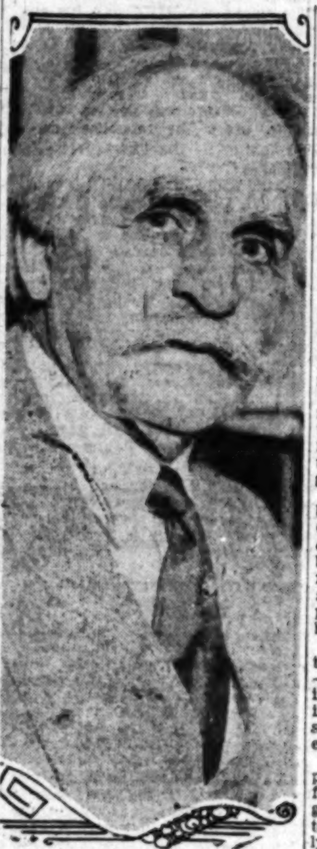
A third transcontinental air route between Los Angeles and New York will be opened for passenger travel the 10th inst., according to J. B. Alexander, western manager for Southern Air Fast Express division of American Airways.

This is made possible by establishment of passenger service on that date by Eastern Air Transport, operators of the line between Atlanta and New York. Connection is made at Atlanta with Southern Air Fast Express. Stopovers are included at all of the principal cities en route, which include Phoenix, Tucson, El Paso, Fort Worth, Dallas, Jackson, Shreveport, Washington, Baltimore and Philadelphia.

WRITING RENAISSANCE HERALDED BY GARLAND



Hamlin Garland

A great renaissance in literature has become marked in the United States during the past year, with "animalism or realism" being supplanted by more imaginative and idealistic effort, and through the medium of better radio programs a sounder culture is being manifest in the nation.

Such was the opinion expressed yesterday by Hamlin Garland, famous author, who has arrived in Los Angeles to spend the winter with his daughters, Mrs. Hardesty Johnson and Mrs. Joseph W. Harper, at Laughlin Park.

"There has been a distinct departure," Mr. Garland said, "from animalism or realism in literature which followed us up to this year from the World War period to more imaginative and idealistic effort.

"I believe that there will be a more pronounced movement along this line as we get farther away from the war and its horrors, and the general reaction will have a good effect on literary work."

To support his contention that better literature is finding favor, Mr. Garland directs attention to Wilder's "Death Comes for the Archbishop"—two distinct departures from the general trend of novels since the war—and asserts their popularity to be evidence of a broad desire for better writing.

Mr. Garland is particularly enthusiastic over the future of radio—which he declares the greatest invention for the dissemination of information and good learning since movable type—"a great power of unknown possibilities."

Broadcasting of operas and good plays, he affirms, will have a profound effect on the public taste generally, and he is not so sure that the best of literature presently will not be sent on to the air and

ROBBERY TIDE STILL RISES

With November Setting Record Present Month Starts Out With Higher Daily Figures

While two belated reports boosted the unprecedented total of robberies during November, last, to 275, complete reports on this class of crime tabulated at the police statistician's office yesterday showed the first twenty-four hours of this month with still a higher daily figure than that for the first day of November. Ten robberies were reported as compared with seven last month.

Six more robberies occurred between midnight and 7 a.m., increasing this month's total to sixteen. These figures indicate that, unless some combative effort is made by police to curtail the increase, this month will end with even a higher record than that set for all previous months, in November.

Torture was employed by two bandits in an effort to compel Camille Alex, 23 years of age, a maid, to reveal the whereabouts of the jewels of her mistress, Mrs. W. Reibold, 13515 De Este street, West Los Angeles.

The bandits, wearing black handkerchief masks, knocked on the door. One placed a hand over the maid's mouth when she responded, and she was dragged to the house laundry adjoining the garage. They beat the girl, who refused to give any information. She finally freed herself sufficiently to scream, and the bandits ran out of the laundry and escaped.

Two bandits, armed with revolvers, and moving from place to place in a hired taxicab, held up clerks of three downtown hotels within half an hour shortly after 2 a.m.

They first appeared at the Stillwell Hotel at Ninth street and Grand avenue, where S. T. Kuhns, night clerk, was forced to lie down on the floor behind the counter while being robbed of $30. The bandits also took two handbags belonging to a guest as they left.

Flagging a passing taxicab driven by George Kruger, the bandits then drove to the Hotel Trenton at 427 South Olive street. Kruger, unaware that he was transporting bandits, waited while the pair held

BANK ROBBER SHOT IN FIGHT

Citizen Also Wounded in Hold-up Gun Battle

Two Other Bandits Captured Fleeing From Spot

Western Avenue Scene of Struggle With Outlaws

An hour after three armed and masked bandits robbed the Sixty-ninth-street-and-Western-avenue branch, Security-First National Bank of Los Angeles of $1500, about 3 p.m. yesterday, and attempted to shoot their way to freedom, one was in a dying condition in Georgia-street Receiving Hospital and his two accomplices were in jail.

A grocery clerk who stepped in the line of fire between the bandits and an armed citizen also was taken to Georgia-street Hospital with a bullet wound in his abdomen, but he is expected to recover.

Phillip Holden, 28 years of age, of 535 Lillian Way, was shot through the head by Gordon Corson of 2420 Southwest Drive, as he sat in the bandits' sedan waiting for Tom Coffey and Delbert Hudson, both transients, as they herded six employees of the bank into a corner and rifled the three tellers' tills.

GUNS FLOURISHED

Fifteen customers were in the bank, located on the northwest corner of Sixty-ninth street and Western avenue, when Coffey and Hudson entered, black masks across their faces and brandishing revolvers, according to the report of Detective Lieutenants Murray and Jordan of Seventy-seventh-street division.

"Stick 'em up," they shouted at the bank employees and patrons, John F. O'Brien of 2121 Overland avenue, manager of the bank, recounted.

Hudson leaped to the front counter and stood there covering those in the bank while Coffey herded them into a group, took all the cash he could find in the tellers' cages and started for the front door.

BATTLE STARTS

In the meantime Corson, an employee in the gasoline station opposite the bank, saw Hudson standing on the counter and those in the bank with their hands in the air.

He obtained a pistol in the service station, raced across the street and ordered Holden, waiting in the light sedan with the motor running and the car in gear, to put up his hands.

Instead, Holden turned around and took a shot at Corson. The latter returned the fire and struck Holden in the head. The car, with Holden unconscious at the wheel, leaped forward and crashed into a parked automobile across the street.

The shooting brought Coffey and Hudson dashing out the door, their pistols barking. Corson ducked behind an automobile and fired after them as they raced northward on Western avenue.

GROCERY CLERK HIT

William Palley of 126 West Vernon avenue, the grocery clerk, stepped to the sidewalk from the store where he worked at 6811 South Western avenue just as the fleeing bandits raced by.

They were firing over their shoulders at Corson and one of their bullets struck Pauley.

Percy Rogers, a special deputy sheriff of 1758 West Ninety-ninth street, also took up the pursuit of Coffey and Hudson. Lieuts. Murray and Jordan arrived in a police car as the bandits turned off Western avenue and fled west on Sixty-eighth street.

Coffey raced across the playgrounds of the Horace Mann school through a group of startled school children, scattering currency as he ran. Rogers and Murray cornered him on the school steps and took him back to the bank, where he was identified by the bank employees and customers.

ONE FOUND IN HOUSE

While the officers were interrogating those in the bank, E. F. Triplitt of 1821 West Sixty-eighth street, told them that Hudson was hiding in his house.

Officers J. B. Madison, K. R. Anderson and N. Pitt burst into the house and found Hudson sitting in the front room. He admitted he had crashed in the back door of the Triplitt home, found Mrs. Triplitt reclining on a couch and forced her at gun point to go in a bathroom where he locked her in.

He hid some shotgun shells and revolver bullets under a towel and

THROUGH THE MYSTIC VEIL

In order to settle this argument, I will put Coach Rockne on Notre Dame right; then all the sport boys can go on with their Christmas shopping.

U.S.C. will win that game by the following score: U.S.C., 13; Notre Dame, 7.

U.S.C. will make two touchdowns and fail to convert one.

Are there any other questions you would like to have settled?

ANSWER, SLEUTHS!

The greatest detective mystery that now confronts an eager community—excited almost beyond human endurance—is what became of that snapshot photograph taken of Miss Greta Garbo while engaged in taking her daily sun bath.

UPSTAGE

After all, newspaper reporters have no burning desire to interview anybody. They only reflect the interest of the public. And Miss Adams will have to rely to a great extent on the loyalty of her public.

NEW AGE OF INNOCENCE

At that, a young edition of Maude Adams would be the greatest success that Broadway has seen for twenty years.

Everybody is sick of these cheap and nasty plays. Tin Pan Alley imagines that the world is hanging on the words of Texas Guinan and the smart cracks of the speakeasies.

I have seen a lot of towns in a lot of different countries. Of all of them New York (the version of New York peddled to us by young gentlemen chiefly concerned with the cut of coat lapels) is the dullest.

THE LOVELY TOWNS

This being my morning for settling things, I will announce that the three most charming towns in the known world are as follows:

La Jolla.
Santa Barbara.
Mazatlan in Mexico.

HOPE AND PRAY

Dare we trust that we can now have a rest from hearing any more yawp about the wrongs of the martyred Mooney?

Shriners to Use Christmas Tree Felled by Wind

"It's an ill wind that blows nobody good" became the pet adage yesterday among Shriners of Al Malaikah Temple, as they learned that a twenty-five-foot fir tree, 50 years of age, which was being placed on a platform in the ballroom, had been uprooted during the recent windstorm. It was on the lawn of Albert Sherman, attorney, at 750 South Hobart Boulevard, when the violent gusts tore it loose from the ground.

When tree surgeons advised against replanting it, Sherman, a Noble of Al Malaikah, offered it to Recorder J. Ramsey for the Shrine children's Christmas party on the 13th inst. It is to be decorated with lights and ornaments and form the center of festivities; then left in position for the poor school children's party on the 23rd inst.

ISTER-SLAYING DEFENSE LONG

rgument for Mrs. Weimer to Continue Today

tate Then Will Present Its Rebuttal Statement

nity Trial Would Follow Convicting Verdict

The fate of Mrs. Ruth Weimer, trial for the "mercy killing" of r sister, Mrs. Mabel Steele, on ptember 14, last, still remained the balance yesterday after the tire day had been spent in Superior Judge Fricke's court in earing arguments of Defense Attorney Nathan O. Freedman.

Freedman began his argument onday. His arguments will continue today. When he finishes, eorge Stahlman, deputy District ttorney, is expected to make a ort rebuttal argument. After that e court will instruct the jury and e matter then will be submitted them for decision.

Should Mrs. Weimer be concted of murder or a lesser ofnse, she will face trial as to her nity inasmuch as she pleaded not ilty to the charge by reason of sanity.

The defendant is accused of shooting her sister to death in her home at 418 West Thirty-seventh street, because Mrs. Steele had been grieving over the loss of her two children held by her estranged husband, and because Mrs. Steele frequently had prayed for death.

The prosecution, however, contends that Mrs. Weimer planned the shooting, and therefore, asks a verdict of murder. The defense asserts that the shooting was the result of a sudden fit of emotional amnesia and that the defendant was irresponsible at the time.

KEATON CASE APPEALED

D'Orr Files Brief in Supreme Court for Flint Slayer Charging Prejudicial Errors by Prosecution

With the assertion that natural and humanitarian principles of justice arise formidably against the rule of legal justice, Attorney Paul D'Orr yesterday filed the opening brief in the appeal of Frank D. Keaton from a death sentence for the murder of Motley Flint, Los Angeles financier, in a Los Angeles courtroom.

Attorney D'Orr declared that Keaton was and is insane within the meaning of the law, and asked a reversal of the Superior Court's judgment. The brief was filed with the Supreme Court.

The brief bitterly attacks the prosecution's conduct, declaring the prosecution intimated that he had procured a witness to testify fraudulently that the defendant was insane. He also protested against numerous references by the opposing counsel to him as the attorney of Rev. R. P. Shuler of the Trinity Methodist Church, declaring that such description of him was introduced to produce prejudice in the minds of the jurors.

"We cannot reproduce the vehemence and manner with which the deputy District Attorney hurled into the jury box the phrase adverted to," the brief recites. "He may have had information that among the twelve were some of strong prejudices, offended communicants of the Roman Catholic Church, or implacable opponents of 'Shulerism.'"

The brief also charged errors to the court in its instructions to the jury and in other rulings.

Bandit Identified by Victims

Robber Dragged From Hiding

Delbert Hudson, center, being questioned and searched by police in bank a few minutes after he had been dragged from hiding in a near-by residence. Officer K. R. Anderson, standing at Hudson's side, has just handcuffed Hudson's hands behind his back before permitting bank employees to step forward and identify the suspect as one of the men who shortly before had threatened their lives.

up A. E. Finnity, night clerk, and Herbert Perry, manager, and robbed them of $30.

Again using the taxicab the bandits went to the Victor Hotel at 616 South St. Paul street, where they robbed W. C. Otis of $30. Later they dismissed the cab at another downtown street corner after paying the driver.

Oscar Sarnholm, held up by two bandits in the Hill-street DoNut Shop at 846 South Hill street, was bound and gagged with towels and left in a rear room until a customer released him. The bandits obtained $20.

Within a few minutes after they had been questioned by two motor patrol officers, Fred Moore and Theodore Miller and a small party of friends were held up by a bandit as they stood in front of Moore's and Miller's apartment at 420 South Beaudry street. Hardly had the officers driven off, the victims said, when the bandit appeared. Moore lost $21; Miller, $43, and A. Kelly, one of the guests, $35.

The sixth early morning robbery occurred at a service station at 1187 Sunset Boulevard, where C. W. Hansen was robbed by two automobile bandits of $62.21.

OTHER HOLD-UPS

Before midnight Fred Summers of 4250 Stanford avenue was strong-armed by two Negro bandits at Fifth street and Gladys avenue and robbed of 50 cents; J. R. Bradley reported being held up in a service station at Eighth and Crocker streets by one bandit and robbed of $100; F. C. Dennis was threatened with death by two bandits in his cafe at 788 East Sixteenth street and robbed of $50; Mrs. F. Rosenbaum of 626 South Alvarado street was held up at Seventh street and New Hampshire avenue and robbed of her purse containing $10, and Mrs. W. J. Red was stopped by a bandit armed with a revolver near her home at 532 West Ninety-ninth street and robbed of 40 cents.

BURGLARS BREAK WALL

Breaking a hole in the wall of an adjoining vacant storeroom, burglars late Monday night or early yesterday morning removed watches, rings and other jewelry valued at $1682 from the store of the Golden State Outfitting Company at 4716 Whittier Boulevard, according to a Sheriff's report.

The theft was reported by Sam Krantz, proprietor, and investigation by officers disclosed that after forcing an entrance to the storeroom the thieves leisurely carried out the theft, removing the jewelry from cases and departing after hanging a suit of clothes so as to conceal the opening made in the wall.

At the end of the first twenty-four hours of this month fifteen burglaries were reported, as compared with seventeen last month. Twenty more were reported before noon yesterday.

Three youths were arrested earlier in the day on suspicion of burglary, and search of their room is said to have resulted in the recovery of plunder valued at $15,000 reported taken from Wilshire apartments and homes.

The youths are Douglas Steven, 17; his brother Edward, 16, and Richard Roger, 18, all of 2421 East Fifty-third street. Officers Schmitz and Darcy of the Seventy-seventh-street station saw the trio loitering in the vicinity of Fifty-third street and Santa Fe avenue and placed them under arrest.

Three bandits, in another hold-up, took possession of the grocery at 2205 West Fifty-fourth street, locked its employees in a back room, and escaped with $117.

In still another hold-up bandits forced Mrs. Norma Delong, manager of the apartment-house at 435 South Alexandria avenue, to give them what money she had at hand, which happened to be only $5.

SICKNESS COST CURB PROPOSED

will be in the Ambassador, where convention headquarters are. The meeting tonight will be in Dr. Robert A. Millikan's laboratory, California Institute of Technology, Pasadena. Among today's speakers will be Mme. N. Dobrovolskaia-Zavadskaia of Curie Institute, Paris.

Yesterday she told the assembled scientists that in generations of breeding mice in cancer experimentation she discovered cancer recurrances which may indicate that heredity has something to do with the disease. In fact, such is indicated, but she was full of scientific caution about stating deductions from her developed facts. Certainly, she believes, according to her talk, that there is at least a predisposition to cancer in its ill-fated victim and that irritation and inflammation then develop the disease, and she has found facts apparently indicating that the predisposition, if not the cancer itself, are transmitted by heredity.

Dr. A. B. Smith of Scripps Memorial Hospital told the scientists that X-ray can locate and, if used in time, cure cancer of the large intestine. Dr. Rollin H. Stevens of Detroit in a paper declared that 85 to 95 per cent of skin cancers presented to radiologists are cured by X-ray, radium or electro-therapy. He proposed that birth control be used to stop propagation of heredity-disposed cancer victims.

Dr. Leon J. Menville of New Orleans described the X-ray as modern medicine's chief ally in diagnosing disease. Drs. E. A. Phole, G. Ritchie and C. S. Wright of Madison, Wis., told of experiments indicating that irradiation helps surgical wounds to heal.

UNEMPLOYMENT RELIEF STARTS

to take the place of Will H. Fischer, whose name had been announced earlier. Word was received from Fischer he could not serve.

Wires were sent to the State Labor Commission last night requesting that Commissioner Fremming be given a ninety-day leave of absence from his State duties to serve Los Angeles county.

Instead of centralizing the job of registering the unemployed and vacancies that are open for employees, Fremming's duties will be one of decentralizing, to avoid having long queues of men and women at one point seeking employment.

The registration of unemployed will be taken in all the schools and fire stations in the municipalities and the county at large.

Registration blanks will be furnished the principal of each school, who, in turn, will supply them to her teachers. The teachers will give them to pupils whose parents need employment. Later these are gathered up and forwarded to a central office in each municipality or community in the county. After this they are turned in at a main office.

Blanks for single men and women will be supplied at each of the stations in every fire district.

in a jar of salve, and two pistols under some bedding. These were recovered.

RUSE SUCCEEDS

Triplitt told police he had been to the scene of the robbery and knew from the description he heard from witnesses that the man sitting in his front room was the third bandit. He told Hudson he had come home after some mail and was able to leave the house without arousing the bandit's suspicions, acting as though he thought Hudson was a salesman.

The third member of the hold-up trio was returned to the bank and was identified by O'Brien and the other employees, H. A. Cole, Paul Rogers, Harvey Wedell, Esther White and John Bronaugh. Hudson and Coffey were booked at Seventy-seventh-street station for robbery and will be taken to Central Station in an effort by police to identify them and check up on their possible police records.

Hudson, 27 years of age, declared he came here five days ago from Seattle, Wash. Coffey, 32, said he has lived here twelve years, but would not give a local address.

Palley was removed last night to Hollywood Hospital. His condition was reported as serious. Holden was alive at a late hour, but police surgeons said his death was expected momentarily.

All excepting a few small bills scattered during Coffey's flight were recovered by officers and citizens and returned to the bank.

GARLAND SEES RENAISSANCE

the future book writer may have to recognize that power.

While in California for the winter, Mr. Garland is adding to his volumes a work on his literary contacts of more than forty years; contacts that he has gained abroad and on lecture platforms in America while he was becoming known as the "nomad of literature."

It is the opinion of Mr. Garland that the author of the future will have a large unworked field in the realms of science and psychics in which to operate and to create an entirely new concept of life.

With all the new discoveries in the scientific fields and the revision of thought along many lines, he finds the future a challenge to the writer and prospective of tremendous creations.

Last Rites for Peter A. Kelly Will Be Today

Funeral services for Peter A. Kelly, pioneer resident of Los Angeles, who died suddenly Monday at his home, 1527 West Forty-fifth street, will be conducted at 2:30 p.m. today by Cunningham & O'Connor at the Calvary Cemetery Chapel.

Mr. Kelly was born in 1866 in Lowell, Mass. He came to Los Angeles in 1895 and at the site of what is now the corner of First and Spring streets opened the Rochester shoe store. A few years later he gave up his shoe store business and obtained a position with the Globe Mills Company. He remained with that company until the time of his death.

Mr. Kelly leaves two daughters, Katharine J. and Anne E. Kelly, both of Los Angeles; two brothers, John J. Kelly of Los Angeles, and Frank Kelly of Lowell, Mass., and two sisters, Sarah T. and Josephine Kelly, both of Lowell, Mass.

BONES BELIEVED SLAIN ACTRESS'

Skeleton Once Thought That of Baumgarteker

Mrs. Thelma Mells Missing Since Auto Trip

Husband Told of Row and Her Walking Away

Bones of a skeleton found in a clump of greasewood near Hesperia November 21 and at one time thought to be those of Frank Baumgarteker, missing wine merchant, yesterday were partially identified as the mortal remains of Mrs. Thelma Mells, 32-year-old Swedish masseuse and vaudeville actress who disappeared April 19, 1928, while en route to Phoenix on an automobile trip with her husband, Charles Mells.

Similarity in the approximate size of the skeleton, the teeth and a remnant of clothing found near the remains with the identification characteristics of Mrs. Mells form the basis of the belief that the bones are hers and also provide evidence that she may have been murdered.

SKULL FRACTURED

Fractures in the skull of the skeleton indicate that death was due to blows from a hammer or stone, according to Sheriff Shay of San Bernardino. The blows smashed several teeth which show, under examination of medical authority that they were never worked upon by a dentist. Mrs. Mells's teeth were reported by her husband as being in perfect condition. The remnants of clothing found near the remains were portions of khaki breeches. Mells reported his wife wore such trousers when she disappeared.

Mells reported that the last time he saw his wife was when they were within about twenty miles from Phoenix, Ariz., en route from this city.

TOLD OF QUARREL

"We had a quarrel," he told Captain of Detectives Allen at the time he reported the disappearance, "and she got out of the car and walked away. I drove on but later I returned and made an unsuccessful effort to locate her. I heard once that she was seen near Gila Bend but could find no definite trace of her."

Mells, Capt. Allen says, lived at 416 South Main street at the time he made the report, but has since gone to South America. Efforts will be made to communicate with him if he can be found, Allen said.

MRS. KIRK WINS FIGHT WITH SON

Guardianship for Wealthy Woman Denied

Mother's Action to Regain $37,000 Still Pending

Judge Hazlett's decision leave Mrs. Kirk in control of the $65,00 remnant of her fortune of $350,00 left by the harvester manufacturer Her son sought to show that Mrs Kirk is incompetent to handle he money and expressed fears that she would be victimized by designing persons.

The mother retaliated with a sui to recover moneys, totaling approximately $31,000 with interest, which brings the amount to $37,000. Mrs Kirk sets up that this money wa intrusted to Norman Kirk for loaning out at interest. Kirk contend that the sums were outright gift from his mother. This suit is scheduled for hearing this month. Kirk has filed a cross-suit claiming th money and $28,000 worth of rea property in Peoria, Ill., which h said Mrs. Kirk gave him.

The first intimation of trouble i the Kirk family reached the publi in the summer of 1929, when Kir advertised for information as to hi mother's whereabouts. She had lef his home in San Marino and wa not located for five days. The filin of suits followed. Delays in hearings were caused when Mrs. Kir fell and broke her hip, confinin her to a hospital. She now uses wheel chair.

Attorneys W. Cloyd Snyder an John C. Stick represented Mrs Kirk, while Attorney Earl Wakeman appeared for the son.

MRS. KIRK WINS FIGHT WITH SON

Mother's Action to Regain $37,000 Still Pending

Judge Hazlett's decision leaves Mrs. Kirk in control of the $65,000 remnant of her fortune of $250,000 left by the harvester manufacturer. Her son sought to show that Mrs. Kirk is incompetent to handle her money and expressed fears that she would be victimized by designing persons.

The mother retaliated with a suit to recover moneys, totaling approximately $31,000 with interest, which brings the amount to $37,000. Mrs. Kirk sets up that this money was entrusted to Norman Kirk for loaning out at interest. Kirk contends that the sums were outright gifts from his mother. This suit is scheduled for hearing this month. Kirk has filed a cross-suit claiming the money and $28,000 worth of real property in Peoria, Ill., which he said Mrs. Kirk gave him.

The first intimation of trouble in the Kirk family reached the public in the summer of 1929, when Kirk advertised for information as to his mother's whereabouts. She had left his home in San Marino and was not located for five days. The filing of suits followed. Delays in hearings were caused when Mrs. Kirk fell and broke her hip, confining her to a hospital. She now uses a wheel chair.

EX-WIFE DEMANDS $4000 IN ALIMONY

Mrs. Annabelle Briggs

Mrs. Annabelle Briggs, divorced wife of Clifford A. Briggs, went to Superior Judge Vicini's court yesterday looking for $4000. It was due her as alimony, at the rate of $200 a month, for the support of her son Jimmie, according to the statement of her attorney, S. S. Hahn. She obtained her divorce when she testified she had seen her husband caressing a housemaid.

Mrs. Briggs didn't get her $4000, but Judge Vicini served notice that unless substantial payment is made by Friday, Briggs will go to jail.

Local Produce Merchant and Japanese Accused in Highway Murder Case

Frank Nakano, Los Angeles produce merchant, and Umokiki Tanaka, Japanese, were charged yesterday with the murder of Luis Mata, wealthy Coachella Valley date rancher, in an indictment returned by the county grand jury.

The indictment accuses the defendants of beating Mata to death November 19, last, on the Arrowhead highway near Arcadia after they had lured him into the country upon the pretext of obtaining money to pay a bill which Nakano is asserted to have owed the victim.

According to O. H. Cloud, E. E. Aires and Frank Gompert, deputy sheriffs who investigated the case, the defendants beat Mata over the head with a revolver, killing him and taking a large sum of money he had in his wallet. Later they returned to the body, the officers assert, and cut a gash in Mata's throat to insure death.

When arrested Nakano lived at 3329 Gleason avenue, Los Angeles.

PANTAGES CASE RULING AWAITED

Supreme Court Plea Against New Trial Heard

Opposing Counsel Fight Over Pringle Girl Charges

Doomed Wife Slayer Also Has Trial Reviewed

After arguments by opposing counsel, the State Supreme Court yesterday took under submission the appeal by the State from the decision of the District Court of Appeal granting Alexander Pantages, theater man, a new trial on the charge of having attacked Eunice Pringle, 17-year-old dancer, in a downtown office building August 9, 1929.

As a result of the court's action, a decision may be expected within ninety days from January 1, but in the event the court fails to arrive at a decision before the expiration of the three-month period, the court may order the case resubmitted.

Mrs. Lois Pantages, Carmen Pantages, Lloyd and Rodney Pantages heard the arguments of Jerry Giesler, appearing for the theater man, and Dep. Atty.-Gen. Richards, appearing for the State. The story of the attack as narrated by Miss Pringle was recounted by the attorneys in their arguments.

GIESLER'S ARGUMENT

Attorney Giesler opened the arguments, setting forth that in his opinion the jury would have found for Pantages in the Superior Court had it not been for the court errors and the misconduct of the District Attorney. The jury's recommendation that clemency be extended the theater man gave him reason for the belief, he said.

The attorney declared that the prosecution introduced evidence as to force and violence for the purpose of inflaming the jury and of causing the jury to assess a greater punishment in the event it found the theater man guilty.

Testimony as to force and violence, he declared, was not germane because the prosecution proceeded on a charge of statutory attack, charges of attack by force and violence having been dismissed.

In an examination of Miss Pringle's story of the asserted attack, Attorney Giesler described what he set forth as suspicious circumstances. Her story, he said, was improbable; in fact, he continued, impossible.

OTHER CASES UP

Dep. Atty.-Gen. Richards defended the prosecution against the charges of misconduct and attacked the decision of the Appellate Court, declaring that the decision, if it should become the law of the State, would place a premium upon force and violence in attack cases. He based this declaration upon an interpretation of the decision to the effect that when force and violence are used the way is opened for attacks upon the character of the prosecutrix.

The Pantages case was the last case called yesterday.

The first case called in the afternoon was the appeal of William Henry Burkhart, sentenced to hang for the murder of his wife, Ann Elizabeth McKnight Burkhart on March 24, last, in a Hollywood bungalow. The case was taken under submission. Similar action was taken in the case of Dr. George Darrow, granted a new trial by the District Court of Appeal on a second-degree murder charge growing out of the asserted performance of an illegal operation.

Chief Justice Waste yesterday sent a telegram to Gov. Young, in response to a request by the executive, relative to Alfred Boss and George Davis, to be hanged Friday for the murder of Clifford Carey, a Sacramento merchant. The jurist reported that a majority of the court oppose executive clemency.

HIGH COURT IN SESSION ADMITS ATTORNEYS

Sixteen attorneys from various parts of the United States and its possessions and from Scotland and Canada were admitted to the practice of law in California yesterday by the State Supreme Court at the opening session of its scheduled five-day meeting here.

Thomas C. Ridgway, former head of the State Bar of California, made the motion for their admission. The attorneys admitted to practice are: Burke W. Mathes, L. V. Lonsdale and Clarence Martin, all of Texas; H. A. Daugherty and Philip D. Johnston, both of Illinois; Karl W. Krause and Floyd E. Thomas of Iowa; Joel E. Gregory of Minnesota; Guy D. Henry of Michigan; Joseph L. Reina of Florida; Earl Van Wagoner of the District of Columbia; John C. Kelley of Hawaii; Charles F. Ridland of Scotland; Sinclair B. Ritchie of Canada; James Crehan of Washington, and Harry C. Hedberg of Minnesota.

Following the admission of the lawyers, the court called the motions calendar, made up of more than two score cases, many of which were dismissed because of the failure of either the appellants or the respondents to file necessary briefs.

All seven justices of the tribunal were on hand for the opening of the Los Angeles session. They are Chief Justice Waste and Justices Preston, Shenk, Seawell, Richards, Curtis and Langdon.

Sheriff's Aides Hurt in Crash

While responding to a traffic accident call Deputy Sheriffs Leland A. Thorne and J. J. The men were treated for severe bruises at Georgia-street Hospital.

Today's Bible Text

Holy, holy, holy, Lord God Almighty, which was, and is, and is to come.—Rev. iv:8.

FREE SPEECH?

Operators of radio stations do not believe in the myth of free speech. How could they when speakers on the air want from $100 an hour up?

TIME TO INVEST

The business world is not asking the fellow trying to lay away something for a rainy day to deplete his bank account, but to show the man who is hoarding his money with a view to making some good investments that now is the time to find the best buys.

WHETHER WEATHER

The young man who recently made a trip to the South Seas in the smallest boat ever sailed from this port across the Pacific, declared that after three weeks at sea only changes in the weather seemed of any importance whatever to him. Perhaps weather means more to all of us than we know.

THE LIGHTEST END

Thousands of deserving persons will be benefitted at Christmas time this year because a few noble spirits take pleasure in doing the necessary work of organization, collection and distribution. And many thousands more, without the inclination or time to do the actual work, may do their bit by merely reaching for a pen and a check book.

ISN'T LOVE FUNNY?

Ralph Rerrara fired six shots at Rose Provenzano of Brooklyn, N. Y., because she would not tolerate his advances. After he hit her in the shoulder in this wild target practice and wounded himself in the scalp in an attempt to commit suicide, she said she would marry him. She didn't know before how much he loved her!

BROOKLYN BAKER

A Brooklyn baker, charitably inclined, loaded his bake wagon with a thousand loaves to distribute among the needy. But the public did not appear to be as hungry as the yellow press headlined; for he had to visit three corners before he disposed of his good will. The baker was of the opinion that the public is spoiled and wants ice cream and cake.

COME WEST!

After the licking St. Mary's gave undefeated Fordham University in her own back yard in Gotham, the last of a long string of western victories over eastern gridsters would seem to clinch the idea that California is about the only place where athletes have any chance in the country. The West is not only the land of business opportunity, but of Apollo forms.

RED ANNIVERSARY

The soviet state of Russia celebrated its thirteenth birthday in Moscow in early November. For the first time the people were permitted to see the new stone tomb of Lenin. Just behind the tomb also lie the bodies of Big Bill Haywood of Chicago and John Reed of Harvard. About all Big Bill, or even the Russians themselves, get out of their Red activities is a funeral.

MONEY

There are various systems of thrift which claim they can teach how to save money; there are many trade and commercial schools which attempt to teach how to make money; and the whole advertising world tries to tell us how to spend money. But now qualified financiers are telling us what money really is and why a dollar's purchasing power fluctuates. The acquisition of that knowledge is going to stabilize our saving and spending systems.

COMMON COLDS

Johns Hopkins University is spending $195,000 which the Chemical Foundation allowed for a five-year study of common colds. To date the research shows three things: (1) Colds are not the result of chemical changes in the body; (2) they are not caused by any visible germ; (3) they are caused by an unknown virus which the finest filters cannot trap. This would seem to determine that nothing is yet determined. Cough, and the room still coughs with you. Sneeze, and you will not sneeze alone.

THE LAST WORD ON BILLINGS

What ought to be the last word on the case of Warren K. Billings, convicted dynamiter now serving out a lenient life sentence in Folsom Prison, has been spoken by six justices of the California Supreme Court. It should also be the last word in the case of Thomas J. Mooney, Billings's co-conspirator, serving an equally lenient life sentence in San Quentin. Fourteen years of vigorous propaganda on their behalf has reached a climax which not only fails to prove their innocence, but further establishes their guilt of one of the most heinous crimes of the present century.

The recent rehearing before the Supreme Court of Billings's pardon application has thrown a flood of light on the case. The illumination has made plain many things which have been obscure, principal among them being the nature of the campaign for the liberation of these two men and the reasons for the success of the campaigners in obtaining affidavits repudiating their trial testimony from two of the principal trial witnesses. These repudiations are now utterly discredited and the original testimony of the witnesses re-established.

There was utter and admitted failure to prove that there had been any framing of either Mooney or Billings on the part of the prosecution. Not only that, but the shoe was shown to have been on the other foot; the only false evidence in the case was produced by the Mooney-Billings defense. Fourteen years of intermittent pressure applied to John MacDonald and Estelle Smith, it was clearly disclosed, broke one and bent the other. The destruction of MacDonald was complete, but Miss Smith, made of better fiber, resumed her upright stand when the pressure was removed.

Those of the general public who have been misled into believing either in the innocence of Mooney and Billings or that their guilt was not properly proven, will now have to revise that opinion. It was formed on mistaken premises. This public had been told, with a fanfare of trumpets, that MacDonald and Estelle Smith had recanted their sworn testimony, a statement which was true as far as it went, but it had not been told why they recanted nor how the recantations were obtained. This information is now for the first time made available; not in its entirety, but sufficiently. That these witnesses were both led and pushed into a false position is clearly established; the very mechanics of the maneuvering in complete outline, and embellished with many details, were laid bare before the high court at the rehearing last summer.

Two of the prime movers in what the court refers to as "corruptly inspired" repudiations on the part of MacDonald and as methods used on Estelle Smith which "savored strongly of subornation of perjury were named in the court's opinion as Edward J. Nockels of the Chicago Federation of Labor and Fremont Older, present editor of Hearst's San Francisco Call-Bulletin and former editor at various times of both the Bulletin and the Call. Nockels and Older, directly and indirectly, both worked on MacDonald, while Older alone worked on Miss Smith. The funds that they used were shown to have come, in large part, from union-labor contributions but those made to the Chicago federation, not the Mooney Defense League.

What use was made of other large sums raised outside union-labor circles for the Mooney-Billings defense was not even hinted at in the Supreme Court hearing and is not referred to in the court's decision. Only a few thousand dollars has been accounted for in any way, though it is public knowledge that much larger sums were raised.

Reference should again be made to the complete vindication of the prosecution, emphatically affirmed by the court. For many years the public has been told and retold that the evidence against Mooney and Billings was built up by coaching of witnesses, by contrived identifications and by other framing devices on the part of the San Francisco police and District Attorney. But the attorneys for Billings completely abandoned this contention and admitted its falsity at the hearing. There was not a shred of evidence produced to support it; on the contrary, there was affirmative proof that MacDonald, Estelle Smith and other witnesses appeared voluntarily and unsolicited at the time of the tragedy and that the efforts both of the police and District Attorney in the case were beyond criticism. Since these charges were impressive enough to raise doubt, at one time, in the mind of a President of the United States, their collapse is important and cannot be overemphasized.

On all points, it must appear to any reasonable and unbiased person that Mooney and Billings are justly in prison and that the campaign for their liberation has no merit. Their offense, that of setting a time-bomb which thrust into eternity half a score of unoffending souls during the Preparedness Day parade in San Francisco in 1916, cannot now be adequately punished, but at least they can be kept behind bars until they are called before a sterner judgment seat.

ALIEN VOICES

A peculiar anomaly exists in Congress. The foreigners of our big cities have a very definite voice in our chief law-making body.

Estimate places the aliens who refuse to become citizens in this country at 7,500,000. Our Representatives are chosen, not according to the number of citizens in any district, but according to the population, including aliens.

As a result the downtown parts of our great cities have a representation in Congress of some thirty votes. Even the Electoral College that selects a President of the United States has as many votes directly due to these aliens.

These foreign-born are stowed away in New York, Chicago and other centers. One noisy Congressman of New York City received but 11,000 votes; but his populous district requires a Representative, according to the Constitution.

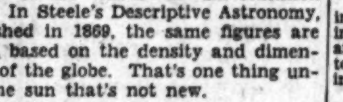
Naturally these Representatives voice the sentiment of the community. A wet city is sodden down by alien influence. The wet-and-dry question would not be so acute with some of these determining factors eliminated. The vast majority of American citizens has to fight to maintain the sort of government it wants.

To remedy this absurd situation, Senator Capper and Representative Sparks propose a Constitutional Amendment to read: "Article XX. Aliens shall be excluded from the count of the whole number of persons in each State in apportioning Representatives among the several States according to their respective number."

We are happy to have admissible aliens enjoy our liberties; but they should not be permitted to affect our legislation.

SO OLD IT'S NEW?

News dispatch from London quotes Sir James Jeans as approximating the weight of the earth at six sextillion tons. In Steele's Descriptive Astronomy, published in 1869, the same figures are given, based on the density and dimensions of the globe. That's one thing under the sun that's not new.



CONFESSION

By James J. Montague

There's a thrill in the chill
That sweeps down from the hill
On the wings of a midwinter gale.
Who can tarry indoors
When the wild blizzard roars
And the snowdrifts are deep in the dale?
Who so craven of soul
That he hides like a mole
Till the white carpet melts in the sun
And the rivulets sing
The glad music of spring?
Well, I am, for one.

Who could proudly behold
The inherited gold
That he never has labored to earn,
And consistently shirk
Every form of hard work
With indifferent, dull unconcern?
Who could never recoil
From a life without toil,
Like some idle and opulent king
Who was wholly content
With the lot he was sent?
I could do just that thing.

I know we should aim
To excel in the game
We were sent to this planet to play,
That we ought to contend
Till the long journey's end
No matter how bitter the fray.
But if I had my way
I would loaf every day
With my conscience untrammeled and free
Till my life was lived out,
And I haven't a doubt
There are others like me.

The LEE SIDE o' L.A.

BY Lee Shippey

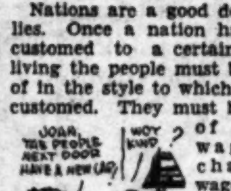
WE SUSPECT that we are the punkest economist in Christendom, but now that all the wiseacres are blaming installment buying and luxury buying for the so-called depression we'd like to raise a feeble voice of contradiction—not just to be different, but because we mean it. Installment buying and luxury buying haven't impoverished all of us. It has made all of us rich.

Try It on Your Family

All of us who think know money isn't worth anything except what it will buy. It used to buy comfort, entertainment and means of speedy transportation for the rich, and the rest of us went without those things. Give us those things and we have all the important things the rich can buy. We all have them now, so in effect all of us are rich. They have become essentials of our existence, and employers and governments have to take them into account.

If you imagine we're ever going to give up these things we now enjoy so much and go back to a skimpier standard of living, just try this simple experiment: Increase the allowances to your wife and children at frequent intervals and then suddenly tell them they must be cut down materially. You'll find it can't be done.

Nations are a good deal like families. Once a nation has grown accustomed to a certain standard of living the people must be taken care of in the style to which they are accustomed. They must be taken care of either by wages or by charity. And wages which keep up self-respect are far better than doles. And both must come out of the pockets of those who have the money.



JOAN, THE PEOPLE NEXT DOOR HAVE A NEW CAR
WOT KIND?

Blessings of Installment Buying

Of course, when people get reckless there have to be readjustments, but all readjustments in this country must be made on the basis of the standard of living to which installment buying has brought us. If it weren't for installment buying very few of us would own homes, motor cars, radios, vacuum sweepers; we would do without bathrooms and electric lights and gas stoves. We imagine there are 100,000 people in this city who, if they had to go back to the life their great-grandparents lived, would feel so poor and deprived of necessities that they would prefer to enter State or county or charitable institutions, where all those necessities would be given them.

Incidentally, we wonder if the great manufacturers who have fostered installment buying have not done more to bring about a certain amount of socialism than all the agitators. They have created so many "necessities" that thousands of people cannot provide themselves with them, and the State must provide them. It was stated just the other day that one-sixth of the people dying in California during the last two years died in county homes. All the same, those people get those "necessities" which their great-grandparents didn't consider necessities at all.

A Case in "Old Town"

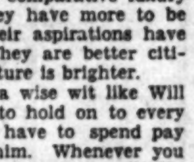
In the old part of Los Angeles there is an adobe in which for years Mexicans lived without any sanitary or modern conveniences and in what most of us would consider demoralizing squalor. Then the health authorities compelled the owners of the property to put in a bathroom, and though it was something they never would have thought of acquiring for themselves, it soon became the pride of the household. We wandered to that house one day and they showed it to us with a flourish. Then children of the younger members of the household came along and went to school and were given free milk and toothbrushes. The family got more self-respecting and cleaned up the place. Installment solicitors noticed it and called. Now in that house you would find a washing machine, a sewing machine and a radio. The whole tone of the place is changed. People who would have lived and died in squalor and drudgery are living in comparative luxury and comfort; they have more to be proud of and their aspirations have been aroused. They are better citizens and their future is brighter.

So when even a wise wit like Will Rogers tells you to hold on to every penny you don't have to spend pay no attention to him. Whenever you can spend either money or credit for something which will really improve your condition you are spending it wisely and helping to raise the living standards of all Americans.

Joshua Little Says

A lot of chronic complainers, who habitually pity themselves, would be suddenly cured if they knew they were in the presence of a zealous "mercy murderer."

A letter to The Times suggests that everyone send President Hoover a Christmas greeting card. It might be considerate to add to the greeting a hint that a reply will not be considered absolutely necessary.



TAKE THAT!

WHAT OTHERS THINK ABOUT IT

WHY WAIT ON WALL STREET?

[South Coast News]

When Orange county and the south coast is a "white spot" on a dark map of the general financial condition of the country why should we, who are fortunate enough to live here, hesitate to build for the future?

There are idle men and there is idle money in Orange county, and plenty of work to do that would make for a wise investment—profit paying. Let's make use of them both.

Highways, streets, sidewalks, high schools and breakwaters are investments yielding large returns. A breakwater is going in at Dana Point, a harbor for those who come to the Coast because they want to enjoy the Pacific Ocean. A breakwater at Laguna Beach would enhance the value of every foot of property in the city.

Not only is there a future profit in taking advantage of low costs in making public improvements but these constitute additions and betterments that work for further profit to everyone, and the effect is felt almost immediately.

The way to resume is to resume, the way to add to the prosperity of our own community is to push prosperity along, and the way to do that is to furnish work for the workers, adding to our own wealth and happiness and to that of our children and our children's children.

Why wait on Wall street?

BORAH SEES THE LIGHT

[San Francisco Chronicle]

On the arrival of Senator Borah in Washington he gives assurance to the country that there will be no extra session of Congress. No filibuster, he says, will be launched to tie up business at the short session and force a call for the new Congress.

For all of which the country breathes a sigh of relief. For, when it comes to extra sessions, Borah is in a class by himself as an authority. He's the busy boy who brought about the last extra session and he did it without the aid of a filibuster. His promise to lay off this time gives hope that Borah, like the rest of the country, may suspect that extra sessions are not what they have been cracked up to be.

MR. LEGGE GROWS WEARY?

[New York Sun]

Intimation that Chairman Legge may resign from the Federal Farm Board came, approximately enough, on Armistice Day; perhaps the chairman is growing weary of the wars. This would not be astonishing. Mr. Legge is a business man who has hitherto displayed impatience at sniping by political sharpshooters to which the bureau and its policies have been subjected. Certain politicians, McNary-Haugenites, debenturists, fanatical farm relievers of all kinds, no doubt believe they will get him yet. Nevertheless it would be unfortunate if the board should lose his leadership.

The plan of farm relief envisaged in the Agricultural Market Act is more Socialistic than most conservatives like, but it has received considerable conservative support because it is less Socialistic than any other scheme which has received important support in Congress. The mere fact that it has placed power in the hands of a man of Mr. Legge's well-proved ability has been reckoned in its favor by many who doubt the success of this experiment in Federal paternalism.

THE PURSUIT OF HAPPINESS

BY FRED HOGUE

II

Each civilization, each people, each generation has found in its own way that happiness and unhappiness depend more on personal disposition than personal fortune.

Pascal looked upon happiness through the eyes of faith and wrote, "Happiness is neither within us nor without us. It is the union of ourselves with God."

Fichte, the German, sought with reason and logic to find the source of happiness. I suspect, like many another, he made himself miserable plodding along the thorny hillsides of the intellect. And, lo, after many days, he wrote:

"To be happy is not the purpose of our being; but to deserve happiness." Had he been more widely read he would have known that had been said 2000 years before he was born. He reached the final conclusion that:

"If we cannot live so as to be happy, let us at least live so as to deserve happiness."

But, if we imagine we deserve to be happy and find that happiness still evades us, pondering over its absence will only add to our discontent.

Real happiness is not to be bought and sold; but there are varying forms of counterfeit happiness to which the world aspires and for which it pays the most exorbitant prices.

Arsene Houssaye, a French writer under the Third Empire who sacrificed a great talent to a little emperor, wrote in his declining years with a sigh:

"Happiness is always the inaccessible castle that sinks in ruins the instant we set foot inside its gates."

Happiness can be measured only by heart beats; and the beating of the human heart is beyond human control.

What is hope, the hope that clings to us as we grope blundly through the declining years of life until we stumble into a tomb, but the illusion that the ray of happiness that once warmed our hearts will come to nestle there again?

The philosophy the world most needs on the threshold of the fourth decade of the twentieth century is the philosophy of content. The vain lament of discontent, the ceaseless itch for getting rich are symptoms of a universal mental malady.

The material wealth of the first quarter of the twentieth century is greater than that of any other period of the world's history. The age of gold is the present age; for never before was there so much gold in the possession of the peoples of the world, and never was the world's wealth so widely distributed.

What has become of that stoic virtue, human fortitude? Who today can sing with Bobbie Burns:

"What a' on hamely fare we dine,
Wear hodden gray and a' that!
Gie knaves their gold and fools their wine,
A man's a man for a' that."

Rochefoucauld wrote three centuries ago:

"Happiness is in taste and not in things; and it is by having what we love that we are happy, not by having what others find agreeable."

But happiness consists not so much in having what we love as in loving what we have.

Henry Ward Beecher commented that:

"The body is like a piano and happiness is like music. It is needful to have the instrument in good order."

Emile, the Swiss mystic, depicted happiness as the "conquest of God through love." I cannot envision the conquest of God through any means; but I can envision the conquest of love through God.

Horace, living in a generation when Rome was tottering before its fall, uttered the lament:

"You traverse the world in search of happiness, which is in reach of every man; a contented mind confers it on all."

But how little the generation of Horace knew of the world, which did not, to them, extend beyond the frontiers of the Mediterranean basin. The world which they knew can now be encircled by an airplane between suns.

We have found continents to them unknown. We have plundered the treasure chests of the land and the sea; but equally vain has been our quest for happiness.

H. W. Shaw has likened hunting after happiness to hunting after a lost sheep in the wilderness—"when you find it, the chances are that it is a skeleton."

To me, the following comment of Sterne rings true: "If the principles of contentment are not within us, the height of station and worldly grandeur will as soon add a cubit to man's stature as to his happiness."

Charlotte Bronte revolted against the precepts for happiness taught in her generation. In a markedly impatient mood she wrote:

"No mockery in the world ever sounds to me so hollow as that of being told to cultivate happiness. Happiness is not a potato to be planted in a mold and tilled with manure. Happiness is a glory shining far down upon us from heaven. She is a divine dew, which the soul feels dropping upon it from the amaranth blossom and golden fruitage of paradise."

Make the people happy has been the advice of sages to rulers since governments were first organized. But where is to be found the fulcrum for the lever of happiness to rest upon?

Kings and parliaments have proceeded on the theory that the way to make a people happy was to make them rich and powerful. But experience has proved that the surest way to destroy a people is to multiply its material wealth and power.

How quickly the completion of the empire of Alexander was followed by its collapse! Rome did not begin to totter until Rome became the mistress of the world.

For the rapid accumulation of money there must be a love for money; and the love of money has not ceased to be the root of all evil.

Despite the ravages of the World War, the material wealth of Europe and the general felicity is greater than that of 1914. Yet the discontent of Europe seems to increase. They find no happiness in their wealth, because the United States is pictured to them as possessing more.

The decade which closes with the present waning year has brought more material wealth and prosperity to the South American states than any that has gone before. Yet the first breath of business depression brought an epidemic of revolutions and revolutions that were the outgrowth of imaginary economic ills.

It is a sorry commentary on the average intelligence of peoples, but nevertheless true, that material prosperity is no corrective of social unrest. The greater the material wealth, the greater the temptation to mob confiscation and plunder.

Had there been no rich estates to plunder in Russia, no banks to rob, no religious and educational institutions to sack, no capitalists to despoil, Communism would never have been invented.

Where the pursuit of wealth is more avid than the pursuit of knowledge, where moral precepts give place to business maxims, where perfidy is crowned by success, whatever the material condition, there will be unrest, discontent; and there the pursuit of happiness will be as unavailing as chasing after the pot of gold at the end of the rainbow.

How many have we all seen, in the mad rush for power and glory, crushing beneath their feet the pale blue flower of happiness.

I saw Woodrow Wilson, standing on an eminence, crowned by glory, esteemed above all men. But his face was haggard and his eyes were sad. I doubt if he knew one hour of happiness from the day he retired from the presidency of Princeton University and entered politics.

Perhaps he was content to have it so; for his goal in life was not personal felicity, but public service. He believed the world could rise on the stepping stones of dead generations to higher things.

Happiness does not come to those who command, but to those who serve; not to those who take, but to them that give.

Of all pursuits in which humankind engage, none is more vain than the pursuit of happiness.

I cannot tell you where to find happiness. No one can. My only hope is that you may so live that happiness may find you; that you may keep the windows of your heart and soul open to its gentle rays; that you may train your eyes to see the pale blue flower by the wayside as you pass.

THE DARK AGES

BY SUZANNE PEHKOFF

In medieval days the nobility and landed gentry built themselves impregnable castles for protection against predatory neighbors and roving bands of robber barons. Every well-to-do householder had a moat around his castle and turrets atop the towers where his bowmen could take a pot shot at intruders. No one was safe to stir abroad at night unaccompanied by an armed escort. The common people, who could not afford such elaborate precautions, solved the matter by staying home nights. Mostly they were safe since they had nothing in their homes that anyone would want to steal.

Are we not drifting rapidly back toward the dark ages? If gangsters are to roam the thoroughfares of our principal cities with machine guns and terrorize the citizens, won't the city dwellers be driven to barricading their own homes and having machine guns installed at strategic points? Our frontier forbears, who slept with a rifle handy and one eye half open to peer through a knot hole at oncoming Indians, will have descendants who peer anxiously through the grill in the front door at strangers and perhaps clutch a revolver in their hands every time the front bell rings.

In the dark ages life and property were not safe. In 1930 neither is safe in some of our largest cities. Ours is a darker page in history, since in those far-away days men were ignorant and communication difficult. For all our education, art and science, we really are not civilized if we cannot control our criminals and citizens are afraid to stir abroad in dark, or even lighted streets, for fear of robbery or injury.

WATCHED THE WEATHER

Keeping weather records appears to exercise a special fascination for many people and was pursued as a hobby long before the days of organized meteorology. The earliest daily weather journal now extant is one that was kept by Rev. William Merle in England during the years 1334-1337.

George Washington kept a detailed account of the weather, along with the happenings of the day, his agricultural and other experiments, and a record of his guests, in his "Diary." His attention to the weather was most particular, and when away he would have a record kept and on his return would incorporate it in his book. It is believed that his purpose in keeping this weather record was to draw conclusions as to the best time for planting crops.

Mr. Pratt then began the closing argument for the government and it is expected the case will go to the jury today.

EARLY CHRISTMAS MAIL WILL AID UNEMPLOYED

Shop early and mail your Christmas packages early was the annual warning issued yesterday by Postmaster O'Brien, who announced that the Los Angeles postoffice is now being equipped with approximately 2500 additional workers to handle the large volume of holiday business.

"Early mailing will enable the postoffice to hire its extra help a little sooner and thus give employment to those who need it," Postmaster O'Brien said. "All mail sent early is certain of reaching its destination in time."

A list of pertinent pointers for those who will send gifts by mail is given in the Christmas communication from the Postoffice Department.

Parcels must not measure more than seventy-two inches in length and girth combined. Addresses should be complete with the house number and the name of the street, postoffice box or rural number. If a tag is used the name and address of the sender should also be written on the wrapper for use if the tag is lost.

Parcel-post packages should be packed in such a manner that they can be opened without damaging, to permit examination by postmasters and customs officials. The time to mail Christmas cards and parcels to points within one day's travel should be not later than December 20; within two days' travel, not later than December 18; within three days' travel, not later than December 15, and more distant points not later than December 14. Letters, parcels and cards for local delivery should not be mailed later than December 22.

Postage on letters for foreign countries generally is 5 cents for the first ounce and 3 cents for each additional ounce or fraction thereof. Insurance and payment of special delivery fee to insure special handling are advised. Except for special-delivery mail no postal service will be made on Christmas Day.

Pair Identified in City Jail as Hold-up Gunmen

Two of four bandit suspects held in the City Jail by Detective Lieutenants Moran and Wilson of the Wilshire division were identified yesterday by H. Holgate as the men who held him up and robbed him of $100 in Stillwell's Cafe at 1632 South Main street, November 23, last. They gave their names as Thomas Eastwood, 25 years of age, of 1247 South Figueroa street, and Edward Roberts, 36, of 720 Maple avenue.

The other two were identified as Rule A. West, 27, and Loren C. Daniels, 40, of the Figueroa-street address. Roberts was taken into custody last Friday. Eastwood, West and Daniels were arrested yesterday. All four were in possession of pistols, the detectives said.

Mystery Phone Call Stirs Hunt for Missing Girl

An untraced telephone message yesterday informed Mrs. Anna Pratt at her home, 1327 South Central avenue, Glendale, that her daughter, Evelyn, 30 years of age, had been seriously injured and was about to undergo an operation at the Los Angeles Receiving Hospital, but neither she nor the police could find the daughter at any hospital in the city.

The daughter, however, is missing, and a general alarm has been sent out by the police at the mother's request.

LEVIES ON OFFICIAL'S PAY UPHELD

Judge Rules in Case of $150 Debt Owed by Fire Warden Assistant

Levies on county officials' salaries can be made in conformance to law, Superior Judge Gould yesterday held in an opinion upholding the constitutionality of the statute covering such levies. The memorandum of opinion accompanied the judge's decision granting a writ of mandamus directed against County Auditor H. A. Payne on the petition of General Motors Acceptance Corporation.

The petitioner sought to levy on the salary of Donald J. Hosfeldt, a junior assistant fire warden, for a debt of $150. The salary was in the possession of the County Auditor, who resisted payment on the ground that Section 710, Code of Civil Procedure, as amended in 1929, "is either unconstitutional or, at most, can be held to apply only to department heads, elective or otherwise, but cannot apply to deputies or other subordinates."

"The point has not been determined by any court of appeal," Judge Gould stated in his opinion accompanying the writ of mandamus. Continuing, he settled the question at issue by ruling: "A junior assistant fire warden is an officer receiving a statutory salary."

CLAIRVOYANCY PLEA GETS WOMAN PERMIT

Stating that her husband is out of work and that she has him and five children to support, Mrs. Olga Davis of 228 East Fifth street appeared before the Police Commission and was granted her request to practice as a clairvoyant, a profession in which she formerly was engaged, she said. She promised that as soon as her husband is able to support the family that she will drop clairvoyancy again.

The marriage of Miss Jean Charlotte Albright, daughter of Mrs. Franklin J. Albright of 112 South Rimpau avenue, to Charles Henry Caldwell was solemnized Thanksgiving evening, the ceremony taking place in Arlington Memorial Church, with Rev. Warren H. Grafton officiating in the presence of 400 relatives and friends. The bride, given in marriage by Frederick M. Hall, wore her mother's wedding gown of old lace over ivory satin, the veil of tulle held in place by orange blossoms, and she carried a shower of white rosebuds, orchids and lilies of the valley.

Miss L. Dorothy Albright assisted her sister as maid of honor, while Mrs. Paul Lowrey was matron of honor, and Mrs. Marvin Fiske was the other attendant. All wore frocks of autumn shades, designed by a friend of the bride, and carried bouquets of rosebuds to match their frocks.

Little Patricia Curry was the flower girl and Paul Lowrey, Jr., ring bearer, while Clare Eberhart served as best man and Herman Spitzel, Marvin Fiske, Harry Curry, Paul Lowrey and Thomas Higgins ushered.

Mrs. Albright wore a gown of black sequins and net with hat to harmonize. The decorations of the church carried out an autumn motif with great baskets of ferns and yellow chrysanthemums.

Mr. and Mrs. Caldwell left immediately after the ceremony for a honeymoon at the Samarkand in Santa Barbara and will make their future home here.

Mrs. Caldwell has been a teacher of physical education in the Manual Arts High School and was graduated from Los Angeles High School and later from Columbia University.

WHEN THE SANDMAN COMES

JERRY'S DREADFUL ADVICE

Sometimes advice you think sounds bad
Will prove the best that could be had.
—Jerry Muskrat.

It is true. There is bad advice and good advice and sometimes the latter sounds the worse. It was this way with the young Muskrat caught in a trap on an old log on the bank of the Laughing Brook. His father, Jerry Muskrat, had found him in his terrible trouble and actually had saved his life by leading Reddy Fox away before Reddy discovered the trapped youngster. That experience had made clear to the young Muskrat how terrible was the trouble he was in. Reddy Fox might come back any time, or Old Man Coyote might happen along, or Hooty the Great Horned Owl might discover him, or Yowler the Bob Cat might chance that way. Each of these would be glad, very glad, of a Muskrat dinner.

Jerry Muskrat looked the trap all over and even tried the chain with his teeth. At last he spoke. "You'll have to lose that leg," said he.

"What?" cried the young Muskrat. "What do you mean?"

"Just what I say," replied Jerry. "It is the only way in which you can hope to get free of that trap. A two-legged creature, probably that strange boy we have seen about, set that trap. Sometime, probably this coming morning, he will visit this trap and when he finds you caught he will kill you with a stick."

"What will he kill me for? I haven't done him any harm," said the young Muskrat.

"I don't know what he will kill you for, but kill you he will if he finds you here in this trap," replied Jerry. "You mustn't be here when he comes. I know. I've seen things happen to little people that were trapped. You'll have to lose that leg or lose your life. It is your choice—your leg or your life. I know which I would choose were I in your place and it wouldn't take me long to make the choice, either."

"But how can I choose?" whined the young Muskrat.

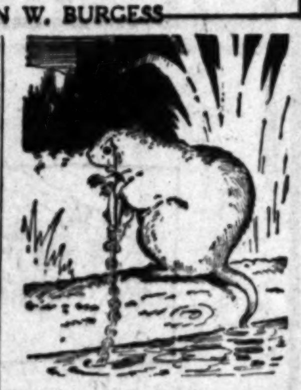
"By cutting your leg off or twisting it off," replied Jerry.

"How can I cut my leg off?" demanded the horrified young Muskrat.

"With your teeth," replied Jerry.

"What, gnaw my own leg off? Use my own teeth to do such a dreadful thing as that?" cried the young Muskrat, and shivered.

Jerry nodded. "I have seen it done more than once. It is your leg or your life."



"But I can't do that," wailed the Young Muskrat.

"But I can't do that," wailed the young Muskrat. "Perhaps that trapper will forget to come back."

"Perhaps he will," replied Jerry. "I have known of such a thing. Then you will stay right here and starve to death unless Reddy Fox or some other hungry enemy finds you first, which is quite likely to happen as you discovered tonight. If I hadn't been here to lead him away Reddy would have had you this very night."

The young Muskrat knew that this was true. It had been the narrowest escape in his short life. He shivered when he thought how narrow it had been. And he shivered more when he thought of what a dreadful thing it would be to cut his leg off. The pain of doing it would be dreadful, and afterward it would be dreadful to have only one front leg. He didn't see how he could possibly get along with only one. There must, there simply must be some other way out of his dreadful trouble. He said so. Jerry shook his head sadly.

"It is your leg or your life," said he. "It is for you to choose."

Do you wonder that that poor young Muskrat whimpered and whimpered? All the time that imprisoned leg was causing him great suffering, and at the same time he was filled with terror of what he must do or of what would happen if he didn't do it. Jerry Muskrat's advice was dreadful, but it was good advice even if the young Muskrat couldn't see it that way.

Bouquets Sent to Hospitals

Huge bouquets of flowers which filled the Board of Supervisors' room at the Hall of Records Monday on the occasion of Hugh A. Thatcher and J. Don Mahaffey taking office and Henry W. Wright being elevated to chairman were removed yesterday to the General and Methodist hospitals. The flowers were sent on order of the three Supervisors.

"I am grateful for the esteem which this floral tribute conveys and feel that the donors will be happy if they are passed on to persons whose lives will be made easier by the sight of them," Supervisor Thatcher declared as the blossoms were removed.

Your Baby and Mine

by MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

Mrs. Eldred will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope forwarded to this office will bring a personal reply.

This department offers leaflets on weaning and feeding the child from 6 weeks to 6 years, prenatal care and diet for the nursing mother, constipation, eczema, outfits for the new baby, sleeping, walking, teething, thumb sucking, ammoniacal urine, bed wetting, training in cleanly habits, periods of nursing, cod liver oil, orange juice, hives, worms, vomiting, refractory children, prune juice, lime water, rupture, styes and boils and cradle cap. Before asking a personal question about one of these subjects, it is better to send a self-addressed stamped envelope for the leaflet you need. If your particular problem is not covered in the above list, Mrs. Eldred will be glad to give you a personal reply.

SUGGESTION FOR KEEPING BABY COVERED

Mothers are always eager to pass on anything they have learned about child care, and Mrs. L. H. F. offers a suggestion for keeping babies covered. When I read her letter I had to stop and think for a moment to figure out exactly how the idea would work. What it really amounts to, as you will see, is pinning two blankets together with the baby between them. As this is exactly the idea of a sleeping bag with no pins, I still lean rather heavily in that direction.

This mother writes, "The doctor at the clinic told me this little trick for keeping baby covered. Lay the baby on a blanket, or sheet, cover with a blanket and pin the two together with stout pins at baby's shoulder and under each arm. I put on the blanket crosswise, giving ample room to tuck in at both sides. The baby can move his arms but cannot turn in a manner to get away from the covers. With a heavy 'sleeper' and this cover, baby is very warm."

INSUFFICIENT INFORMATION

"My boy is 2½ years old," says Mrs. S. A. L.'s letter, "and the doctors say he is all right. He has a very large stomach and often says that it pains him. I give him five drops of viosterol three times a day in water. Is this right? What do you think of hard-cooked eggs and bananas? He loves them but won't touch cereal. He is not broken yet and is restless at night."

I see no particular use for viosterol at this age. Why not give plain cod liver oil? I would consider fifteen drops of viosterol about right but at this age, find out why you are giving it. Only a doctor understands these powerful irradiated oils, and he should be the only one to advise them. Cod liver oil can be given in one-half teaspoonful doses three or four times daily, but at 2½ years cod liver oil is not an essential of the diet.

IS DIET O. K.?

The over-large stomach and the cramps may mean improper diet, or something else. Without any idea of the child's weight at birth and present weight, I have no way of visualizing his large stomach as an abnormality related to malnutrition or as just a little fat boy's tummy.

I would suggest that you send me a self-addressed, stamped envelope for these leaflets: "Week's Menu for the Child from Two to Four," "Bowel and Bladder Training," and "Retraining for Good Toilet Habits." He is quite old to begin training.

Hard cooked yolks of eggs are given babies under one year, so you need not fear them for a child of this age in moderation, say one every three days. Ripe bananas are an excellent food, and both bananas and baked potatoes may replace cereal in the menu at any time.

Health and Diet Advice

TYPHOID FEVER

In the old-time wars it was not uncommon for typhoid fever to kill more soldiers than did the shot and shell. During the late World War typhoid did not play as serious a part because of the especial precautions taken to prevent it. The disease occurs most often in the temperate climates, and most frequently attacks those between the ages of 15 and 30 years. It is the most common of all the long continued fevers.

A definite micro-organism, the bacillus typhosis, has been identified as the cause. This bacillus practically always enters the body through the mouth, most frequently in contaminated drinking water and food. The prevalence of this disease is a direct indication of the sanitary precautions of the community. The bacillus may be killed by boiling the drinking water and pasteurizing the milk. It will live in a dry condition for several months, below freezing for two weeks, and the direct rays of the sun for five to ten hours. Some people are known to have carried the germs for years and infected others while apparently in good health themselves. Flies are frequently responsible for the rapid spread of typhoid.

After the initial infection the disease may incubate in the body for eight to fifteen days before serious symptoms develop, although the patient may feel tired and restless. The symptoms are by no means the same in every case, but usually there will be a loss of appetite, headache, diarrhea, nose-bleed and abdominal pain. Soon the patient feels sick enough to remain in bed. There may be a slow rise in temperature, coated tongue, rapid pulse, abdominal pain and distention, and some mental wandering, cough and bronchitis. In about eight days a rose-colored, spotted rash may be seen upon the abdomen. The cheeks are highly flushed and the eyes bright. Later the features become dull and listless. The symptoms become worse during the second week. Mild cases may recover in about two weeks, but in more severe cases, provided the patient does not die sooner, the recovery may not begin until the sixth week. Recovery is very slow in this disease and even when the patient seems to be improving care must be used to prevent a relapse.

Drugs are of little if any benefit in this disorder. The therapy should be confined to careful nursing, restricted diet and water treatments. Cathartics should not be used. The patient must be confined to bed even if he wishes to get up. The room must be well ventilated and screened. No solid food should be given until the patient has entirely recovered. Solid food might bring on a fatal hemorrhage or perforation of the bowels. The patient should drink at least one gallon of water a day. The only foods which should be given until convalescence begins are fruit and vegetable juices. The patient should be given two or three enemas daily.

The water treatments are of the utmost importance. Whenever the temperature is about 102.5 deg. Fahr. cool sponge baths should be given over the spine, limbs and abdomen every hour when the patient is awake. During the night it is a good plan to have the patient wear a cool compress around the abdomen. Special care must be given to the cleanliness of the mouth and teeth. The teeth should be cleansed at least twice daily and it is a good plan to have the patient rinse out the mouth before taking any nourishment. These instructions may seem very simple, but when followed the mortality of typhoid will be reduced at least 50 per cent.

Ben C. Sheldon will be chairman.

Wife Married Half Century Sues Husband

Next June, Frand D. Noble, Pasadena druggist, and his wife, Mrs. Julia A. Noble, were to have celebrated their golden wedding.

Instead, it seemed probable yesterday that they might spend their fiftieth anniversary in a divorce court, Mrs. Noble having filed a complaint asking for separate maintenance.

Noble was cross, irritable, used profanity and would stay out until midnight, according to his wife's complaint. When his wife was ill, instead of trying to help her, he would bang doors, the complaint states. And when she wanted to listen to the radio, he would interrupt with harsh words, she asserts.

Mrs. Noble is supported by her grown son, she asserted. The couple married in Youngstown, N. Y., June 22, 1880. They separated February 15, last.

At the Age Women Dread
"Three years ago I was in bed three months with a nervous breakdown. After that I had to lie down often. I have four children, the youngest 21, and I board two little schoolgirls. I try to keep my home as a mother should but I am at the age so many women dread. Since taking six bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, I feel 100% stronger. Trojan Debaters Win Clash With Berkeley Team

Debating on the question that the modern school of cynicism has done more harm than good to American civilization, the team of the University of Southern California defeated debaters of the University of California at Berkeley at Bovard Auditorium on the S. C. campus last night.

U. S. Mitchell and Hyram White for S. C. took the affirmative and triumphed over Ernest Grove and Le Roy Coburn of U.C. with the negative by an audience vote of 131 to 72, with twenty-five votes undecided. In the balloting, Chairman Harold D. Kraft of the law school requested the audience to disregard the merits of the question and base their votes only on the merit of argument presented in the debate.

Pension Given Injured Officer

Police Sergeant Robert M. Turner, who suffered a broken leg and other injuries during the excitement at the Coliseum a year ago following the University of California at Los Angeles football victory over Montana, has been granted a disability retirement pension of $168.50 a month, 75 per cent of his salary, the Police Commission was informed yesterday by the Los Angeles Pension Commission.

Chief of Police Steckel informed the commission that Turner was an excellent officer. His injuries have left him permanently disabled, the commission was informed.

W.C.T.U. MEETS TOMORROW

Los Angeles W.C.T.U. will meet tomorrow at 1:45 p.m. at the First Methodist Church, Eighth and Hope streets. Addresses by the delegates to the national convention, including Mrs. Eva C. Wheeler, State president, and Dr. M. Len Hutchins will be the feature of the program.

TELEPHONE WILL ATTEMPT TO FOLLOW SHIP ON TOUR

The first attempt to maintain ship-to-shore telephone service during a round-the-world voyage will begin today when the steamship Belgenland, of the Red Star Line, leaves Antwerp for New York.

According to M. L. Stannard, division manager of the Southern California Telephone Company, the plan is largely experimental to determine to what extent ship-to-shore telephone service is feasible when the ships involved are out of the direct line of communication with the shore stations. The antennae of the transmitting and receiving stations on shore are designed so as to direct the greatest amount of electrical energy along the ship lanes.

Talking between the ship and Southern California telephones will probably be most successful while the Belgenland is in the North Atlantic. On the rest of her voyage around the globe similar telephone connections will be maintained with Europe through short-wave radio telephone stations in England.

If the British shore stations can hold conversations with the vessel while it is in Mediterranean and other eastern waters, direct connections may be made with Southern California telephones through the regular trans-Atlantic telephone channels of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company and the British postoffice, Stannard said.

GRIEFS WEIGH ON AERIALIST

So Trapeze Performer Cuts Loose from Husband's Harsh Treatment

Swinging high aloft on a trapeze, Ida Letourneau, circus aerialist, felt terror that her matrimonial worries would cause her to miss, so yesterday she divorced her partner, William George Letourneau. The circus aerialist wife told Superior Judge Collier that Letourneau treated her brutally.

Mrs. Billie Mack, another circus actress, testified that Letourneau was harsh to his wife and that the other circus folk feared her worries would cause Mrs. Letourneau to fall from the trapeze.

Chef Wyman's RECIPES

Every Friday at 2 o'clock Mrs. A. L. Wyman will conduct a free class and demonstration of good cookery in the lecture room of the Southwest Building, 130 South Broadway.

BAKING-POWDER NUT BREAD

Three cupfuls of flour, four level teaspoonfuls of baking powder, one-half a cupful of seedless raisins, one cupfull of milk, one-fourth of a teaspoonful of salt, one cupful of chopped nut meats, two eggs.

Sift the flour, baking powder, and salt together. Mix the nuts and raisins with the flour, beat the eggs, add the milk to them and beat them together. Combine the two mixtures, mix well and pour into an oiled and floured loaf cake tin. Place in a moderate oven and after the first fifteen minutes, gradually increase the heat.

MEXICAN PORK PUDDING

Remove the fat and bones from two pounds of fresh pork, and cut it in dice, place it in a saucepan, with two cupfuls of boiling water and add to the water one-half a bay leaf, one stalk of celery, one branch of parsley three pepper corns and three whole cloves. Cook until the meat is tender. Place in a saucepan one finely chopped onion, one chopped green pepper, a tablespoonful of chopped parsley, one chopped pimiento, and one clove of garlic chopped. Add enough of the broth the meat was cooked in to cover, and cook until the vegetables are tender. Add one level tablespoonful of chili powder that has been moistened with a little cold water; in another saucepan, place two cupfuls of canned corn, season with salt, paprika, and three tablespoonfuls of milk, and one tablespoonful of melted butter and allow it to heat. Remove from the fire and add to the corn one well-beaten egg, line the bottom of a baking dish with a layer of the corn, on it place a layer of the meat, and over the meat a layer of the vegetables. Sprinkle over the vegetables, stoned, chopped ripe olives, and continue until all has been used, having the last layer of corn. Place in a moderate oven and bake until thoroughly heated. If it appears a little too dry add a little of the broth in which the meat was cooked.

FROZEN BLANC MANGE

Soak one tablespoonful of gelatin in one-fourth of a cupful of cold water, scald two cupfuls of milk in a double boiler, beat the yolks of three eggs and add to them one-third of a cupful of sugar and one-eighth of a teaspoonful of salt. Pour the scalded milk over the beaten egg yolks. Return to the double boiler and cook until the mixture will coat a spoon. Then add the gelatin and cook until the gelatin is thoroughly dissolved. Remove, cool slightly and add one teaspoonful of vanilla extract. Pour into a mold and set in the ice box to harden. When ready to serve cover with a meringue made of the egg whites or cover with whipped cream to which has been added sliced green cherries or any kind of fresh berries or sliced fruit.

Alaska Becomes Unit in 'Times' Aircraft League

Alaska has joined the national division of the Los Angeles Times Playground Aircraft League with its parent school base at Fairbanks.

This information was received yesterday together with the announcement of the official appointment of Joe Crosson, Alaska's famous pilot, as chief instructor of the juvenile aviation school. S. E. Robbins, one of the six men in the world to do the outside loop, will assist Crosson in organizing schools throughout Alaska.

All of the lessons, plans, buttons, insignias and details of primary aviation, together with practical examples of plane construction, are being furnished the Alaska unit by The Times without cost or obligation.

Permit to Sell Seals Granted

The Post War Service League, a Hollywood organization which devotes its efforts to aiding families of veterans at Sawtelle, yesterday was granted a permit to place fifty stalls on city streets to sell 1,000,000 donated seals for veterans' aid during the Christmas period.

NEWS OF THE CAFES

Tomorrow evening at the Paris Inn Cafe on East Market street will be one of the most eventful days since its opening. Bert Rovere, owner with I. Pedroli, has prepared an unusual program in celebration of the complete redecoration and opening of what is said to be one of the most unique kitchens in the world. Decoration work has been done by Art Feigl, while there are many new paintings by the Bohemian artist, Muschi. Guests are to be admitted through the kitchen doors, where inspection may be made of all food served, the modern utensils employed in preparing it and the general cleanliness and sanitary appointments of the place. Reservations are being received. There is no cover charge.

NEW POM-POM OPENS

Kenneth Harlan's new Pom-Pom Cafe opened last night with a brilliant gathering of film players and night devotees. Harlan has taken to Hollywood a completely renewed and redecorated Pom-Pom, which no doubt will prove a mecca for cafe goers. A stage show with a cast of beautiful young girls and clever artists was presented and a complete new show will be offered every two weeks. Frank Braidwood, well known for his wit, acted as master of ceremonies. The opening of the Pom-Pom was not only a special treat for the amusement-seekers but it marks the initial venture of Kenneth Harlan, stage and screen actor, into the realm of the business world. Friends and admirers expressed their well wishes by attending the premiere last night and his Pom-Pom Cafe promises to become a rendezvous for the elite, especially during the holiday season following the remaining football games.

AFTER THE GAME

The Blossom Room of the Roosevelt Hotel will be the scene of one of the largest gatherings ever present there when a notable group will assemble to celebrate victory or drown sorrow at defeat following the Trojan-Notre Dame pigskin conflict at the Coliseum. Adding interest to the occasion will be the fact that "Carnival Night," the regular Saturday feature, takes place at that time. Special entertainment by Johnny Murray, "the personality boy," and the Hollywood Starlets Trio, beauteous feminine group which croons the latest song hits, will be among the highlights. As a special feature the new Roosevelt Orchestra will play a unique arrangement of favorite collegiate songs headed by the Trojan and Irish rally songs, and will also offer other special musical entertainment in addition to selected dance rhythms for the "big night."

AL LEVY'S TAVERN

With the 15th inst., the date which has been set for the gala opening of Al Levy's Tavern on Vine street between Hollywood Boulevard and Selma avenue but two weeks distant, finishing touches are being added to the new restaurant building by Morgan, Walls & Clements, architects, and Jack Schulze, who is in charge of its interior decoration. Built in the Old English style with a modernistic interior, the Tavern, upon completion, will represent an investment of more than $200,000 and will cater to an exclusive patronage. Joint proprietors will be Al Levy, veteran Los Angeles restaurateur, and John Mann, business partner with whom he operates Levy's Grill on Spring street, where reservations for the opening of the Tavern now are being received. Lights, music and the serving of an inaugural dinner which may be attended by advance reservations only, will feature the opening of the Tavern.

"OLD SPANISH CUSTOM"

The latest revue at George Olsen's popular cafe on Washington Boulevard bears the captivating title of "An Old Spanish Custom." Due to its quaint Spanish atmosphere the new and elaborate floor show is high in popular favor. The revue has been specially staged by the Mosconi Brothers and presents a rapid succession of comedy, music, dancing and novelties—all designed for entertainment purposes. The large cast of "An Old Spanish Custom" is headed by Jack Shutta, Edna and Johnny Torrence, Mildred Costello, Nilo Mennedez, Mario Alvarez, Maria Nascha, Jean O'Rourke, Maude Taylor, Olsen's Dancing Beauties, George Olsen and his music and a number of other acts complete a well-balanced bill. Dancing every night except Monday until 2:30 a.m. is a special feature offered at Olsen's.

DOUBLING IN BRASS

The newest band to furnish music for dancers at Solomon's has been christened "Tom Moore's Dublin Orchestra" for two reasons: First, many of the musicians are Irish, and, second, eight out of the nine men are capable of doublin' in their musical capacities. Tomorrow night the special offering at Solomon's Penny Dance de luxe will be a prize waltz contest. Menus are changed nightly in the buffeteria, where the inner man is satisfied.

Veteran G.O.P. Leader Passes

Howell W. McIntire, resident of Los Angeles for the last eighteen years, and formerly a well-known figure in Montana politics and business affairs, died yesterday in Cedars of Lebanon Hospital from cancer.

Mr. McIntire, who was born in Glastonbury, Ct., in 1858, went to Montana in the days just preceding the end of the Indian troubles. He established a business house in Miles City and eventually became one of the Republican leaders of the State. When he came to Los Angeles it was with the idea of retiring, but he engaged extensively in mining developments in this State. He was a Mason and a Knight of Pythias. He leaves his widow, Mrs. Ellen A. McIntire, and a son, Warren McIntire. The family home is in Sherman Oaks.

Funeral services will be conducted at 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon at Bresee Bros. chapel on Figueroa street.

PROTESTS REJECTED

BULLOCK'S AS IMPORTER LOWERS PRICE

Every home can use Chintzes somewhere in it! This is the very reason Bullock's plunged to the extent of 20,000 yards in this great purchase of Semi-Glazed Chintzes. 20,000 Yards are a lot of Chintzes . . . and because purchased in such quantity at their source of manufacture in France, Bullock's can mark them at 65c a yard!

A collection charming in its variety of pattern and coloring! Chintzes in character with the early American room, Provincial or 18th century . . . even with the Jacobean, or Italian or Spanish room of the simpler peasant type.

It would take more than words to describe their colorings . . . they are so lovely! So subtle in their blendings, shadings and contrasts. Only as the French can make them. And mind you, they are PERCALE Chintzes. Drapable, supple, silklike in finish, a quality comparable only to Semi-Glazed Chintzes of a much, much higher price! See them now . . . see them in relation to your own home, then buy these new Chintzes for draperies, bedspreads, slipcovers, and pillows!

HOSPITAL STONE LAYING PLANNED

Ceremonies at $11,800,000 Structure to Be Sunday

Rolph and Mary Pickford Will Take Part

Documents of future interest will be placed in the corner-stone of the new $11,800,000 Los Angeles County General Hospital when it is laid at the ceremonies Sunday afternoon, according to Supervisor Shaw yesterday.

The official announced that the committee recommends there be placed in it current issues of all the daily newspapers of Los Angeles, the county charter, the Constitution of the State of California, reports of the Board of Supervisors, the county budget, the annual publications of the hospital school of nursing, the annual of the attending staff of the hospital, plans and specifications of the new building, and the names of the members of the Allied Architects' Association, which planned the building.

The committee on contents of the box is composed of Supervisor Shaw, Dr. N. N. Wood, superintendent of the hospital; Edwin Bergstrom of the Allied Architects' Association and Everett W. Mattoon, County Counsel.

At the corner-stone laying Sunday Supervisor Shaw will be assisted by Mary Pickford. Gov.-elect Rolph will come from San Francisco to make the dedicatory address, and William Gary Morgan, M.D., president of the American Medical Association, will be here from Washington, D. C., to take part in the ceremonies.

CITY JAIL SHIFTS LOCALE

The new jail to be erected in Avenue 19 in the Lincoln Heights district is to be officially known as the City Jail, the Police Commission decided yesterday, when it passed a resolution to that effect, so that the structure may be so designated on the chart of Chief Steckel's police reorganization plan.

Steckel informed the commission he found the people of the district were opposed to retaining the name of Lincoln Heights for the new structure, as has been the custom for the old, as it would be a detriment to the district.

The commission approved specifications calling for bids on thirty-four tons of meat for city prisoners for the next three months.

Fortune Teller Sues for Permit

Refused a fortune-telling permit, Catherine Adams has sued for a writ of mandamus, charging another gypsy virtually has a monopoly on the seer business in downtown Los Angeles.

Wedding Gifts Arouse Scorn

Wedding anniversary gifts aroused his wife's scorn, John P. Ziegler, manager of a gasoline station, yesterday complained in getting a divorce from Olive I. Ziegler, proof reader. Superior Judge Rankin granted the decree.

Ziegler said he was humiliated in 1923 when his wife sued for divorce and then did not get one. They became reconciled in May, 1926, but failed to get on happily. Mrs. Ziegler did not press her complaint charging cruelty, permitting Ziegler to win a decree by default on a cross-complaint as well as custody of their son, John P., Jr., 10 years of age.

SEWERING ORDERED

The City Council yesterday passed the final ordinance for the sewering of the Bay View avenue and M-street district.

If Towns Merge They'll Have to Use Own Water

If the communities of Altadena, La Canada and La Crescenta wish to annex themselves to the city of Los Angeles, as proposed by Jay V. V. Green in a recent communication to the City Council, the area concerned must depend upon its own water supply, according to a report filed with the City Council yesterday by the Board of Water and Power Commissioners.

The matter was referred by the Council to its Planning Committee and to the Water and Power Committee to determine whether an annexation petition shall be issued.

BULLOCK'S WILL GIVE WINTER SPORT EXHIBIT

Just how much Southern California is coming to the fore as a winter sports resort is indicated by the interest displayed in the Bullock's-Wilshire Winter Sports Exhibit and Fashion Show to be given today in the Lounge on the fifth floor. E. Des Baillets, director of snow activities of two California resorts, will talk on the necessity of dressing smartly and comfortably for skiing, skating, snowshoeing, tobogganing and other such pastimes. His lecture will be illustrated by a showing of appropriate snow fashions from the Bullock's-Wilshire section of sportswear.

COMICS TEAMED BY PARAMOUNT

Louise Fazenda, Winninger Cast in "The Westerner;" Raymond Griffith Signs as Writer With Warners; Fred Niblo Brings Story Options From East

BY GRACE KINGSLEY

Thrills and romance are all right in a western picture, think Paramount officials, but this little thing called comedy is also coming to be looked upon as highly necessary. And so they are seeing to it that a good measure of comedy is injected into all their stories of the wide-open spaces.

LOUISE FAZENDA

This will apply to "The Westerner," in which Richard Arlen and Mary Brian are co-featured in the leading roles. And to the end two popular and noted fun-makers have been signed to be featured together in comedy leads. Louise Fazenda and Charles Winninger are the players in question.

Louise is too well known to fans to need any introduction. Winninger has been famous on Broadway for his comedy in musicals and farces.

Ed Sloman will direct "The Westerner," which is to be made largely in Arizona, we understand.

RAYMOND GRIFFITH SIGNED AT WARNERS

Raymond Griffith never was one to put all his eggs into one basket. Now that the talking pictures are in, it is fortunate for Mr. Griffith, since the huskiness of his voice has proved somewhat of a handicap, that he was formerly a very successful director, and had gained no little renown as a writer of his own stories.

Raymond Griffith

Now Warner Brothers, recognizing Griffith's talents in this domain, according to announcement made yesterday by Darryl Zanuck, have signed him as a permanent member of their scenario staff. His first assignment will be a comedy, probably destined for Winnie Lightner, who returns the first of the year to go to work.

FRED NIBLO HOME; HAS STORY OPTIONS

Bringing with him a number of options on originals and produced plays, as well as on published and unpublished stories, Fred Niblo, who completed his Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer contract several weeks ago, and who went east shortly afterward accompanied by his wife, Enid Bennett, has returned to his Beverly Hills home.

FRED NIBLO

So far Niblo has made no new connections, although he has several offers under consideration. When he does sign, it will be with the proviso, he said yesterday, that he be permitted to direct the stories on which he has options, or others that are in his mind as good.

He and Mrs. Niblo visited Havana after a protracted stay in New York, and came home a few days ago by way of the Panama Canal.

Sidney Fox Arrives

That charmer of Broadway, Sidney Fox, under contract to Universal, has arrived in Hollywood. She was accompanied by Mrs. Warren Price, wife of the actor, who appeared in "Lost Sheep" with Miss Fox.

The young actress is 18 years of age. She has had much stage experience, but began her career as a newspaper reporter. At that time, when 16, she conducted a column on a New York daily, in which she gave advice to the love-lorn! Maybe that experience was what brought out the dramatic side of her nature. At any rate, she gave up newspaper work for the stage.

Miss Fox is to play the star role in John Murray Anderson's original story, not yet titled. However, this story is said not to be anywhere near completion, so there is a possibility that Universal will assign her to some other picture before that. In the meantime the actress is looking about at Hollywood and way stations in Southern California.

Rufus LeMaire Casting

If anybody should know about acting it is Rufus LeMaire. LeMaire has been an actor for the past twenty years or thereabouts.

At any rate Warner Brothers decided that he was just the man to pick actors for them and have signed him as casting director, with offices at First National and also at the old Warner studio.

Alice Calhoun to Stage

Nobody will be a bit surprised to learn, I'm sure, that Alice Calhoun, former Vitagraph star, has decided to take a flyer into the spoken drama.

Miss Calhoun will make her stage debut Monday night at the Major Theater in the Beaux Arts Building at Eighth and Beacon streets, at which time she will play the star part in a comedy called "Everybody's Troubles."

Margaret Livingston Cast

That practiced screen vampire, Margaret Livingston, is to portray another such characterization in the films. Miss Livingston has been signed by Radio Pictures to play a featured role with Betty Compson in "Children of the Streets."

Another player of note, Edgar Norton, was signed yesterday also. He will play another featured role. Norton was formerly well known to the New York stage.

George Fawcett In It

Tiffany is leaving no stone unturned to make a great picture of "Drums of Jeopardy," it appears. Now it is George Fawcett who has been signed for an important part in the picture, the leading feminine role of which will be played by June Collyer.

Doug and Mary Entertain

Douglas Fairbanks and Mary Pickford will entertain some noted guests during the holidays. They are the Duke and Duchess of Sutherland of England, and William Rhinelander Stewart of New York and London.

MONTANAN COMES FAR FOR GAME

Ex-Mayor of Butte Here Solely to See Saturday's Football Classic

Business depression, unemployment, the President's message to Congress and the kindred subjects that are of first consideration in the welfare of the nation are all shelved for the week, according to Charles Nevin, former Mayor of Butte, Mont., and prominent citizen of that State.

Mr. Nevin is a visitor in Los Angeles, but he is not studying business conditions nor preholiday trading. He is here for the sole purpose of attending the football classic at the Coliseum Saturday between the University of Southern California and Notre Dame and all other matters must await the outcome of that game.

Principal interest for the Montana visitor will center in No. 31 on the Notre Dame squad. Dan Hanley, a fullback on the Irish team, hails from Butte, and his football prowess as well as his collegiate attainments have been of interest to Mr. Nevin since Hanley's boyhood days. Mrs. Nevin accompanies her husband.

"We're here solely to see that game Saturday," said Mr. Nevin. "As soon as it is played we will be on our way home and we will then take up the normal affairs of business."

Mr. Nevin would not hazard an opinion as to the winner.

STICKING UP STOP SIGNS GETS BOOST

Council Approves Placing of Several and Considers New Recommendations

The practice of sticking up arterial stop signs and flasher signals, which received a considerable setback when the Automobile Club of Southern California declined to erect them gratis any longer, has received new impetus, and one day's grist at the City Hall shows:

The traffic and lighting committee yesterday recommended to the City Council, and the Council approved, arterial signs at Clinton street and Madison avenue, arterial stop signs at Sunset Boulevard and Grand avenue, arterial stop signs at Aliso and Vignes streets, traffic signals at Fletcher Drive and Estara street, and traffic signals at Figueroa and Alpine streets.

The Police Commission recommended to the Council the installation of arterial stop signs at Fourth street and Rossmore street, arterial stop signs at Fifth street and Rossmore street, arterial stop signs at East First street and Mission Road, arterial stop signs at Thirty-sixth Place and University avenue, arterial stop signs at Thirty-sixth street and University avenue, arterial stop signs at Vernon avenue and Leimert Boulevard, and arterial stop signs at Sunset Boulevard and Hill streets.

Wife Objects to Comparisons

Odious comparisons with a first wife were too much for Mrs. Rose Richman, milliner, she told Superior Judge Moncur yesterday in winning a divorce from Samuel Richman, owner of a millinery shop.

"He told me his first wife was smart, whereas I was dumb and had no brains," Mrs. Richman complained.

Judge Moncur ordered Richman to pay $40 a month for the support of the son, Arthur, 3 years of age, awarded to his mother's care.

City Employee Held for Trial

Robert B. Forsythe, former chief accountant of the city health department, was held for Superior Court trial on seventeen counts of embezzlement of public funds and one of grand theft by Municipal Judge Sheldon yesterday.

THRONG PAYS TRIBUTE TO RECITALIST

Edward Johnson Adds to Laurels Already Won by Superior Singing

BY ISABEL MORSE JONES

Edward Johnson gave his second song recital in Los Angeles in two days last night at the Philharmonic Auditorium. Again a large audience was left eager for more of his singing after a long program. The concert list ran the gamut of masculine songs for high voice, from old Italian opera, through German lieder and French poesy to songs in English, a Negro spiritual and "Vesti la giubba" from "Pagliacci."

Johnson is an artist of superior craftsmanship and he gives of his voice and his emotions unstintingly. The result is a bond between himself and his audience that grows stronger with every song he sings, and each listener feels that Johnson is singing directly to him. It is a magnificent achievement when a singer can make each one of a throng of 2000 feel the personal thrill of the varied emotions set down by many poets and composers.

"Ihr Bild" by Schubert, "Waldseligkeit" by Joseph Marx, "Allerseelen" and "Zueignung" by Richard Strauss, with an encore by Schubert composed a fine group of lieder. An aristocratic taste distinguished the French group of "Automne" (Faure,) "L'ane Blanc" (Hue,) "Les Cloches" (Debussy) and "Un fragment d'Alfred de Musset" (Rachmaninoff.) The songs in English gave particular pleasure, because Mr. Johnson has the grace to sing his own language without flaw. One of these, "Moon Marketing," by Powell Weaver, held so much of the magic of the madness of love that the audience insisted upon hearing it twice. Michael Head's fey "Piper," answered the insistent calls for more. An Italian folk song about the love of a sailor was another encore and "Vesti la giubba" another.

And so the concert went on until an indefinite hour and the warmth of his reception must have delighted Mr. Johnson as the living beauty of his singing pleased his audience.

Karl Young is a skillful accompanist whom Mr. Johnson has brought with him, and his piano soli were so applauded that he added two encores.

VINE STREET ANNOUNCES NEW FARCE

"She Had to Marry" to Be Presented on Stage Starting Monday

Monday night will mark the first presentation on any stage of "She Had to Marry," sophisticated farce about Hollywood. The play will be offered at the Vine-street Theater.

The comedy was written by Margaret Echard, and a competent cast has been chosen, it is said.

The story of "She Had to Marry" concerns a young artist who obtains a $10,000 wedding gift, part of a legacy, by falsely reporting that she is married. Arrival of her guardian puts her in the predicament of obtaining a pseudo-husband on two hours' notice.

"Ghosts," starring Mrs. Patrick Campbell, celebrated English actress, will have its final performance Saturday night.

RUSSIANS PRESENT "CHERRY ORCHARD"

Dina Smirnova, Michael Visaroff Play Chief Roles in Anton Tchekov Drama

BY KATHERINE T. VON BLON

There is invariably an intense primitive instinct involved in the story of the soil, and Anton Tchekov in "The Cherry Orchard," now running at the Dramatic Arts Guild Theater, has made his diagnosis revelatory.

In America it is perhaps difficult to fully comprehend the peculiar lure which this amalgamation of human life with the soil which supports it exerts, since we have more or less abandoned this idea and mode of living. But in Europe for generations, perhaps, one family and descendants have found sustenance and, indeed, the very life-giving force from this medium.

Tchekov with poetic insight has chosen as his raison d'etre the tender beauty of an old cherry orchard, with its intangible fragrance which somehow revives yearning memories in the heart of an aristocratic woman of sensitive feeling. This woman though supposedly a grand dame du monde, yet possesses the naive heart of a child, and it is this lovely heart of her youth which is irreparably wounded through the destruction of her beloved cherry orchard, which is to her nothing less than an old friend.

Dina Smirnova, a favorite of the Russian stage, with her appealing voice and wistful charm, gave potent reality to the character of the lonely aristocrat. Michael Visaroff, who interprets the part of the peasant grown rich and overbearing, first appeared in this characterization in Moscow, where the play was given under the supervision of the author. His portrayal was interestingly conceived and delightfully naive, though slightly too unrepressed in spots. Dan Crimmini as the 90-year-old butler, splendidly realized his part.

BURLESQUE WINS FAVOR

CONCERT ANNOUNCED

The Bartlett-Frankel Quartet will give an interesting program before the Matinee Musical Club this afternoon. The concert, beginning at 2:30, will be in the French Room of the Ambassador Hotel.

Fair Charmer Plays "War Nurse"

Anita Page

Youthful and vivacious film actress, has an important part in the enactment of the M.-G.-M. feature picture which starts at Loew's State Theater tomorrow.

BARNACLE BILL AT CIRCLE

The tang of salt spray pervades the forecourt of the Carthay Circle Theater in the person of Barnacle Bill, a modern ancient mariner, who is an added attraction during the run of "Min and Bill," the feature starring Marie Dressler and Wallace Beery.

Though Bill does not appear behind the footlights at the Carthay, he ventures that a vaudeville contract will result from his present engagement where he successfully enlightens guests of "Min and Bill" about the honorable maritime art of knot-tying.

His many years on the high seas and visits to every country in the world have equipped Bill with a seemingly inexhaustible fund of amusing stories, with which he regales his onlookers as he handles the intricate knots with amazing dexterity.

Bill appeared in the location scenes of "Min and Bill," which were filmed at Terminal Island, San Pedro. When the Carthay Circle imported him for the knot-tying exhibition, a small fisherman's house was built in the forecourt.

Veteran Plays Role in Drama at El Capitan

Frank Dawson recently celebrated his fortieth anniversary on the stage and his fifth year in California. He is now playing a role in "Michael and Mary," the A. A. Milne romance in which Dale Winter and Henry Duffy are costarred at El Capitan Theater.

"If I had the choice of plays in which to appear, I would always select one of Milne's or Galsworthy's," says the actor. "While my current part is not large nor showy, it is gratifying and so beautifully written that it is a pleasure to go on every night and speak the lines. The character is delicately etched, a characteristic I admire in Milne's work."

Dawson's stage career started forty years ago in the chorus. This was in St. Louis, where he gratified a desire to go on the stage by taking a part in the chorus of a Gilbert and Sullivan opera. Since that time he has supported such stars as Mrs. Fiske, Fanny Ward, William Brady and Doris Keane.

'Stella Dallas' Star Will Play New Film Role

Belle Bennett plays the leading role in "The Woman Who Was Forgotten," which starts at the Majestic Theater together with a new Jack Russell stage show tomorrow.

The cast also includes Jack Mower, Le Roy Mason and Gladys McConnell. It was in "Stella Dallas" that Miss Bennett's gift of characterization was brought to the attention of the public.

Completing the program will be a comedy and a newsreel. Vera Reynolds and Jason Robards are featured in the current films, "The Last Dance."

FAVORITE OFFERS SUAVE PORTRAYAL

Adolphe Menjou

Playing his old type role with ease and a fine show of talent, Adolphe Menjou lends a note of suavity and polish to "Morocco," the Paramount film now being screened at the Chinese Theater. Menjou played several of these roles in silent pictures with fine results.

Fellow-Actors in Picture Have Much in Common

Basil Rathbone and Kenneth MacKenna, who share male honors in support of Constance Bennett in "Sin Takes a Holiday," now at the Orpheum Theater, are both English stage stars, drawn to the screen with the advent of the talkies. Both would have been engineers, according to parental plans. They invariably portray gentlemen of fashion and sophistication.

Rathbone's father was a noted engineer and he is said to have hoped to see his son follow in his footsteps. But the latter enlisted the aid of his cousin, Frank Benson, British actor-manager, and finally won.

Grace George, stage actress, was responsible for launching MacKenna on a theatrical career. She saw him in an amateur performance in 1918 and recommended him for the lead in the play in which she was starring. He rehearsed for only three days, but is said to have definitely scored.

Rathbone has appeared in such screen plays as Norma Shearer's "The Last of Mrs. Cheyney," Ruth Chatterton's "Lady of Scandal" and "The Bishop Murder Case."

Eccentric Comic Gets Star Spot of Variety Bill

As the headliner of the vaudeville unit on the program opening tomorrow at the R.-K.-O. Theater, Roy Sedley, eccentric comic, will offer a skit, "Sound and Unsound."

As the opening number on the stage, Myers, Lubow and Rice and their petite ballet sextet, composed of pupils of the Perry Mansfield school, are to present "A Dance Escapade."

Next is Raymond Baird, 16-year-old saxophone player. Loring Smith and company follow with a musical comedy skit written by Harry Green called "Waiting at the Church."

On the screen "The Cat Creeps," mystery melodrama, will replace Slim Summerville and Harry Langdon in "See America Thirst." The Universal adaptation of "The Cat and the Canary" is enacted by Helen Twelvetrees, Raymond Hackett, Neil Hamilton, Lilyan Tashman, Jean Hersholt, Montagu Love and Theodor von Eltz.

Wallace Beery in Sailor Role

Wallace Beery and Jim Tully are seen as the sailor companions of John Gilbert in "Way for a Sailor," while Polly Moran and Doris Lloyd have the amusing roles of the ladies who wait at the dock.

"Way for a Sailor," which starts at Pantages Hollywood Theater tomorrow, takes the audience out to sea inside a battered tramp steamer and is said to give an intimate picture of life on the briny deep. Leila Hyams plays opposite John Gilbert in the picture, which was directed by Sam Wood for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer.

HAROLDE IN PLAY

Ralf Harolde, Radio's new gentleman villain, has been handed the script for several plays, one of which he will appear in soon.

Whispers in the Wings

BY MURIEL BABCOCK

THERE'S no doubt about it, the production that Sid Grauman, should he allow his fancy full rein, will give, "Once In a Lifetime" will be like nothing Los Angeles has known in a stage way in the past.

I talked to Mr. Grauman at length, over the telephone, the other noon. You may not know it, but about the only moment of the day this gentle-hearted and enthusiastic showman can be trapped for even a few minutes' conversation is before he has breakfast and leaves his hotel. The coffee cooled, operators clicked in our ears and Mr. Grauman talked on and on of his ever-germinating ideas and plans.

He is going to ballyhoo "Once In a Lifetime" in the Graumanseque manner, he said. "There are the tourists. They will want to see what Hollywood is like, or at least how film folk are caricatured."

If he cannot get the theater he wants in town he will build one. Hollywood needs another playhouse. (You may recall that when Mr. Grauman first took over "Hell's Angels" he talked of putting up an enormous tent for the showings.) But anyway, now, he is sure he could use a theater because he thinks he will do more plays this year.

He will not put motion-picture people in the cast. "It is such gorgeous satire I cannot see the film persons taking part in it, poking fun at themselves. Stage actors will be more convincing."

The cast will be equal to or better than that in New York. Sam Harris wants to send four principals on from the East. Grauman thinks this a good idea. Moss Hart, the boy who wrote the play and later had it whipped into shape by George Kaufman, is coming.

Hollywood should love the show. "It is such gorgeous fun. I talked to producers, big men of the industry, before I purchased it. They said, 'Sid, you grab that play. It's the funniest thing we ever saw. It's not mean, not vicious, just good caricature.'"

His personal prediction is that "Once In a Lifetime" will have at least a four-months' run locally.

That's a long time for the best of shows here, but—well, there are the tourists and the Grauman ballyhoo to be reckoned with.

Pen Proves Prolific

Bella Spewack, sometimes known as Bella Cohen, is probably the first lady playwright to have two plays in production on the Pacific Coast simultaneously.

Miss Spewack's newest piece, "Spring Song," will have a premiere the week of the 11th inst. at the Pasadena Community Playhouse with Vera Gordon, character actress.

Another effort, "The Shyster," sold to United Artists for picture purposes, is to be produced in San Francisco about a week later, with Harry Green in the title role. The latter, it is said, was written in collaboration with her husband, with whom she has authored three other plays. They are "Poppa," "War Song" and "Solitaire Man."

Life on the lower East Side of New York, whence Miss Spewack was transplanted from her native Hungary at the age of 3, is woven into "Spring Song."

Along the Eastern Front

The correspondent in New York is inclined to be pessimistic over December prospects in that city. He reports:

"The paucity of new shows is marked by the fact that a couple of the subway circuit houses will be shuttered and that in Atlantic City the Apollo Theater, almost always open for business, will be dark. And three of the subway theaters will play the film, "Hell's Angels," through the ordinarily active Christmas to New Year's period. Which all means that the brothers Brandt of the outlying theater are busily making plans to produce for them. One of their projects is to get a new play and fill it with stars in the same manner of a George C. Tyler revival.

"All this indicates December will provide slim pickings as far as new plays go; probably the slimmest of many seasons. For the week beyond this, not a single premiere is scheduled at the moment; that of the 15th inst. holds only two but they are two of promise. One is "Petticoat Influence," which with Miss Helen Hayes as the star, is coming to the Empire; the other is Mr. Hammerstein's new musical show, which will have the always-welcome W. C. Fields.

"Miss Francine Larrimore, who has not acted in these parts since 'Let Us Be Gay,' reports that she is reading three plays at the moment—'High C,' by Gladys Unger, which Mr. Pemberton controls, 'A Wayward Lady,' by Joseph Graham, and a Cosmo Hamilton dramatization. What, by the way, ever became of 'Let Us Be Good' Miss Crothers's sequel to "Let Us Be Gay'?

"One of the motion-picture gossip writers recently reported from the Coast that $60,000 has been turned down for Edna Ferber's, 'The Greeks Had a Name for It.' But the films did pay a goodly sum for Zoe Akin's 'Show Boat!'

"The rights to 'School Girl' book and play, are said to have been sold to the films for $35,000 prior to the opening of the play here. The story further runs that the film company has agreed to pay $1000 a week up to $75,000 in all, for each week that the play remains on Broadway."

New Vaudeville Bill Announced

Starting tomorrow the new vaudeville program at the Million Dollar Theater will bring to patrons another entertaining array of acts.

Included is Alphonse Berge, London and Paris style designer, in a fashion revue. Monsieur Berge designs the latest creations on living models, it is reported. Otesco, Hungarian violinist; the Rita Rubin Trio, dancers; Frank Evers and Greta, the Spencers, a surprise act, round out the bill.

The current Paramount feature, "Laughter," closes tonight.

BARNYARD SYMPHONY HEARD

Crowds Flock to Poultry Exhibition

Fine Feathers Preened

THOUSANDS of chickens, geese, ducks, pigeons, turkeys and several hundred rabbits vied for honors and the interest of the crowds visiting the opening of the fifth annual Los Angeles County Midwinter Poultry Show at the Civic Shrine Auditorium yesterday. The exhibits came from all parts of the United States. The show is under the sponsorship of the Greater Southern California Poultry Association and will continue until Sunday night.

Pretentious exhibits from commercial manufacturers of hatcheries, brooders and incubators represented the biggest response in the history of the organization. One of the displays consisted of an incubator with a capacity of 52,000 eggs and capable of hatching 10,000 baby chicks a week.

All standard breeds of poultry are displayed along with a number of exhibits of wild geese, ducks and pigeons. The pigeons are exhibited in conjunction with the show by the Los Angeles Pigeon Club, representing the nineteenth annual show of the organization. One of the largest exhibit of eggs ever seen here is one of the features of the show. Judging of the exhibits is scheduled to start today.

Officers of the association who are directing the show are J. Will Blackman, president; Arthur W. Ruskins and George C. England, vice-presidents, Robert T. Lyons, secretary, and E. I. Hammond, show superintendent.

LIQUOR BOAT WITH THREE MEN TAKEN

Three Thousand Gallons of Alcohol Seized in Raid at San Pedro Pier

In a surprise raid last night, San Pedro police captured a fifty-six-foot fishing boat, three men, 3000 gallons of alcohol and a small truck partially loaded with the illegal liquor.

The harbor police had been tipped off to an attempted landing and awaited the time to strike. The alcohol, according to reports, was trucked overland from Mexico distilleries and loaded on the fishing boat off the Mexican coast for delivery to San Pedro.

When Sergt. Baldwin and his vice squad appeared on the scene they found the boat, Cleveland, valued at approximately $15,000, loaded with the five-gallon alcohol tins, but the operators of the vessel got away. They were later located on a near-by boat, and are charged with attempting to smuggle in the liquor. When booked at the San Pedro station they gave their names as Norman Oswald, 45 years of age, of 1257 South Western avenue, Los Angeles; Dick Svol, 43, of 322½ West Twelfth street, San Pedro, and Juraj Devlahovich, 40, of 430 West Eighteenth street, San Pedro.

Ownership of the fishing boat and also the truck is being traced by the San Pedro police, in the belief that they may be a part of a large rum-running fleet attempting to land liquor for the holiday trade.

Three Doctors Lose Suit for Estate Shares

Holding that Della S. Arnold destroyed her will shortly before her death, Superior Judge Guerin yesterday decided against three physicians who sought a share of her $12,000 estate. The judge refused to admit to probate a duplicate copy of the will offered on behalf of Dr. Frank Porter Miller of Sierra Madre, Dr. F. M. Pottenger of Pasadena, and Dr. H. P. Merrill of South Pasadena.

The suit was brought for the three doctors in the name of the Citizens' Trust and Savings Bank, executor. Dr. Merrill sought $1000 and Drs. Miller and Pottenger $500 each, which they contended were bequeathed them in the destroyed will. The physicians asserted that one of the heirs destroyed the will, but Judge Guerin decided that it was destroyed by Mrs. Arnold, who died August 25, last.

As a result of the court's decision, the estate will go to Earl Burt Smith, father of Mrs. Arnold, a widow, and to her brothers, Irving Taylor Smith, Earl Taylor Smith, and Dr. Robert I. Smith, and to Elenor Adelle Smith, a niece.

Coroner's Jury Upholds Killing of Glenn Carter

Killing of Glenn Carter, 35 years of age, early last Sunday morning by Jennie Cuvillier, 34, former New York stage actress, was held yesterday by a Coroner's jury to have been justifiable.

Testimony at the inquest, which was conducted by Deputy Coroner Monfort, revealed that the stabbing took place at an apartment occupied by the pair at 903 West Vernon avenue.

Jascha Heifetz and Wife Arrive

"Interest in the concert hall is not lagging," Jascha Heifetz declared yesterday on his arrival from San Francisco, where he appeared at the Civic Auditorium. Heifetz, accompanied by Mrs. Heifetz (Florence Vidor,) will remain in Southern California a week while he fills engagements.

Monday evening Heifetz will give his only recital in Los Angeles, the first in two years, and the last for two more seasons. Immediately following the concert Heifetz will leave for the East, where concerts will keep him until May, when his fourth tour of the world takes him out of the United States for a year. He will tour the Near West, South Africa, Australia and Europe.

BUSINESS MAKES GAINS

Chamber Publication Says Christmas Buying Will Put Millions of Idle Money to Work

There is every evidence business in the current month will show encouraging activity in many lines the Southwest Business Review, issued by the Chamber of Commerce, points out. The constructive efforts of business leaders to encourage stability are having results.

One of the most encouraging factors in business at the present time is the indication that between $600,000,000 and $700,000,000 will be spent in Christmas purchases in the nation, and that Los Angeles and the Southwest will get its share of this expenditure.

More effectively, perhaps, than the appeals of business leaders, the seasonal buying of gifts will remove much idle money from savings funds and place it in healthful business-reviving circulation.

PURCHASES INCREASE

One of the items of merchandise showing encouragingly on the chart of business activity is wearing apparel. Despite talk of depression by the pessimists, seasonal lines of attire are being purchased by the public in increasingly satisfactory proportions.

Agricultural returns to the State promise to be greater than last year, the business survey states.

Melville Dozier, Jr., manager of the Southern California chapter of the Associated General Contractors, reports that notwithstanding the seasonal decline in building activity and municipal improvements construction held up remarkably well in November.

OUTLOOK GOOD

"Continued low material prices are expected to play an important part in developing new business during the next three months," the Chamber of Commerce survey quotes him as saying. "This is especially true in the light of the 'Build Now' programs and the efforts being made to relieve unemployment. Engineering construction, street work, highway, bridges, etc., have been somewhat less during the last month, but the outlook is good."

California, during November produced about 600,000 barrels of oil a day, due largely to new development in the Venice field, making further curtailment desirable, the survey says.

In crops, 1930 is a year of record production for California, the survey adds. The showing is especially remarkable for citrus fruits. Loss from recent wind damage is not expected to be more than 5 per cent both for loss of fruit and lowering of grades.

Dismissal Won by Harold Fisch

Following three Municipal Court jury trials, usury charges against Harold Fisch, head of a finance company, were dismissed yesterday by Municipal Judge Curtis.

The dismissal was granted at the request of Deputy City Prosecutor Jack, who told the court that two of the trials resulted in hung juries and that in the other Fisch was convicted, the finding being reversed by Superior Court. In addition, Jack said, the complaining witness, Frank A. Stone, is now in Arizona. Fisch was accused of charging Stone $30 interest on a loan of $350 for about a month. He contended that the interest covered a period of thirty-six weeks.

Buckley, Film Actor, Killed

Joseph B. Buckley, 55 years of age, an actor at R.-K.-O. studios, was killed instantly late yesterday when he drove his automobile in front of a Pacific Electric freight train at the San Fernando Road-Sunland-avenue crossing, Van Nuys. The car was dragged 400 feet down the tracks before the engineer brought his train to a stop.

Buckley was dead when taken from the wreckage. He lived at 9265 Sunland avenue, Van Nuys. The body was removed to the Filbach mortuary, Burbank.

CANINE QUARTERBACK'S DEATH WRECKS TEAM

The spark plug of W. H. Groh's dog football team was the pedigreed Scotch terrier Shanty, Groh testified yesterday in Superior Judge Sproul's court, where he is suing the Los Angeles Transfer Company for $30,000 on account of Shanty's death.

The canine quarterback was injured while in transit in one of the defendant's trucks and testimony yesterday had to do with the $10,000 valuation placed on the dead pet by his owner. Groh wants $20,000 more for loss of his football team's earning power after Shanty was taken away.

"I took the rest of my act to New York after Shanty died," said Groh, "but it didn't click. The team just couldn't get anywhere without Shanty. The players would fumble the ball, run the wrong way and were offside on nearly every play. It was an awful flop."

Groh testified also that after he found Shanty injured in his kennel-trunk, he discovered a rope fastening a latch had not been tied by a left-handed man. The dog's caretaker was left-handed. So that proved, according to Groh's attorney, John M. Bowen, that the dog had been injured while out of the trunk, released by an unauthorized person, probably an employee of the transfer company. This was denied by defense counsel, who contended Shanty had injured himself.

Judge Sproul issued a bench warrant for Mrs. H. M. Wakelin, wife of the proprietor of the K-9 Hospital, where Shanty was during his final illness. Mrs. Wakelin appeared when the case was called, but went home, according to Bailiff Bishop. The case will be resumed today.

Husband Rough, Wife Complains

Rough treatment by her husband was complained of yesterday by Mrs. Margaret Runions in divorcing George N. Runions, electrical contractor. The wife accused her husband of pushing her over a wash tub, injuring her spine and causing a paralytic stroke; of squeezing her neck viciously and hitting her on the mouth.

Superior Judge Rankin granted her a decree, and ordered Runions to contribute to the support of the four minor children, who were awarded to the wife's custody. The Runionses married in Illinois in 1915 and separated June 24, last.

BOULEVARDS TO DOLL UP

Boulevards of Hancock Park will be decorated for the Christmas holidays, William Alen, manager of the Hancock Park Chamber of Commerce, announced yesterday. On Wilshire Boulevard from Sycamore Drive to Masselin avenue, and on La Brea from Beverly to Wilshire, street lamps will be dressed in red and green.

PLAYGROUND MAN PLEADS NOT GUILTY

Schriber's Trial Set for 19th Inst. on Charge of City Property Thefts

George F. Schriber, superintendent of the city playground department workshops, pleaded not guilty to two charges of petty theft before Municipal Judge Curtis yesterday. He demanded jury trial, which was set for the 29th inst., and he was released on $250 bail.

The complaint was issued by Deputy City Prosecutor McDonald and charges that Schriber stole benches valued at $130 and golf course markers worth $18 from the city. The property was recovered, McDonald said, from a miniature golf course at 484 Los Feliz Boulevard, Glendale, said to be partly owned by Schriber.

Two other playground employees, Frank L. Earlie, assistant storeroom manager, and Fred Kriwitz, storeroom clerk, are to be tried on similar charges on the same date.

RUDOLPH HERTWIG SOUGHT

Rudolph Hertwig, 41 years of age, formerly of South Africa, is the object of a search of his sister, Mrs. Gertie Warnar of Sourabaya, D.E.I., the latter states in a letter received by The Times yesterday. He is believed to be working on a ranch somewhere in Southern California.

Move Aimed at Married Pairs on City Pay Roll

A resolution aimed at the practice of having both husband and wife on the city pay roll at the same time was introduced in the City Council yesterday by Councilman Williams. A short time ago the City Attorney reported the Council without jurisdiction in the matter.

Williams asks that the Council register its disapproval of the custom and that the City Attorney file an opinion on the possibility of the Council passing legislation.

The resolution was referred to the City Attorney and the Efficiency and Personnel Committee.

CLUB ANNOUNCES MONTHLY DINNER

The second monthly dinner of the Hollywood City Club takes place tomorrow at 7 p.m. at the Embassy clubrooms, 6773 Hollywood Boulevard. Among the artists to appear on the program will be Sol Cohen, violinist; Barney Gilmore, actor, and Bert Howard, vaudeville performer. The principal speaker will be Herbert E. BIGGER AND BETTER

THE GREAT AMERICAN VALUE

Fine-car distinction and quality in the new Chevrolet Six

CHEVROLET

Again, Chevrolet and General Motors have utilized their combined resources to establish a new and higher standard of value for the low-priced American motor car.

A new six-cylinder Chevrolet is now on display, offering fine-car distinction and quality certain to appeal to every discriminating buyer. For the new Chevrolet represents a type of economical transportation that America has long anticipated—a low-priced six styled with such striking talent and good taste, so smartly beautiful and complete in its perfection of detail, so advanced and refined mechanically that you will immediately recognize it as the Great American Value.

This great value is the outcome of four basic advantages which the Chevrolet Motor Company enjoys: (1) The savings of volume production in nineteen great plants which are models of completeness and efficiency. (2) The economies which result when raw materials are purchased in vast quantities. (3) The benefits of continuous research in General Motors laboratories and on the General Motors Proving Ground. And (4) the close association with the Fisher Body Corporation who, this year, have surpassed all their previous achievements in fine coachcraft by developing bodies of outstanding quality, refinement and value.

These basic advantages have made it possible to build a finer car at lower cost. They have enabled Chevrolet to offer important improvements throughout the new Chevrolet Six—to give it a longer wheelbase—greater roominess and comfort—strikingly smarter style—impressive new luxury—more thoroughly satisfactory performance—greater dependability. And—of great importance to hundreds of thousands of future buyers in the low-price field—these savings of efficient manufacturing are being passed on to the purchaser in the form of even lower prices!

SUSPECT DENIES ATTACK ON GIRL

Car Number Taken by Police Leads to Arrest

Miss Kinney Got Hysterical From Drink, He Says

Struck Her to Quiet Her, Prisoner Asserts

Linked with the case by an automobile license number Robert Gonzales, 30 years of age, of 1200 East Sixtieth street, was arrested yesterday as a suspect in the attack last Sunday night on Erline McKinney, 17-year-old student of Polytechnic High School. He was taken in custody by Detective Lieutenant Hamilton and Policewoman Shreimer on a clew supplied by Policeman Russell Smith of Georgia-street division.

Brought face to face with the girl, Gonzales was identified by her as having figured in the asserted assault. He made a sweeping denial, however, of the girl's story, but admitted, according to the officers, that he had struck her. He stated he had met her on the street, taken her for a ride in his car and stopped at 850 Naomi street, where the two had some drinks.

Made hysterical by the liquor, the officers quote Gonzales as declaring. Miss McKinney screamed, and to silence her he was forced to strike her across the face. He then drove her to her home at 1343 De Long street. As the car stopped in front of the house Officer Smith made note of the license number.

RESERVOIR FISH GIVEN AWAY

An ancient and revered custom in the American home—that of having for dinner each day in the week following Thanksgiving Day either turkey hash, turkey soup or kindred turkey concoctions—now is confronted with a rival. Hundreds of Los Angeles families are going to eat carp for the next week or two, and "make no bones" about it.

About 10,000 of the bony fish were distributed free yesterday to all who applied for them. The occasion was the transfer of fish from the Chatsworth to the Puddington Reservoir. All bass and perch found were retained, but the carp, being greatly overpopulated, were given away.

As a result hundreds of men equipped with large gunny sacks, wheelbarrows, cans or bags, were on hand early yesterday morning to receive the fish. Forty per cent of the fish removed were found to be bass and perch and 60 per cent carp. County Game Warden Turner supervised the work with the assistance of Ernie Bedwell, assistant game commissioner of Ventura county, and Charlie Towers and Walter Thornberg of the State Game Commission.

STAMP OF APPROVAL GIVEN

Postoffice Indorses Christmas Seals

Postmaster O'Brien Inspects Stickers

Strong indorsement for the Christmas seal campaign now being conducted by the Los Angeles Tuberculosis Association has been made by Postmaster O'Brien.

"I know of no better method of aiding in the task of preventing the spread of tuberculosis than by purchasing Christmas Seals," O'Brien said. "Funds derived from the sale of the seals enables the Los Angeles Tuberculosis Association to carry on an all-year program of preventing the spread of this disease. Furthermore, the new Christmas Seal is a very artistic achievement and will enhance the beauty of every holiday letter or package mailed."

The seal quota is $100,000, the sum which the Los Angeles Tuberculosis Association needs to maintain its present activities during 1931 and to inaugurate many new ones demanded by the growth of the city.

CITY ACTS TO TAKE OVER MORE LAND NEAR BISHOP

Resolutions authorizing the city to exercise its options on twenty-one more parcels of farm land in Inyo county, in connection with the program to purchase all available water-bearing properties, were adopted yesterday by the Board of Water and Power Commissioners.

The parcels embrace approximately 2000 acres in the vicinity of Bishop and Big Pine and represent a value of $700,000. They are part of the old Keough pool of land purchases and are what remains of an original 110 options taken by the city.

MORE BEDS NEEDED FOR JOBLESS MEN

Community Chest Leader Cites Case in Appeal for Balance of Quota

The Midnight Mission beckoned 668 homeless men—broke and out of employment—to accept its meager accommodations. Five hundred and eighty-six who went early were assigned to beds. Sixty who came late, after all the beds were occupied, tried sleeping on the floor, but found sitting up throughout the night more comfortable, and twenty-two more, overcome by fatigue and weakness due to hunger, stretched themselves upon the floor and slept until the coming of another day of misery and discouragement.

That pictures the situation as reported by one of the Community Chest agencies, which urgently pleads for 300 additional beds and bedding to be placed in space available in a near-by building fitted up as a dormitory. Campaign Chairman J. A. H. Kerr in his appeal for the additional $600,000 necessary to complete the Chest quota for next year cites this report in justification of his statement that the situation locally is the worst in the history of the city. The same conditions that exist at the Midnight Mission are to be found at other agencies of the Community Chest, which feed and shelter homeless, unemployed men to the full extent of their means.

After six weeks of tireless efforts the 15,000 volunteer workers of the Community Chest will meet at noon today at the Biltmore to make their final report. To those who have not subscribed or who feel that they are able to increase their previous subscriptions, Chairman Kerr requests that donations be mailed to headquarters, 216 Chamber of Commerce Building. By phoning the Community Chest, telephone WEstmore 7351, special solicitors will be sent to any address for subscriptions.

APPLICATION FOR WATER RIGHT MADE

Metropolitan District Files for 1,085,950 Feet of Colorado River Flow

As part of the process of perfecting its water rights on the Colorado River, the Metropolitan Water District yesterday made an alternative filing with the State Division of Water Resources on 1,085,950 acre-feet of water from the river for "immediate use," and an additional 717,000 acre-feet for storage, according to dispatches from Sacramento.

The application was made through W. P. Whitsett, chairman of the board of directors of the district. It was stated that the district engineers have not yet made a final decision as to the point of diversion for the water. A preliminary recommendation has been made by Chief Engineer Weymouth for diversion near Parker, and his report is being examined by a consulting board of engineers. A previous filing by the district for diversion already has been made with the State by the district.

Court Denies Injunction in "Talkie"-Rights Issue

Says Dispute Can Be Solved by Damage Suit

Author Seeks Extra Pay for Sound Production

Superior Judge Gates yesterday denied an injunction against production of a talking picture, asked by the author of the story, who contends he sold it for silent pictures only. The court stated that the injunction was denied because the remedy for asserted damages lies not in an injunction, but in an ordinary lawsuit.

Thus Judge Gates did not decide the question which has bothered producers and writers since the spectacular advent of the talkie—whether "talkie rights" are separate from ordinary screen rights, just as stage rights to a play are separate from silent film rights.

The question came before the court in the form as a petition by Julian Josephson, screen writer, who asserted that a story sold by him to W. K. Howard, in 1927, and later transferred to the Pathe Studios, was sold for silent production only. Later it was put on production as a talkie, "A Ship Comes In," which activity Josephson sought by his injunction suit to stop.

Counsel for the defendant argued that a motion picture is a motion picture, whether or not the sound feature is considered. The plaintiff contended that a "talkie" is entirely different from a silent film, and cited the fact that producers had to purchase screen rights to a story, separate from stage rights.

After pointing out that in 1927 the advent of talking pictures was scarcely foreseen, much less provided for in contracts, Judge Gates held that the controversy could better be decided by a damage suit than by an injunction proceeding.

Ex-Policeman Must Pay for Youth's Death

Two thousand dollars must be paid to the parents of Cristobal Silvas Sierra, slain Mexican youth, by William J. Bost, former Los Angeles police officer, within the next five years as the final condition of his release on probation under a manslaughter charge, Superior Judge Wood ruled yesterday.

Bost was convicted of shooting Sierra to death when the youth failed to surrender as officers sought to arrest him on the night of July 4, 1929, for disturbing the peace. Bost subsequently was charged with murder and in the trial that followed he was convicted of manslaughter despite his contention that he had not fired his gun that night.

MAX BAER TO FIGHT IN BOSTON

BY EDWARD J. NEIL
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Dec. 2. (AP)—The East is to have a look at Max Baer, young heavyweight from the Pacific Coast, but the shadows of past ring intrigues will hang heavy over his Madison Square Garden debut.

MAX BAER.

The clouting westerner, with better than a score of knockouts in his brief record, will show his wares against Ernie Schaaf of Boston in a ten-round feature go the 19th inst. This match and others suggested for Baer's eastern debut have been furrowing the brows of the New York boxing commissioners for weeks and only today was his opponent—and his own eligibility—definitely settled.

The commissioners—James A. Farley, William Muldoon and Gen. John Phelan—have intimated Frank Churchill, California fight manager whose name was brought into the investigation of Primo Carnera's fiasco with Bombo Chevalier in Oakland, is part owner of Baer, although Ancil Hoffman is listed officially as his manager. Churchill is considered persona non grata in New York State

PAULIE WALKER VICTOR ON FOUL

Sammy Jackson Deals Low Blow in Eighth

New Yorker Piles Up Healthy Lead Throughout

Negro Battler Uses Unfair Punch Also in Third

BY PAUL LOWRY

Paulie Walker, the eastern welter, was several rounds too fast for Sammy Jackson, the local black, in the Olympic main event last night.

PAULIE WALKER.

And a couple of foul throws to boot.

Jackson tossed in his second low shot of the evening in the eighth round and Walker won the duke as the result.

The offending blow halted an extremely interesting bout, one in which Walker outspeeded and outhit the dark-skinned boy.

Paulie opened up right at the very start and fairly lathered Jackson with hooks from both hands. He not only displayed fast footwork but a keen eye and peppered away at the Negro's face and body with scarcely a return.

JACKSON GOOD SPORT

Toward the end of the third round Jackson pitched in his first low blow, and Referee Abe Roth gave Walker the advantage of an extra rest period between rounds.

Jackson was a good sport, and atoned for his misdeed by letting Walker do all the hitting for the first half of the fourth.

Apparently feeling that Walker was over any ill effects, the black boy then let go with both barrels and in a fast splurge came from behind to win the round.

WALKER SPEEDS UP

Walker speeded up again in the sixth, and with left and right hand hooks to the head earned a two-to-one margin on the round. He was moving in and out so fast that even the cat-like movements of the black boy were slow by comparison.

The seventh round was close, Walker getting a slight shade, and the eighth round was barely under

BENEFIT GAME STILL ON

New York Contest for Unemployed to Be Played With or Without Rockne

NEW YORK, Dec. 2. (AP)—Regardless of what part Knute Rockne plays in the arrangements, a team of Notre Dame football stars will oppose the New York Giants professional eleven here on Sunday, the 14th inst., for the benefit of the unemployed as scheduled, if Mayor Walker and his aides have their way.

The Mayor received a telegram from Rockne today saying: "Game will have to be called off—doctor's orders." The message sent from Chicago last night came out of a clear sky just when the ballyhoo was getting under way and members of the Mayor's committee on unemployment felt that plans for the contest had gone too far to permit its cancellation.

ADAM WALSH

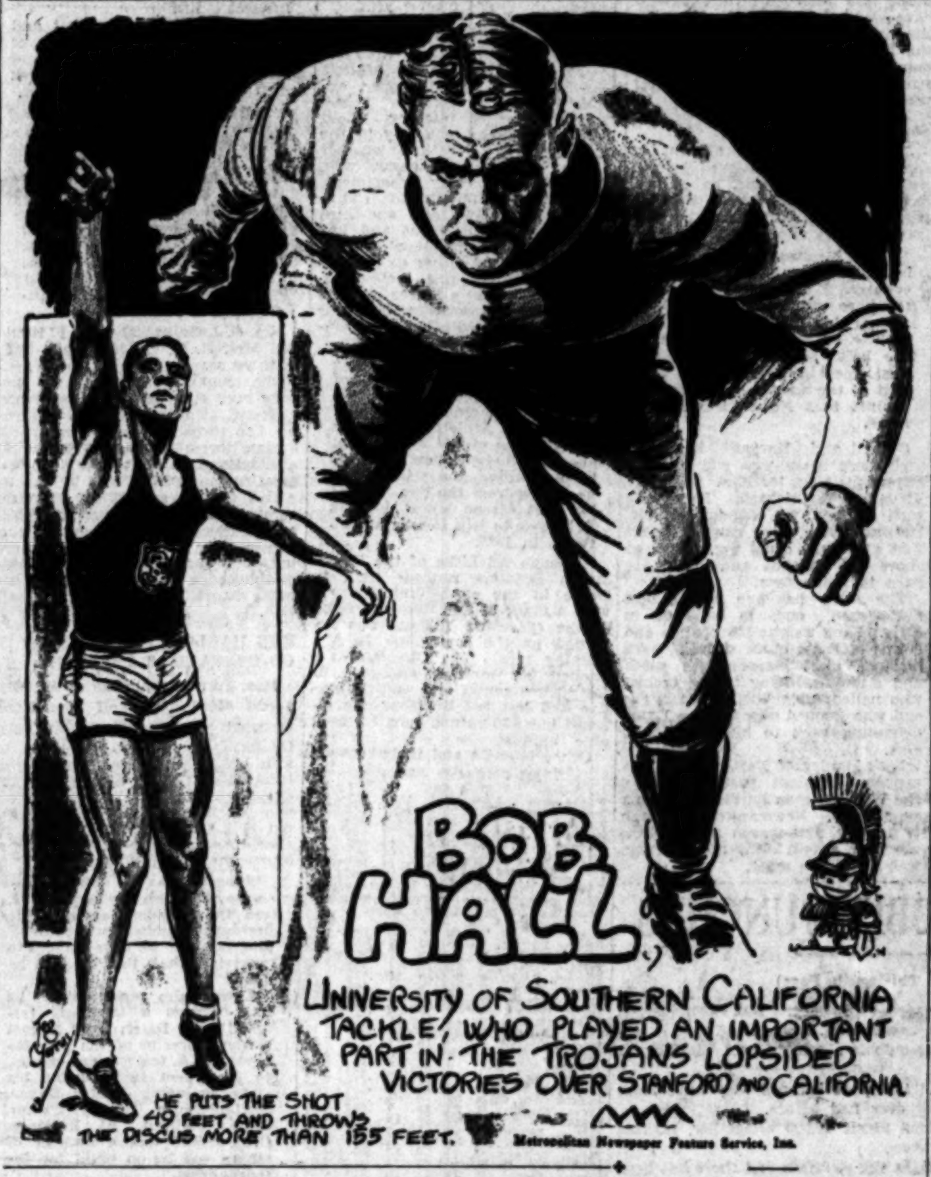
The conference defined subsidization and prescribed disqualification from intercollegiate athletics of any student who received "any subsidy, either directly or indirectly, or any advance payment or guarantee of salary from any source."

The athletic board refused to amplify the board's action or make public its effect upon James Bausch, three sport star, whose $75 a month salary from a Topeka insurance firm figured in the charges brought against the Kansas institution. Should the rule apply to Bausch and go into effect immediately, the school would be deprived of a star performer in the basketball and track seasons.

Officials of the Big Six at the conclusion of their Kansas City meeting announced the eligibility of the University of Kansas had not been determined and final decision had been left to the faculty representatives scheduled to meet in Kansas City, the 4th inst.

HIRE A HALL! - - - By Feg Murray



BOB HALL
UNIVERSITY OF SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA TACKLE, WHO PLAYED AN IMPORTANT PART IN THE TROJANS LOPSIDED VICTORIES OVER STANFORD AND CALIFORNIA
HE PUTS THE SHOT 49 FEET AND THROWS THE DISCUS MORE THAN 155 FEET.
Feg Murray

Metropolitan Newspaper Feature Service, Inc.

BOB HALL, left tackle on Mr. Howard Jones's "Thundering Herd," the football team that ran up 115 points against Stanford and California this season, is a gentleman worthy of a little of your time. A native of Texas, from which place he migrated to be tutored in the fine arts of line play by Coach Jones and his assistants, he is about the nearest thing to a Greek god in looks that I have ever seen. Six feet, three and a half inches tall, with 211 pounds of bone and sinew evenly and symmetrically distributed between his headguard and his cleats, this soft-spoken southerner has the ideal build for a tackle. Fast and powerful, Hall can cover a lot of territory on defense and drive through to open the way for Duffield or Mohler on offense.

"Just a beautiful piece of statuary," said Stanford's track coach, Dink Templeton, of Hall before the U.S.C. game last year. The Trojan coaching staff cashed in on this remark to get Bob all riled up before the game with Pop Warner's team and what he did to them was plenty.

At other times his only drawback as a player was his inability to become aroused. Something must have aroused this young giant for the games with Stanford and California this year, too! His recovery of Rother's fumble gave the Trojans their first chance to score in the first three minutes of the game at Palo Alto on October 25.

Like Rothert of Stanford, Hall is a fine weight man. He has beaten Rothert in football now twice, and last May at the I.C.4A. meet in Cambridge he beat him in the discus throw with a splendid heave of 155ft. 3 1-4in., which netted the Trojan third place. In the shot-

WHAT BEST TEAM?

APPARENTLY Washington State's 13-to-0 victory over Villanova didn't start any cold creeps up and down Wallace Wade's spinal column.

The Alabama coach says the northwestern crew, which meets his Crimson Tide at Pasadena on New Year's Day, is one of the finest defensive outfits he ever saw.

He compares Elmer Schwartz to George Wilson, which is the first time that rating has been made. He praises Hein, center; Edwards and Ahlskog, tackles, and says State should have beaten Villanova by "six or seven touchdowns."

Which they should on the strength of the Villanova record and the Cougars' early season victory over Southern California.

Villanova lost to Gettysburg, New York U., Duke and Bucknell before it entered the game with Washington State.

The truth of the matter probably is that State falls considerably short of being the best team on the Coast at the current writing.

And by a couple of teams—Stanford and Southern California.

Washington State started the season with a team of seniors. Naturally, they reached their peak early, outfought the Trojans for a 7-to-6 victory, and hung on through the remainder of the conference schedule by sheer determination.

Washington State beat the University of Washington 3 to 0 late in the season, Stanford beat the same team 25 to 7 and Southern California applied the final dose, 32 to 0, on Thanksgiving Day.

The figures tell their own story.

NO SELLOUT LIKELY

KNOWING these facts the Tournament of Roses officials made an extremely graceful gesture in selecting Washington State to represent the West at Pasadena on New Year's Day.

It shouldn't have been otherwise, and it wasn't.

Washington State was the undisputed Coast Conference champion, and Pasadena played ball.

But the selection was made in face of the fact that Washington State is extremely unlikely to sell out the bowl.

And Southern California with its big student and alumni body and larger local following probaby would have been a cinch.

Grange Gains Weight During Grid Battle

CHICAGO, Dec. 2. (AP)—"Red" Grange, halfback for the Chicago Bears, who was chiefly responsible for a 14-to-6 victory over the Portsmouth (O.) Spartans, Sunday, has discovered how to gain weight during a football game.

Grange weighed 189½ pounds in uniform before the game. He reduced four and three-fourths pounds while scoring one touchdown and throwing a pass for another, but the mud and slush added eight and one-half pounds to his suit, a net gain of three and three-fourths pounds. His uniform weighed fifteen pounds when he removed it.

IRISH PRACTICE BILLED FOR ARIZONA METROPOLIS

Duffield and Baker Work on Field Goals

BY BRAVEN DYER

Any suspicion that the Trojan football team is in a cocky frame of mind regarding this game with Notre Dame Saturday was dispelled yesterday when Marshall Duffield and Johnny Baker were put through an intensive spell of field goal kicking by Clifton B. Herd.

JOHN BAKER.

You don't find a cocky football team spending valuable time booting goals from the field. Duffield was busy drop kicking with that educated toe of his while Baker employed the place kick to send the ball through the upright from far out on the field.

Just because public sentiment has swung toward the Trojans and betting odds are no worse than even money on S. C. to win several misguided persons have conceived the idea that Howard Jones's athletes are in a cocky frame of mind. Nothing could be farther from the truth. The Trojans are determined to do their best and there isn't a trace of overconfidence among the players.

WILCOX IN UNIFORM

Yesterday's practice session saw the return of Ralph (Dutch) Wilcox, who donned a uniform for the first time since the Hawaii game on November 15. Wilcox did not indulge in any rough stuff but the mere fact that he donned a monkey suit is cheering news to Southern California supporters. Al Plaehn, bothered by an injured leg, also appeared in uniform.

The long session was given over to defense against Notre Dame formations, followed by a spirited drill on new Trojan plays. Aubrey Devine played the part of Marchy Schwartz and was treated rather roughly by the Trojan forwards.

Notre Dame's starting line-up was wired out here yesterday and indicates that the Trojans will have a weight edge all the way through, which, of course, is no new experience for Rockne's men who are

Rockne Holds Skull Drill En Route Here

ABOARD THE NOTRE DAME SPECIAL (Tucumcari, N.M.) Dec. 2. (AP)—Be it on the gridiron or aboard a railroad train, the football heroes of Notre Dame draw the crowds.

FRANK CARIDEO

As the special train bearing the Notre Dame raiders to Los Angeles and the big game with the University of Southern California steamed along its route today, thousands of fans collected excitedly at stations, peering through the windows and demanding that the players show themselves or give impromptu addresses as to how they expect to accomplish the storming of Troy.

"You'd think we were coming back victorious instead of journeying out where we have been promised a neat licking," commented Coach Knute Rockne.

At least two towns along the Southern Pacific route wired Coach Rockne, asking that Notre Dame stop within their confines for workouts. Rockne, however, stuck to his original plans of drilling his players at Tucson, Ariz. The team will arrive at Tucson tomorrow noon and work out an hour later and twice on Thursday before entraining on the final lap to Los Angeles.

Today's workout was principally mental and psychological. Rockne and his assistants, "Hunk" Anderson and Jack Chevigny, took the players in groups for skull practice. The ends comprised one class and were followed by classes of tackles, guards, centers, backs and quarterbacks.

Weather bulletins from Los Angeles were studied carefully as Rockne worried somewhat about the temperatures.

Jackie Rockne, son of the coach, is a member of the squad and contributes much merriment aboard the train. When Jackie started on the trip from Chicago yesterday, he insisted he was going to be a guard. Since that time he has been with Frank Carideo most of the time and

Jefferson, Lincoln Meet in Feature Game of Opening City League Cage Season Tomorr

PICK DEMOCRATS TO COP CONTEST

"Ching" Duhm Has Chance to Win Title

L. A. High Romans Also Have Outstanding Five

Hemseth's Cagers Take on Belmont Quintet

BY IRVING ECKHOFF

Doing its best to edge football out of the local prep sport picture, basketball gets its 1930 debut in the City League tomorrow afternoon, with six games scheduled for the first round of play.

"CHING" DUHM

There is no outstanding quintet in the league at present, with perhaps Coach "Ching" Duhm's Jefferson Democrats and "Happy" Hemseth's L. A. High Romans having a slight edge.

Jefferson meets the defending champions, Lincoln, in the feature game, on the Democrat court, while the Romans are expected to win from John Buehler's Belmont five. The Romans will make the trip to Belmont.

Ross Bowen of Fairfax will have a good chance tomorrow to show how good his Colonial team is, when it meets the Poly Mechanics on the Fairfax floor. Fairfax was champion of the minor league for the past two years, and on both occasions intimated that it would like a chance to meet the major loop winners in a play-off tilt. Now that the two leagues are one, Bowen will get all the major competition he wants.

Fairfax has an easy schedule this season, meeting Belmont, Hollywood, Franklin, Jefferson and Roosevelt, after the Poly affair. Of that group, perhaps only the Democrats possess real class.

Poly has a pretty good preseason record and is favored to turn back the Colonials tomorrow. Shakleford, Valley and Stankovitch are the stars on the Mechanic five.

The three other games will find Manual Arts at Roosevelt with the Toilers favored. Garfield at Hollywood, with Bill Paige's Redshirts picked to win; and Fremont at Franklin, with "Soapy" Coffman's Pathfinders doped to come out on top.

With Mitre, Johnson and Williams on the firing line, "Ching" Duhm's Jefferson five are figuring on beating Lincoln. The Tigers have only one veteran from last year's "wonder team," Meyerette, and he isn't in such grand shape himself. Early in the season Meyerette sprained an ankle, and while hobbling up and down stairs at Lincoln, he fell and injured the other leg. However, he has recovered enough to play in tomorrow's contest. Vannix and Tong are the Tiger forwards with Drayer, center and Dude playing the other guard with Meyerette.

One of the outstanding forwards in the league this year is Angelo Ferraris of Los Angeles High. Other Roman mainstays are Hernandez, Bates, Quinn and Springer.

In the Marine League, Coach Locke Livernash's Riis Vikings will go after their second league victory Friday, when they take on the Washington Generals. Riis has one of the best quintets in the Southland this year, boasting victories over Jordan, Lincoln, Roosevelt, Manual Arts and Narbonne.

Livernash will depend on his flashy basket shooting trio of Courtney, Leon and Brown to down the Washington five.

Other Marine League games will find Gardena at Bell, Narbonne at Banning, Avalon at El Segundo, Leuzinger at South Gate and Torrance at Jordan.

Coach Noble Waite's Bell Eagles loom as Riis's most formidable opponent, with the Bell-Riis game listed for the 12th inst., virtually deciding the Marine League championship. Waite coaches both the Class "B" team and the varsity, and has won two lightweight titles in three years and one varsity crown. The Class "A" outfit has finished in second place the other two years, having a three-year record of twenty-five wins in twenty-eight games played.

The Bell stars are Roediger and Harmon, forwards; Bill Lyman, center and Red Frazier guard. The other guard position is jointly held by George Wagley and Romeo Carlucci.

Oakland Pucks to Play Here

Having completed their northern tour, the Los Angeles Millionaires hockey team will return home today to play four games at the Winter Garden. Dan Carrigan's sextet is gaining power as the season grows and looks like a real contender for the California Hockey League championship.

The Millionaires will swing into local action tomorrow night when they face the Oakland Sheiks, last year's champions. Before they head north again they will play the San Francisco Tigers, Oakland Checkers and San Francisco Black Hawks in that order.

Carrigan expects his team to have a comfortable lead over the rival sextets when the home stand is completed. Owner Mel Walwick has bolstered the club with the signing of Ted Jacques of Minneapolis and Johnny Bruenteau of Winnipeg.

STARFERENCE NABS RACE

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 2. (AP)—Starference, owned by G. O'Connell and ridden by Willie Johns, leading jockey at the A. B. Spreckels course, won the feature race of today's program at Tanforan. Starference completed the distance of six furlongs in 1:13 1-5. Woodburn was second and Sir Argo third.

The SPORT LIGHT
by Grantland Rice

THE two best backfields in the country are those that will meet on Saturday in Los Angeles. One belongs to Notre Dame with Carideo, Schwartz, Mullins and Brill. The other belongs to Southern California with Pinckert, Musick, Mohler and Duffield. There are others on both backfields, but these are the leading people in each cast.

We have been advised that both Duffield and Mohler will outshine Carideo. Possibly at ball carrying; hardly at generalship and kicking.

Pinckert and Brill will be the two best all around backs on the field. Brill was hurt some time ago, but is rounding into shape again and should be right by next week. When he is right there is no better back. Pinckert is an all around performer. He is good at any job you give him to do. Schwartz will have to match the long run plays of Duffield and Mohler.

Many Coast experts rate Mohler as one of the greatest of them all, better in his sophomore year than Red Grange was at Illinois in his sophomore season. There is a Coast belief that Mohler will be the star back of the next two years, 1931 and 1932, and that he will prove it against Notre Dame on Saturday. It might be stated here that while an unusually fast and shifty back, Mohler will meet the stoutest defense he has known this year. I don't believe either Notre Dame or Southern California can do any amount of wild running on Saturday. There will be too much good defensive stuff waiting around for a chance to jar loose a few eyeteeth. It will be difficult to do any wild running against Brill alone—and possibly Pinckert.

The .300 Sign

A .300 hitter meant something fifteen or more years ago. It was the badge of baseball class. There were years when only seven or eight would finish at or above the .300 border.

The last American League averages, just out, show fifty-three who stand at .300 or above, mostly well above. In fact no less than fourteen are at .350 or better. There are more .350 hitters today than there used to be .300 hitters.

"Even if he did knock out Christner with one punch," says an exchange, "Mickey Walker doesn't belong in any classy heavyweight company." Where is there any classy heavyweight company one can belong to?

"I'd like to say," writes a Michigan State supporter, "that Colgate did not fumble her chance for victory away near Colgate's goal line. Colgate fumbled in her own territory, but only once in Michigan State's. Colgate had just about one real chance to score, and took it."

The Narrow Margin

How many appreciate the fact that in the last eight years Notre Dame has never beaten the Army by more than one touchdown? Even the Four Horsemen won by this slim margin. In 1926 the Army won, 28-0, and in 1928 the Army won, 18-0. Notre Dame had a touchdown advantage in other seasons dating back to 1923 with only a point advantage in 1930. In 1927, 1929 and 1930 three long runs for touchdowns were the only Notre Dame scores, one by Flanagan, one by Elder and one by Schwartz. This shows how stubbornly the two rivals have stood their ground. Knowing the speed, power and deception of the Notre Dame offense, this thin margin is a first-class tribute to a strong Army defense, year after year.

Sophomore Talent

Judging from the amount of sophomore talent scattered around this fall there should be a rare display of fireworks next autumn, when the fragrant odor of burning leaves arrives once more.

Chick Meehan has one of the best sophomore backfields in the country. They will be something to stop next fall. Out around Los Angeles they rate Mohler of Southern California the best sophomore back in west coast history. You'll get part of the answer on Saturday against that Notre Dame defense.

Cornell and Harvard have two sophomore backs who will be high among the elect for 1931. They are Viviano and Crickard. They were good enough as sophomores, big, fast, scrapping, hard running backs that any team could use. Both go above 180 pounds and both are hard to haul down.

The Army has one of the best first-season ends to bank on in King. King weighs 195 pounds and is one of those quick starters, hard tacklers, alert players with speed and strength. King is the tackler who nailed Albie Booth. He is the end who jumped over a Notre Dame defending back to block Carideo's kick.

Dick Hanley of Northwestern has sophomore talent that will make the Wildcats even harder to check a year away. Newman of Michigan is another first-season star. These are only a few. But they average well above the mass.

LOWRY'S RABBIT PUNCHES

You have to hand it to 'em all the more because they have more seats, many more, to sell than they ever had before.

The additions last summer added about 15,000 altogether, making the present capacity over 85,000 persons.

Since the Rose Bowl was filled in at the southern end there has been only one capacity crowd of 70,000. That was for the Southern California-Pittsburgh game last year.

The year before California and Georgia Tech missed filling the bowl by 10,000. And Stanford and Pittsburgh fell 12,000 shy of the desired figure.

And with 15,000 more seats than ever before to fill you can imagine the state of mind of the Pasadena gents when they sat down to pick a team.

Give 'em three more cheers. They taught our college merchants something about noncommercialism.

APSIT FOR ALL-AMERICAN

REMARKING that it might cause some commotion among the animals Mr. William Mellors Henry has announced his candidate for the all-American—Marger Apsit—and he espouses the Trojan inside halfback's cause as follow:

"Dear Paul: While everybody else is picking on the fancy ball carriers for all-American honors I'd like to mention my candidate—who has about as much chance of making all-American as I have, but who deserves it more than any player on the Trojan squad. The brother to whom I refer is Marger Apsit. Mr. Apsit is not only just as good as Ernie Pinkert as a blocker but he's absolutely the best defensive man the Trojans have. He seldom carries the ball from scrimmage but, on the other hand, the fact that he has scored a touchdown against Notre Dame each game he has played against them indicates that he is not to be sneezed at on offense. My candidate's biggest claim to fame is the fact that he never turns in a poor game. He isn't a ball-carrying flash like Mohler, who is very ordinary in several other departments of the game, nor is he an in-and-outer like Pinckert, who is a lion against the set-ups and a lamb against the tough brethren from Washington and Washington State. Nobody ever mentions Mr. Apsit in the press box but my guess is that if Howard Jones were interviewed on the subject he'd tell you that Apsit is without a weakness and is the most consistently valuable man in the Trojan backfield.

"BILL HENRY."

HOLLYWOOD RIDERS OUT FOR REVENGE

Out to avenge last week's 11-to-9 setback, the Rambler polo four will clash with the Hollywood polo quartet Sunday on the Hollywood Polo and Hunt Club field. Buddy Du Brock, who starred in his team's victory last week, will again be on hand to lead the attack for his outfit. Joe Smith at No. 1, Fred De Lacey at No. 2 and Perry Gordon at back will form the remainder of the line-up. Bill Ray has been shifted to the Rambler line-up for the coming tussle and will lead an evenly balanced team on the field. Mickey Millyick at No. 1, Buddy Sherwood at No. 2 and Dan Samso at back complete the squad.

A.A.'S SWAP MEN AT MONTREAL CONFAB

MONTREAL (Que.) Dec. 2. (AP)—Trades at the minor-league convention today were restricted almost entirely to members of the American Association.

St. Paul traded Outfielder Buno Haas to Toledo for Outfielder "Cowboy" Jones. Milwaukee purchased Earl Caldwell, right-handed pitcher from the Wichita Falls club of the Texas League where he flashed a brilliant twelve-game winning streak last year. St. Paul bought Infielder Joe Morrison from Evansville of the Three-Eye League.

FIREMEN WILLING TO PLAY BENEFIT CONTEST

Although the Firemen football team has been granted a ten-day rest in between their "big game" with North Dakota University, which is scheduled for Christmas Day, E. O. Barnett claims the Smoke-Eaters are ready to play a charity contest at almost a moment's notice. The Firemen have rolled up one of the highest scoring records in the nation.

The Hook and Ladder boys expect to close their season in a blaze of glory when they battle the Nodaks from North Dakota. The North Dakota team has lost but one game this season and that to the West Point Army eleven.

EDDIE MACK SEEKS TO POSTPONE BOUT

Eddie Mack, Denver lightweight, yesterday asked the Olympic to postpone the planned bout with Maurice Holtzer slated for next Tuesday night. The boxer sustained a slight hernia in a gymnasium workout. He will return to Denver for an operation.

This leaves the Grand-avenue club without a card for next week. Matchmaker Wad Wadhams hopes to land a substitute match today.

GROVE ANNEXES MOUND LAURELS

Southpaw American League's Outstanding Pitcher

Wes Ferrell Ranked Second in Twirling Averages

CHICAGO, Dec. 2. (AP)—Robert Moses Grove, the big fire and smoke-ball southpaw of the Philadelphia Athletics, easily carried off the 1930 American League pitching championship for the second successive year.

LEFTY GROVE

Final official averages tonight disclosed the big Athletic left-hander excelled the pitching field not only in the actual number of games won, but in virtually every department. He hurled 291 innings, the equivalent of thirty-two and one-third games, won twenty-eight and lost but five in the fifty contests in which he worked either as a regular or in a relief role, limited opposing batsmen to a low earned run average of three scores for each nine innings and topped off his performance by striking out 214 batters.

Directing his smoke and curve balls with the best control of his major league career, Grove was the machine gun that helped the Athletics stifle the Big Berthas of the enemy. Not once did "Lefty" allow five runs in one inning and seldom was he driven from the box. It was his best season since he left Baltimore to join Connie Mack's forces in 1925.

Although Ad Liska of the Washington Senators ranked next to Grove in the earned-run average with a mark of 3.28, Wesley Ferrell of the Cleveland Indians was regarded as the runner-up in the pitching race. The Cleveland ace pitched 297 innings, appeared in forty-three games and won twenty-five and lost but thirteen. He allowed but 3.30 earned runs for each nine innings.

Gonzaga Coach Quits His Post

SPOKANE (Wash.) Dec. 2. (AP)—Five months after his appointment as director of athletics and head football coach at Gonzaga University, Raymond P. Flaherty today turned in his resignation, effective probably at the end of the basketball season.

The resignation, accepted at once by Father John J. Keep, president of the university, followed a disastrous football season, in which Gonzaga won one game, tied one and lost seven. Flaherty said his action resulted from apparent lack of confidence in his ability and expressions of dissatisfaction from alumni and others over the football season.

Flaherty succeeded Robert M. Mathews, who resigned in June. He was graduated from Gonzaga four years ago, and later played professional football and baseball, and is the property of the Boston National League.

Alumni and others said tonight several men were being considered for the post, including Jim Crowley, one of Notre Dame's "Four Horsemen" of 1924, now coach at Michigan State; "Hunk" Anderson, assistant coach at Notre Dame; Frank Carideo, Notre Dame quarterback this year, and Joe Savoldi, who withdrew from Notre Dame late this season after being married. The alumni would not say whether offers had been made these men.

CHEVY CHASE CHISELERS PLAY

BY EDWARD LAWRENCE

EARL GLANDT

Charley Johnston, Chevy Chase professional, conceived the idea of the tournament and the trophy, donated by a member who wishes his name to be kept a secret, has been appropriately engraved, "Ima Chiseler."

Interest has been keen in the tournament and the entry was one of the best of any event this fall. One round of match play is scheduled each week until the head chiseler is crowned.

Pairings for first-round matches are as follows: P. H. Hilburn (11) vs. A. C. Nelson (8,) Whyte Womack (11) vs. I. B. Hollister (8,) H. H. Dillon (15) vs. K. Pride (9,) Charles Hester (8) vs. M. M. Chism (9,) Charles Patterson (8) vs. L. K. Sands (9,) L. M. Nelson (15) vs. T. P. Moran (11,) A. L. Francis (14) vs. M. B. Desenberg (17,) Byron Houck (7) vs. G. A. Eddy (9.)

Mrs. C. J. Gaines, Mrs. W. F. Kent and Mrs. H. H. Dillon, who tied with net scores of 235 for the W. H. Joplin trophy, will play off for the prize over eighteen holes tomorrow morning. The trophy was offered for the three best scores returned during November. Mrs. Dillon, with a handicap of 18, turned in low-gross scores of 98, 97 and 96.

Earl Glandt and Willis Phipher, young Chevy Chase assistant-pros, are planning to take a cut at the winter prize money this year, starting at Pasadena. Glandt recently established a record of 66 over his home course, and is hitting the ball well.

BOB HARLOW PROMISES TO CO-OPERATE AT PASADENA

Max Turner, chairman of the Pasadena $4000 open golf committee, reported yesterday that Southern California fans would not have to wait until the first of the year to form judgment on the new, bigger and lighter ball, as the professionals will not be permitted to play the old ball when the tournament is staged over the Pasadena municipal course the 19th to 21st inst.

"Inasmuch as the new ball becomes official on January 1, 1931, and the Pasadena open is the first on the midwinter schedule," said Turner, "we have decided to requested that the big ball be used."

Turner also reports that he has received a telegram, followed by a letter, from Robert Harlow, director of the now famous P.G.A. tournament bureau, to the effect that all the big stars, including Walter Hagen, Horton Smith, Tommy Armour, Gene Sarazen, Al Espinosa, Craig Wood and a number of others will be on hand for the tournament.

Harlow also stated that he was ready to co-operate with Pasadena officials to the fullest extent of his ability, and that the pros will do everything to make the tournament a success.

No mention was made of the 10 per cent.

CLOSE MATCHES FEATURE OAKMONT TOURNAMENT

Jack Gaines had a close squeak in the second round of the Oakmont Country Club President's Cup tournament last week, when he had to uncork birdies on the eighteenth and nineteenth holes to defeat H. Prep Playoff Date Changed

Somehow or other, prep officials heard about the Notre Dame - Southern California football classic Saturday and as a result the Redondo-Santa Barbara C.I.F. play-off game for the honor of competing in the Southern California prep football finals will be played Friday afternoon instead of Saturday. The other half of the semifinal round, Whittier and Long Beach, is going through as first planned, and will be staged Saturday at Hadley Field, Whittier. If Walt Schell, Redondo's dynamiting fullback, is going to be stopped at all in the play-off it will be the heavy Santa Barbara line that will do it. Last Saturday Schell wrecked havoc with Covina, it being his stellar work that gave Lloyd Waller's Seahawks the victory.

LAWYERS PLAY DENTISTS IN TROJAN HOMECOMING

Leake, Ray Morrow, Ernie E. Noon, E. S. Patterson, Kent Redwine, C. B. Runkle, Floyd Sick, R. E. Shaw, S. W. Thompson, Fred Watkins and Pete Werner.

The dental team consists of Capt. Leo Haughawout, O. G. Suess, L. Fersenthal, H. E. Cannon, M. G. Plank, M. F. Beihl, R. A. Speicher, F. S. Blackinton, I. D. Nokes, P. D. Schildwachter, R. C. Lane, J. P. Colling, D. N. Merchant, "Wild Bill" Burroughs, C. C. Henderson and J. L. Ironmonger.

MAT KING ASKS PROTECTION

Sonnenberg Declares George Too-Proficient With "Billy-Goat Butt;" Cites First Match

The "billy-goat" butt, and not the regulation football tackles, were used by Don George, local sensation, in his efforts to dispose of "Dynamite" Gus Sonnenberg in their first meeting here last October.

Sonnenberg made the charge yesterday in a telegram to Promoter Lou Daro, adding that he intended to ask for the challenger's disqualification should George use the hold in the same manner when they met in a return bout at the Olympic next Wednesday night.

DON GEORGE

The champion stated that every time George hit him with a tackle, it was the challenger's head, and not his shoulder, that struck his stomach. Sonnenberg stated he did not protest George's use of the hold at the time because he believed he could win in spite of it, but now that he is to meet the young star again, he does not intend to take the same risk.

This is the first time in the past two years that Sonnenberg has been champion that the titleholder is known to have filed a protest against someone else using the tackle hold as he has done so successfully for many months.

When George was informed of Sonnenberg's wire yesterday, he declared that as far as he was concerned, his tackles were fair, and he intended to use them against the champion when they met again.

This time, however, he will direct his tackles at Sonnenberg's kidneys instead of his stomach, he stated.

"The fact that I bumped heads with Sonnenberg is no indication that I was doing any butting in that bout," George declared. "I had figured to catch the champion with my shoulder as he straightened up after coming up off the mat. Instead he lowered his head and charged into me at about the same time I was ready to crouch and smash him."

FLY "TIMES" TO TUCSON

Copies of the late news editions of The Times will be flown to Tucson during the stopover there of the Notre Dame football team. The papers will be carried by the American Airways, and will be delivered in the Arizona city in ample time to sate a red-hot football populace.

TUCSON FOLKS AWAIT IRISH

TUCSON (Ariz.) Dec. 2. (AP)—Tucson gridiron fandom was agog tonight as plans were completed for welcoming Knute Rockne and his fighting Irish on their arrival here shortly after noon tomorrow.

James D. Barry, Tucson attorney, will lead a group of Notre Dame alumni, who will go to the railroad station to greet the invaders of the University of Southern California's Trojans. Representatives of the University of Arizona athletic department and of various civic organizations, together with hundreds of fans, also will be at the station.

Following the welcoming reception, Rockne will send his crew of thirty-five players to the University of Arizona Stadium for a workout which the public will be allowed to witness. Thursday, however, the curious fans will be barred as the South Bend wizard and his four assistant coaches put the Irish through two secret drill periods.

Two banquets and a luncheon have been arranged in honor of Rockne, his squad and the 150 Notre Dame enthusiasts aboard the special train while they are in Tucson.

TROJANS WORK ON FIELD GOALS

built primarily for speed. You can rest asured, however, that the Irish, although outweighed on the roster, will be big enough to take care of themselves. Paper weights are not always accurate.

Notre Dame has a team average of 183 as against 189 for the Trojans. The Irish line averages 186 pounds per man to 193 for the Trojans. Rockne's backs average 177 as against 185 for S.C.

Koskey, 182, and Conley, 175, are the ends. Culver, 212, and Kurth, 197, are billed for the tackle berths. Kassis, 185, and Metzger, 155, will be the guards. Yarr at center weighs 195.

HANLEY HUSKY

The backfield includes Carideo, 175; Schwartz, 170; Brill, 190, and Mullins, 175. Hanley, who subs for Mullins, weighs 195. It is a bit odd and unusual that all three Notre Dame fullbacks hail from the Pacific Coast, Hanley from Butte, Mont.; Mullins from South Pasadena, and Al Howard, 170, from Alhambra.

Southern California's weights are as follows: Joslin, 170; Ernie Smith, 212; Shaw, 198; Williamson, 196; Baker, 180; Hall, 211; Arbelbide, 183; Duffield, 175; Apsit, 180; Pinckert, 189, and Musick, 195.

Notre Dame has been referred to as the Irish. It is also unusual that Southern California will have more Irishmen in the line-up than the South Bend squad. Here's the dope:

Arbelbide, French, Irish and Scotch; Baker, German; Apsit, Russian; Duffield, English and Irish; Hall, English and Scotch-Irish; Musick, Welsh; Pinckert, German and French; Shaver, German; Shaw, Scotch and English; E. Smith, Scotch-Irish; Wilcox, German and English; Williamson, Scotch-Irish; Mohler, German; Joslin, English and Irish.

Conley and Mullins are the only Irishmen on the Notre Dame team. Schwartz is German and Irish.

Fans may be interested in brushing up on the numbers to be worn by the Irish Saturday. Here they are for the complete squad which arrives Friday night:

1, Jaskwhich, q, 164; 3, Emmett Murphy, q, 168; 4, Bert Metzger, g, 155; Christman, q, 168; 10, Sheeketski, rh, 165; 11, Paul Host, e, 173; 12, Marty Brill, rh, 190; 14, Dick Mahoney, re, 175; 16, George Vik, re, 175; 17, Roy Bailie, le, 173; 18, Marchy Schwartz, lh, 170; 20, Al Howard, f, 170; 21, Larry Mullins, f, 175; 23, Clarence Kaplan, rh, 156; 24, Frank Carideo, q, 175; 28, Paul O'Connor, rh, 180; 30, Tom Conley, re, 175; 31, Dan Hanley, f, 195; 32, Norman Greeney, lg, 185; 33, Bernard Leahy, lh, 175; 36, Regis McNamara, lt, 192; 38, James Harris, lg, 185; 40, Robert Terlaack, rg, 180; 44, Edwin Kosky, le, 182; 47, John O'Brien, le, 185; 48, Nick Lukats, lh, 175; 52, Frank Kerjes, rg, 192; 53, William Pierce, lg, 185; 64, John Rogers, c, 170; 68, Joe Kurth, rt, 197; 69, Tom Kassis, lg, 185; 70, Frank Butler, c, 202; 74, Frank Hoffman, rt, 198; 76, Tom Yarr, c, 195; 80, Art McMannon, rt, 202; 81, Alvin Culver, lt, 212; 82, Dick Donoghue, rt, 215.

BAER BOXES IN BOSTON

The commission refused to permit Baer to meet Jimmy Braddock, New York heavyweight, on the ground the managers of the two fighters were too friendly.

This was interpreted as revealing the commission's belief Churchill was managing Baer, while Bill Duffy, once Jack Dempsey's chief second, was interested in Braddock. Duffy piloted Carnera in the giant Italian's tour of the country and Churchill assisted him in arrangements on the west coast.

Braddock protested to Farley, chairman of the commission, following its meeting today, claiming he should have the match instead of Schaaf. Farley refused to change his stand, however, and decided that Baer would be permitted to appear here, but only against the Boston heavy on the 19th inst.

Baer originally was slated to fight Paulino Uzcudun, but the Spaniard became ineligible by boxing Primo Carnera, a suspended fighter, in Barcelona Sunday.

"Irish" Polo Team From Argentina to Invade Southern California

CRACK QUARTET TO PLAY HERE

Duggan, Cavanagh, Lambert, Kearney on Squad

South American Team Rates Twenty-four Goals

British Team Also to Face Midwick Outfit

BY FRANK ROCHE

The Irish of Notre Dame are not the only invading athletic forces of Gaelic extraction who will seek honors on Southern California athletic fields this winter. We have all heard in detail of the coming of the Notre Dame Irish, but here is a tale concerning the Irish of Argentine, who are headed for the Southland seeking glory in our sports domain.

JUAN REYNAL

They are "Four Horsemen," but not the kind that Knute Rockne made famous on the gridiron. These Argentine Irish are poloists. They are due to arrive here shortly after the first of the new year to compete in the Pacific Coast championships and other mallet tournaments at the Midwick Country Club.

This should be good news to those who can not forget the spectacular and brilliant performances of the Galloping Gauchos from the Pampas, led by the burly Manuel Andrada, who rode over all the opposition last winter at Midwick and other Pacific Coast fields.

CLASSY OUTFIT

According to the plans that reached polo officials here yesterday Tommy Nelson, the man who managed the last invasion of the Pampas riders, will bring a twenty-four goal team here on which will be four riders of Irish extraction.

The team as it now stands is as follows: Bernardo Duggan, Diego Cavanagh, Roberto Lambert and one of the famous Kearney brothers of the Argentine. Juan Reynal, who played with the Santa Paula team, the real name of the Galloping Gauchos, who performed here last winter, will also accompany the squad.

With the coming of the Irish from Argentine to Southern California and the announcement that Tommy Hitchcock will in all probability ride here this winter the peso season at Midwick should be the most brilliant in West Coast mallet history.

ENLARGE STANDS

Laddie Sanford's famous string arrived here several days ago and are now being conditioned at Midwick. Other costly mounts, the property of the blue bloods of the game, are due shortly.

Midwick has two fields now in place of one ready for tournament play. In addition the grand stands for the public have been so increased that larger crowds than ever before will be able to witness the mallet classics this winter.

Besides the Argentines a picked group of British stars, headed by Capt. Pat Roark, will be seen in action here during the winter season. Midwick as usual will have one of its great high-goal teams on which will be America's great No. 1, Eric Pedley and Elmer Boeseke, two of the most sparkling stars in polo.

AL MORRO PLANS TRIP

Jim Jeffries May Take Big Heavyweight East After Friday's Fight at Legion Stadium

Al Morro may take a trip east with Jim Jeffries after the holidays. He fights Les Kennedy at the Hollywood American Legion Stadium Friday night and Jeff believes his heavyweight is going to cop the decision. There is a possibility of Morro fighting Al Fay later this month if Fay's injured hand responds to treatments.

When Al Morro fought Hans Birkie at the Stadium he didn't look so good and Jeffries claims that fighters like Birkie are off his schedule. Morro will look a lot better with Kennedy because the Wilmington fighter has more class.

In spite of the great interest in the Notre Dame-Southern California football game there has been a heavy advance sale for the Morro-Kennedy fight.

JONES SYSTEM EMPLOYED AS JAYSEE TEAMS MEET

The Jones system will be much in evidence, when the Riverside Tigers meet the Compton Tartars Friday, in the game that will decide the Southern California junior college title. The coaches of both teams are former Trojan players, and use the plays taught them by their coach, Howard Jones.

Jess Hill and Jess Mortensen are the mentors of the Riverside squad. Both of them were prominent members of the 1929 Trojan team. The two boys have made good in a big way, in their debut as coaches for their team won the divisional Jaysee championship for the first time in history.

Ollie Arbelbide is the player around whom the Riverside fans are basing their hopes on a victory over Compton. Arbelbide is a brother of Coach Howard Jones's star end, Garrett, and is playing as sensationally on his own team as his elder brother is playing for the Trojans. Ollie is a graduate of Huntington Park High, where he starred as an end. He was shifted to quarterback at Riverside by Coaches Hill and Mortenson and has proved himself to be a triple-threat man since then.

"Deacon" Pine, Frank Anthony, and Eddie Suggett, Tartar coaches, feel that their team is capable of trouncing the Tigers. Anthony, who serves as line coach for the Compton team, was a team-mate of the Riverside mentors last year.

Tom Yancey, sensational quarterback, is the star of the Compton offense. While at Compton High, Yancey was picked along with Orv Mohler, as the best ball carrier in Southern California prep circles. Since then he has become adept at passing and punting, and is sure to cause the Tiger defense plenty of trouble. Tom was hurt in the Glendale game on Thanksgiving Day, and will be slightly slowed up.

LIEB TO ADDRESS GRID GATHERING

LONG BEACH, Dec. 2. (Exclusive)—Coach Tom Lieb, head football mentor at Loyola College, will be the guest of honor at the first annual Long Beach civic football banquet Thursday night at the Pacific Coast Club.

Lieb will discuss the Trojan-Notre Dame game in his talk. The entire varsity grid squads of Long Beach Junior College, Long Beach Poly and Woodrow Wilson High have been invited to attend the big feast.

CHAFFEY HIGH FIVE TRIMS PASADENANS

ROMAN RUNNERS DOWN POLY

Los Angeles High's galloping cross-country runners turned in a 22-44 victory over their ancient rivals, Polytechnic, yesterday afternoon over the Beverly Hills course. The Romans placed the first three men, Capt. Keim, Bob Holloway and Stichner, while Stockbridge of the Mechanics, who finished fourth, was the first Poly man to cross the finish line.

ALABAMA FETES WADE AND MEN

Crimson Tide Captain to Be Named at Feast Tonight

BIRMINGHAM (Ala.) Dec. 2. (Exclusive)—Alabama will pay a dual tribute tomorrow night to the Crimson Tide.

A banquet at the Highland Park Country Club here will be not only the annual dinner for retiring members of the squad, but will be a farewell affair for Coach Wallace Wade, who concludes his eight-year term at the University of Alabama on January 1 by sending his team against Washington State College at Pasadena in the Rose Bowl classic.

The captain for the new year will be named at the banquet and toasts will be given for each of the ten first-string seniors who will end careers for 'Bama in the Tournament of Roses game.

Prominent alumni, State leaders and Dr. George H. Denny, president of the University, will attend the feast.

W. W. Monahan, general manager of the Associated Students, in the selection of a successor to Clarence (Nibs) Price, coach of the basketball and football varsity teams.

Also, Dean Putnam is faculty athletic representative to the student body executive committee, which deposed Arthur Arlett, editor of the Daily Californian, for editorials which introduced the present athletic furor, said to be the greatest in California history.

Stern Altschuler, student body president, has been authorized by the executive committee to name an investigating body to look into subsidization charges on the California campus. Just whom the committee will consist of has not been made public. The investigating committee will act in an important capacity, for its findings will not only add fuel to the fire of discussion already under way, but will reveal just what Price's successor has to contend with in the way of attracting new material here, it is pointed out.

DR. SPEARS DENIES BEARS' JOB OFFER

ENGENE (Or.) Dec. 2. (AP)—Dr. Clarence W. Spears, head football coach at the University of Oregon, told the Eugene Register-Guard over long-distance telephone from Los Angeles today he has not considered succeeding "Nibs" Price as coach at the University of California.

Spears denied he had met with the California graduate manager to discuss a schedule for next year, as intimated by Roland Robnett, assistant graduate manager at Oregon.

"There's nothing to it, positively," Dr. Spears told the Register-Guard. "I have been driving from San Francisco to Los Angeles since the game last Thursday and I know nothing of what has been in the papers. Don't put any stock in what they say. I haven't had any meeting with the California people on this or any other matter."

Mercury Five Trips Pomona

Coming back strong at the start of the second half, the Los Angeles Athletic Club's powerful basketball team rang up thirty-one points to wallop the Pomona College quintet in a practice game, 43 to 19, on the Sagehens court last night. The Club team evidently was not trying very hard in the first half and allowed the hard-fighting collegians to hold them to a 12-to-12 tie. With the start of the second half, however, Reason and Hyatt ran wild, the former scoring 11 points and the latter 10, to put their team well in the lead.

In the second half Hyatt played like an inspired superman, while Reason, at running guard, made so many seemingly impossible long shots, that the home team seemed to lose heart and could only score 7 points in the last two periods. The game was the first the clubmen have played this year and their work during the earlier stages of the game clearly demonstrated this.

The line-ups:

L.A.A.C. (43)		Pomona (19)
Hyatt (17)	F.	Hatfield (C.) (8)
Wilcox (2)	F.	Hahn (4)
Pickell (8)	C.	Ludden (1)
Reason (12)	G.	Kelson (20)
Walbot	G.	Clements

SCORE BY HALVES

L. A. A. C.	12	31—43
Pomona	12	7—19

ANDERSON FINISHES RIVERS IN SECOND

FRESNO, Dec. 2. (AP)—Babe Anderson, San Jose welterweight, won a technical knockout in the second round from Indian Jimmy Rivers, Los Angeles welterweight, in the main event of the Sun-Maid Athletic Club program here tonight. The match was scheduled for ten rounds. Rivers's inability to answer the gong for the opening of the third round caused the referee to award the decision to Anderson.

A badly split eyelid may result in loss of sight in Rivers's left eye, according to the club physician.

LEWIS FLOPS PINTO

FERACI, NORTON DRAW

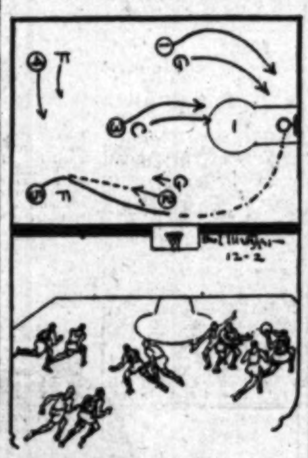
Quick-Break Play Shines



BY SOL METZGER

Again Purdue's championship basketball five secures the ball in the back court; the No. 5 guard having it. Immediately its four other players rush to their set positions shown in the diagram so the attack may function. It's a quick-break attack these Boilermakers employ, one that surprises opponents with the rapidity of its scores.

No. 5 suddenly advances as his No. 2 forward comes back toward him to take the pass that 5 shoots to him. Note how 5 now directs his course. He rushes top speed past 2 and between 2 and the sideline as 2 turns and passes him the ball as he goes by. The turn of 2 keeps 2's opponent either from intercepting this pass or from following 5. Likewise the opponent of 5 is prevented from following 5 down court in a position inside of him, that is, between 5 and the basket, by the block formed by No. 2 and his opponent.

So 5 dribbles to the basket and shoots, his course made clear by the moves of his center, No. 3, and the other forward, No. 1, who work to the basket from other angles both to keep their opponents from rushing 5 as well as to place themselves in position for a rebound shot in case 5 misses when he tries for a goal.

California Saturday, to propose that arrangements go forward despite the loss of his active leadership.

In a telegram, the Mayor asked Rockne to call him by long-distance telephone as soon as possible.

Daniel M. Daniel, chairman of a committee in charge of the game, said the Notre Dame All-Stars already are assembling under the direction of Adam Walsh and Ike Voedisch, one of Rockne's assistants. He pointed out Rockne's services as coach of the team would not be essential as most of the players, including all of the famous "Four Horsemen," are coaches themselves.

COMPTON FIVE LOSES CLOSE GAME TO BELL

Coach Noble Waite's Bell basketball team came through with a 32-to-31 victory over the Compton quintet yesterday in a hard-fought game staged on the losers' court. The affair was bitterly contested from start to finish with the sharpshooting of the Bell forwards, Rodizer and Harmon, ably assisted by Lyman and Frazier, deciding the issue. Rodiger and Harmon tied for high-point honors with ten markers apiece. Lyman was a close second with eight points. Crape and Santoni starred for Compton. In the preliminary game, Waite's lightweights triumphed over the Compton Babes, by a 23-to-12 margin.

(AP)—The Oakland Sheiks won a 2-to-1 victory over the Los Angeles Millionaires here tonight to increase their lead over the second-place southerners to one and one-half games in the California Hockey League. Capt. Phil Stevens, Sheik defense, scored both goals for the winners. After a scoreless first period, Stevens made the first goal five minutes after the second period opened. He was unassisted. Six minutes later, on a pass from Howard Harper, Stevens again scored. The Millionaires made their only score in the third period when Dutch Singer took a pass from Dan Carrigan and faked heck Fowler out of position to make the goal.

LINARI AND BINDA LEAD BIKE RACERS

NEW YORK, Dec. 2. (AP)—More strenuous riding and jamming and an ever-changing lead marked the third night of the forty-ninth international six-day bicycle race at Madison Square Garden tonight. The night sprints brought the high peak of the jamming.

The team of Linari and Binda stood out among the thirteen left in the race. They stole a lap to take first place then repeated the feat to gain a two-lap margin over four rival teams tied for second place. Showing good speed and endurance, they held off repeated challenges from Spencer and Debaets and from Belloni and Richili, leaders of the attempts to overtake the leaders.

MEN—

Waiting list will shortly be established for applications seeking position with ELECTROLUX, INC., LTD., pioneers in a new health industry, now commencing operation in the U. S. These lists already exist in many of the 47 countries in which we operate over 600 branches.

ELECTROLUX needs right now several salesmen and managers to fill open territories. No manager appointed until he has worked as a salesman for a reasonable time. Many men who have been with us a few months are now managers or are working as salesmen earning as high as $10,000 a year and more. Insomuch as we are the only ones in our field, we cannot get experienced men for this new industry. The most important qualifications are intelligence, loyalty, aggressiveness and vision.

We have a remarkable product, a strong international organization and tremendous financial backing. The men selected to fill these positions will be given an intensive training in our policies and methods of operation and will work on commission during their training and qualifying period. No men will be engaged who cannot earn $50 a week or more after the first week.

We are particularly interested in men residing within a radius of 35 miles of Los Angeles.

Men who apply for personal interviews, 9 to 12 a.m. Wednesday will be able to start work immediately if they qualify.
